

ROBBERS SLUG EXPRESS AGENT AND LOOT SAFE IN R. R. STATION OF $3,000

The Adams Express Company Robbed at Mansfield, Ohio.

Fifty Passengers Were Within Hearing of the Outrage.

Two Men Are Captured and Confess to the Crime.

Mansfield, Ohio, Jan. 29.—Shortly after midnight, last night, two masked men entered the office of the Adams Express company, at the Union station here, knocked William Dewey, the agent, unconscious, and got away with $3,000, while fifty passengers stood about the station waiting for trains. A bag containing $3,000 in gold, lying near the $3,000, was overlooked by the robbers.

The men, on entering the office, asked Dewey for a package they said must have arrived on a train late for delivery. While Dewey was looking for the supposed package, one of the robbers struck him on the head and knocked him unconscious, with a three-inch gasp in his hand.

The other robber covered George McGinty, a friend of Dewey, with a revolver, and the first robber then went through the safe. Then, keeping McGinty covered, the men ran from the express office and disappeared.

Dewey lay unconscious for more than an hour after aid had been summoned by McGinty.

Telegrams were promptly sent to the police of all nearby towns, and as a result, John McCue and Joseph Stevens were taken into custody at New London. They had the sack taken from the express office containing $3,000.

Stevens, the police say, confessed and implicated McGinty, according to Stevens' story the money arrived late last night from Delphos, Ohio, and was assigned to a bank at Hamilton, Ohio. Stevens said McGinty, who has a reformatory record, tipped off the arrival of the money, and cooked up the scheme with him and McCue to rob the office. As soon as this information was wired here, McGinty was locked up. He denies the charge.

WARMER WEATHER SAYS OBSERVER

Slowly Rising Temperature is Predicted for Northwest.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—Twenty-three degrees below zero was the lowest point touched by the mercury in the United States weather observer's office here during the winter. Thermometers registered from 16 to 27 degrees below in the early hours of the morning.

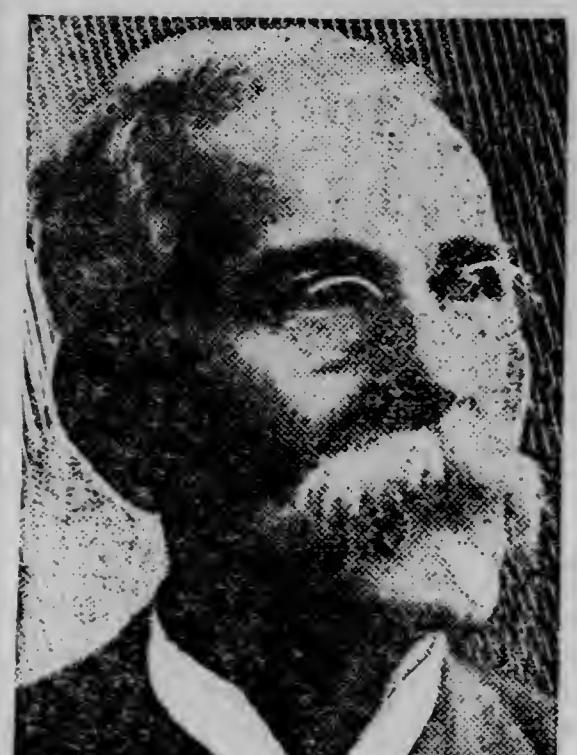

United States Weather Observer Williams reports the coldest temperature today was at Minnecosta, where the mercury registered 42 degrees below zero. At Winnipeg, Minn., 36; Moorhead, Minn., 28; and Bismarck, N. D., it was 14 degrees below; at Devils Lake, N. D., it was 28 below, but at Calgary, Alberta, it was 5 degrees above. At that point the temperature has risen 14 degrees in twenty-four hours. The weather observer says the indications point to warmer weather.

La Crosse, Wis., Jan. 29.—Today, for the first time this winter, the temperature in Central and Southern Wisconsin fell below zero. At the station of the United States weather bureau here, the point of 12 degrees below was reached at 7 o'clock, and the thermometers were still falling. This represents a drop of 30 degrees from yesterday's temperature.

LOST COSTLY PIN.

Chicago Woman's $10,000 Diamond-Set Hair Ornament Missing.

Chicago, Jan. 29.—Loss of a large diamond-studded tortoise shell hair ornament, valued at nearly $10,000, has caused commotion in the most exclusive social circles of the city.

PRESIDENT AMADOR
Of the Republic of Panama, Who Declines a Renomination for That Office.

EMPHATIC MESSAGE

Written by President Roosevelt to Go to Congress.

Friends Are Trying to Dissuade Him From Using It.

Washington, Jan. 29.—President Roosevelt has written for transmission to congress the hottest, strongest and most emphatic message of his term. In all probability it is the most vigorous message any president has ever addressed to the national legislature. So warm is this document that some of his friends and advisers have been trying to dissuade him from using it, but whether they will succeed is still a question.

The rumors which bring out this much information do not state the occasion for the message. It may be intended to go with what the president will recommend congress in connection with the employers' liability legislation, as he is expected to send in a message on that topic soon, and it may come in connection with some other legislative suggestion.

But whatever the vehicle, if the message goes to congress it will be meant to act as a sufficient warning to the people against the dangers which threaten free government from those described by Mr. Roosevelt's oft-quoted term, "the holders of predatory wealth."

The president is profoundly impressed with the present crisis. He believes that to let this form of piracy again get the upper hand in national affairs may endanger the safety of the republic itself, and his message, as he is understood to have drawn it, goes into this field with such degree of frankness as may well startle the country. In fact, it is said it may be guaranteed to do so. If the message goes to congress at all, it is likely to go within a comparatively few days.

There is a hint also that the document, instead of going to congress, may reach the public in some other way. One possibility is that Mr. Roosevelt will use it as his contribution to the program of the South and Southwestern Travelers and Merchants' convention, at Baltimore, March 4. He has accepted an invitation to write a letter to be read before that convention, in which he agrees to discuss the present commercial conditions of the country.

LATE MINISTER MAN OF ABILITY

Finns of Ishpeming Are Mourning Passing Off of Mr. Lammi.

Ishpeming, Mich., Jan. 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—One of the best educated Finns in this country, and one of the ablest exponents of the Finnish Lutheran belief was Rev. J. K. Lammi, pastor of Finnish Lutheran church here who is dead of pneumonia, following an attack of the grip. His sister, Miss Tilia Lammi, who was enjoying a vacation at her old home, was unable to arrive here before her brother died, which adds to the disastrous circumstances of the case.

TREASURY OPERATIONS IN THE RECENT PANIC ARE REPORTED TO SENATORS

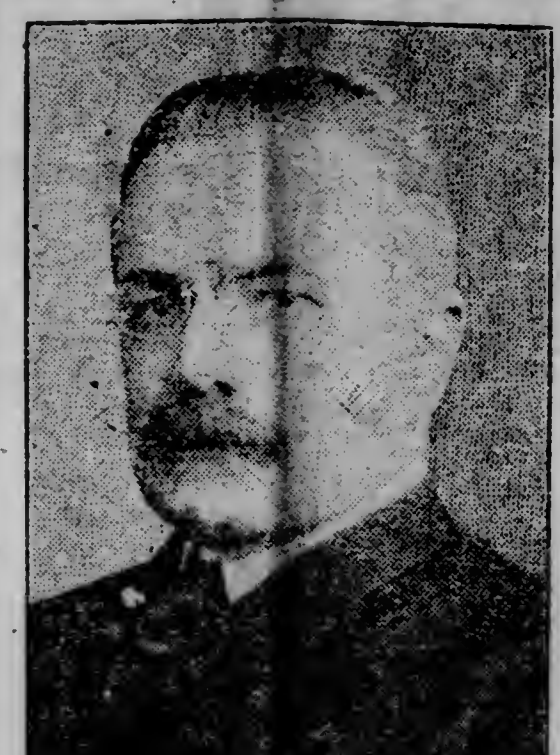

Secretary Cortelyou Replies to Resolutions Passed in December.

Gives Detailed Statement Concerning Award of Panama Bonds.

Also of the 3 Per Cent Certificates Which Were Issued.

Washington, Jan. 29.—In response to a resolution agreed to by the senate on Dec. 12, 1907, the secretary of the treasury today transmitted to that body detailed statements concerning the award of Panama bonds and 3 per cent certificates, together with recent financial transactions of the government, and also embodying information as to the general state of the nation's finances during the closing months of 1907, the period over which the recent financial panic extended.

Secretary Cortelyou states that business conditions were becoming unsettled when he became financial member of the cabinet in March, 1907. Various stringencies occurred prior to August, which were promptly relieved. A plan of weekly deposits of government funds in various banks was begun on Aug. 28. By Oct. 11 these deposits had reached a total of $2,000,000. By the middle of November the treasury had met the demand for relief to the extent that the working balance was reduced to approximately $5,000,000. It becoming apparent that no further deposits could safely be made, banks were permitted to substitute bonds suitable for savings bank investments for government bonds, which were held as security against public deposits. Government bonds were thus released as security for additional bank note circulation.

Circulation Begins to Increase. After the issue of Panama bonds and one-year treasury certificates, the bank note circulation began to increase until it stood on Dec. 31, 1907, at $1,193,355,000, as against $1,145,720,000 on Oct. 13. On Jan. 18, 1908, the issue had reached $1,193,355,000.

The announcement of the issues of new securities by the treasury, says Mr. Cortelyou, "marked in some degree the turning point of the panic. No further steps were considered necessary except to continue the deposit of public money for a time where they were available, and early in December it became possible to replenish the cash in the treasury by the withdrawal of about $6,000,000 from national banks in New York city. This was followed on Jan. 22 by another call for $10,000,000 from New York banks. This will be followed soon by a call on outside banks based upon local conditions rather than upon a fixed percentage of their holdings of public money.

Business Conditions Were Becoming Unsettled Last March.

Heavy Deposits Were Made in Banks Where Practical.

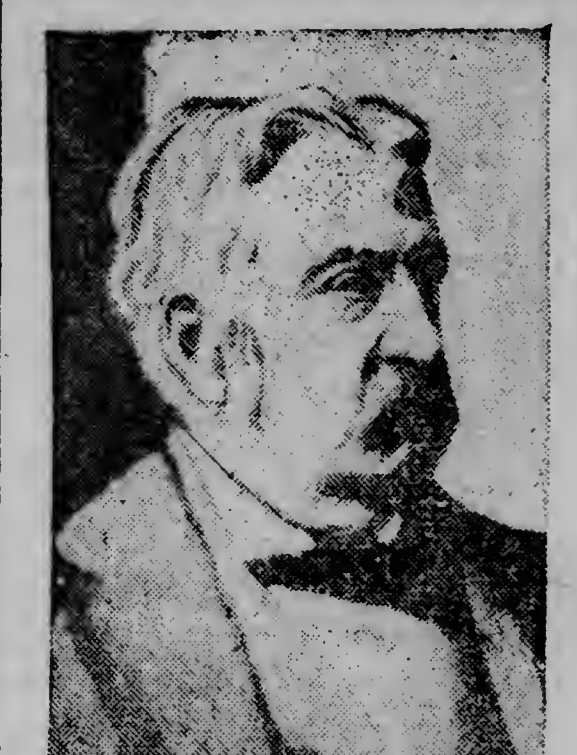

Most of It Has Been Withdrawn Since Trouble Ended.

About $296,000,000 Disappeared. The amount of currency which disappeared from circulation from the time of the suspension of the Knickerbocker Trust company until confidence was practically restored in December is stated as approximately $296,000,000. This amount was substantially one-tenth of the entire estimated money in circulation in the United States.

The secretary of the treasury touched upon the gravity of the situation abroad as well as in this country, and gives figures concerning the export of merchandise to show the energy with which the economic resources of the country were devoted to the relief of the situation. The excess of exports over imports during the year ended in August, 1907, is $14,880,000. In December, 1907, it is $14,880,000.

Secretary Cortelyou defends the issue of Panama bonds and treasury certificates by saying that it was advisable to take some strong and resolute steps to replenish the cash in the treasury by the withdrawal of about $6,000,000 from national banks in New York city. This was followed on Jan. 22 by another call for $10,000,000 from New York banks. This

GREAT CROWDS GATHER TO HEAR THE ARGUMENTS OF LITTLETON FOR THAW

JOHN A. LOVELY.
Former Associate Justice of the Minnesota Supreme Court, Who Died at the age of 64.

KING OPENS PARLIAMENT

With the Same Formal Ceremonies Observed for Centuries.

Precautions Taken to Avoid Trouble by Woman Suffragists.

London, Jan. 29.—That most rare event of London winter, a clear and sunny day, favored the royal procession to Westminster today, where King Edward opened parliament with the same ceremonies that have been observed for centuries.

King Edward and Queen Alexandra rode from Buckingham palace to the houses of parliament in a gilded coach of state, drawn by eight white horses. They were attended by the officials of their households in other state carriages and on horseback. St. James' park and Whitehall were unusually crowded, and the soldiers who guarded the way had their hands full in keeping the people back.

A thousand officials, including peers, members of the house of commons, bishops, judges and diplomats, many of them attired in uniform or robes of state, filled the chamber of the lords when a fanfare of trumpets at 2 o'clock announced the entry of the state procession.

King Reads Speech. King Edward read the speech from the throne. Queen Alexandra was seated on a chair of state at his right; the prince and princess of Wales were on his left, and he was surrounded by a group of state officers.

The menace of an outbreak on the part of the woman suffragists of England gave an unusual interest to the informal proceedings of today.

ADE'S "AFFINITY" CAUSES SENSATION

Indiana Society of Chicago Victim of a Huge Joke.

Chicago, Jan. 29.—George Ade's alleged "affinity" fashionably attired, but with a voice filled with bitterness, tears of woe streaming down her cheeks and with a dramatic air which carried conviction, entered the Auditorium Annex last night, where 300 members of the Indiana Society of Chicago were gathered for a spread. She claimed Ade as her own, caused blushes of the brightest crimson to mantle his cheeks, and then led him away to one side where she tried to converse amicably with him. The stranger claimed to be from France.

The members of the Indiana society were all deeply chagrined for the time being by the unlooked-for intrusion, especially as Ade was one of the guests of honor.

Bar Against Women is Raised and Many Are Present.

Leading Attorneys Gather to Hear the Noted Orator.

Jerome Not Present, But Assistant Garvan Takes Notes.

New York, Jan. 29.—The demand for seats at the Thaw trial today so far exceeded the capacity of the court chamber that the police in charge had their hands full in handling the disappointed crowds. For the first time since the taking of testimony was begun, Evelyn Nesbit Thaw had a seat in the court room. Mrs. William Thaw, the mother, Mrs. George L. Carnegie, the sister, and Josiah Thaw, a brother, also were in the family group. The bar against women spectators was suspended and there were many of them on hand when Justice Dowling took his place on the bench. Attracted by Littleton's reputation as an orator, prominent lawyers and men of affairs from all parts of the country were included in the court room throng.

It was 10:50 o'clock when Mr. Littleton arose and began his plea to the jury in behalf of Harry Thaw. District Attorney Jerome who made a point of remaining away from the court room throughout the summing up of Mr. Deimas, last year, was absent when court convened today. Assistant District Attorney Garvan was present and took copious notes of the address of the chief counsel for the defense.

Asks Nothing Unusual. Mr. Littleton said he asked no more than that the jury should observe, in reaching its verdict, the ordinary rules of any ordinary trial, in an ordinary court of an American community. He cautioned the jurors to keep clearly before them the fact that the presumption of innocence is always with the defendant until he is proved guilty.

At some length Mr. Littleton explained the doctrine of reasonable doubt.

"In a case of this kind," he said, "where insanity is the plea, it is not incumbent upon counsel for the defense to establish the defendant's insanity beyond a reasonable doubt, although I think I can point out to you that we have done all of that. The law places the burden upon the prosecutor to prove to you beyond all reasonable doubt that the defendant was sane at the time of the crime."

With impressive strength of presentation, Mr. Littleton reviewed Harry Thaw's insanity from the time of the pre-natal incident, when his mother

TWO SENATORS ENDORSE FLINT

For United States Marshal of Western Wisconsin District.

Washington, Jan. 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—Senator Stephenson today called on President Roosevelt and formally endorsed Rockwell F. Flint of Menominee, Wis., to be United States marshal for the Western district of Wisconsin, to succeed Charles Lewiston, whose term will expire Feb. 4. This recommendation also has endorsement of Senator La Follette and the Wisconsin senators expect Flint's name to be sent to the senate this week.

OWNED MILLIONS, Yet Aged Recluse Lived and Died in Small Room.

Erie, Penn., Jan. 29.—James S. Sterrett, aged 87, and reputed to be worth several millions, was found dead, at 8 a.m. by 10 room he called home, in a large building owned by him in this city, Sunday afternoon, at 3 o'clock. The old man lived alone, and had been dead for several days when his body was found. His boast during life was that he was worth many millions, and had never spent a dollar for liquor or tobacco for his own use. It is, however, alleged that the greater part of his fortune was made through the sale of whiskey during the Civil war.

JUNIORS WIN FROM FRESHIES

Exciting Game in Inter-class Basketball League Series.

The most exciting game of the series of high school basketball games was played yesterday afternoon in the boys' department gymnasium, between the Juniors and Freshmen. As both teams had lost a game, there was great rivalry between the two classes. The first half closed with a score of 14 to 12 in favor of the Juniors. The final score was in favor of the Juniors with a score of 20 to 12.

This puts the Juniors on an equal basis with the seniors for second place with the sophomores first. The next game will be Friday, Feb. 7, at 8 o'clock, when the freshmen play the sophomores. The teams lined up as follows yesterday:

STANDING OF THE TEAMS.

Sophomores 1 0 0 .000
Seniors 1 0 0 .000
Juniors 1 1 1 .500
Freshmen 0 0 0 .000

The January monthly gymnastic tests took place last evening and forty boys took part. There were nine events. The following boys were successful: Harry Anderson, 50 per cent; Ralph Waldron, 75 per cent; Lenhart Maske, 75 per cent. In the intermediate division, Fred St. Clair was the only winner with 75 per cent. Each of the successful contestants will receive the official Boys' department emblem. The unsuccessful contestants will have another try next month.

The interscholastic basketball series opened yesterday at the Boys' department gymnasium between the Jefferson and Jackson schools. The Jacksons put up a good fast game, but the Jeffersons were much heavier and won with a score of 45 to 15. The next game in the

ARE YOUR KIDNEYS WEAK? LEAPS INTO

Thousands of Men and Women Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It.

Nature warns you when the track of health is not clear. Kidney and bladder trouble compel you to pass water often through the day and get up many times during the night.

Unhealthy kidneys cause lumbago, rheumatism, catarrh of the bladder, pain or dull ache in the back, joints or muscles, at times have headache or indigestion, as time passes you may have a sallow complexion, puffiness under the eyes, sometimes feel as though you had heart trouble, may have plenty of ambition but no strength, get weak and waste away.

If such conditions are permitted to continue, serious results are sure to follow; Bright's disease, the very worst form of kidney trouble, may steal upon you.

Prevalency of Kidney Disease.
Most people do not realize the alarming increase and remarkable prevalence of kidney disease. While kidney disorders are the most common diseases that prevail, they are almost the last recognized by patient and physicians, who content themselves with doctoring the effects, while the original disease undermines the system.

A Trial Will Convince Anyone.
If you are sick or feeling badly, begin taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, because as soon as your kidneys begin to get better, they will help the other organs to health. In taking Swamp-Root, you afford natural help to Nature for it is the most perfect healer and gentle aid to the kidneys that has ever been discovered.

You cannot get rid of your aches and pains if your kidneys are out of order. You cannot feel right when your kidneys are wrong.

Swamp-Root is Pleasant to Take.
If you are already convinced that Swamp-Root is what you need, you can purchase regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles at all drug stores. Don't make any mistake but remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., which you will find on every bottle.

SAMPLE BOTTLE FREE.—To prove the wonderful merits of Swamp-Root you may have a sample bottle and a book of valuable information, both sent absolutely free by mail. The book contains many of the thousands of letters received from men and women who found Swamp-Root to be just the remedy they needed. The value of Swamp-Root is so well known that our readers are advised to send for a sample bottle. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. The popular Friday night talk will take the form of a practical talk, Prof. H. E. Foster of the University of Minnesota will give a talk on "How to Select an Occupation, What to Do and How to Do It." The talk will be a very interesting one and ought to prove very helpful. Each member is invited to bring a friend with him. The talk will commence promptly at 7:30. At 8:45 the social committee will sell at auction their calendars, and at 9 o'clock they will serve ice cream and coffee. The social committee will meet today at 8 o'clock. The Bible study committee will meet tonight at 7:30. The outing committee will meet Thursday at 6 o'clock. Bible classes will meet for dinner tonight at 6:15 p. m.

SUPERIOR NEWS

WEDS OLD SWEETHEART.

Pretty Romance of Superior Man Has Happy Ending.

The marriage of Samuel P. Carpenter, secretary of the Superior police department, to Mrs. P. M. Pellingwell of Chicago, by Municipal Judge F. S. Parker, in his private office, yesterday, brings to light an interesting romance. The principals in the marriage ceremony met at the depot yesterday for the first time in forty-nine years. They were joined in wedlock by the court, the witnesses being Mayor Linley and Chief of Police McKinstry.

The couple became engaged in Palmyra, N. Y., fifty years ago. Mr. Carpenter left his native town for the California goldfields, intending to return and be married, after he had made his fortune. As the years passed their correspondence ceased, and they finally lost track of each other. Miss McKenzie, as the bride's maiden name was formerly, married Mr. Pellingwell in the East and Mr. Carpenter was married in the West. As the years passed, both became again to marry again. A few months ago a correspondence was started that resulted in an agreement to carry out the promise they made each other a half century ago.

Police Tie Can to Harris.

Within twelve hours after his release from custody William Harris, who was charged with attempting to kill William Winlock, another colored man, he was arrested in a raid made by the police on an alleged disorderly house in Superior. The police gave Harris one hour to get out of town and warned him to stay away in the future. Harris is said to have migrated to Duluth. Three others arrested at the house are being held for trial.

LEAPS INTO ICE WATER

Louis Ronning Commits Suicide by Jumping From Steamer.

Leaped Into the Lake, Saying "Jesus is Calling."

"Jesus wants me; I am going to Him."

With these words, Louis Ronning, a north shore fisherman, climbed over the rail of the steamer Moore of the Booth line last Thursday and slipped into the icy waters of Lake Superior. This was the last seen of him, although the vessel was stopped and a small boat sent in search of him. Ronning took his plunge to death at about 4:30 o'clock in the morning. He was not right in his mind, and recently had seemed to be insane on religious subjects. The man has been more or less demented since being struck on the head by the limb of a falling tree about two years ago. Chris Olson, a friend, had him in charge at the time of his death, but was not quick enough to save him.

Both men were passengers on the boat when it left Duluth for Grand Marais. Everything was all right until after Two Harbors was passed. Then Ronning seemed to lose his mind entirely, and it was necessary to keep constant watch to prevent his committing suicide. As the Moore was steaming along past Pheasant Island, shortly after 4 o'clock Thursday morning, Ronning, dressed only in his underclothes, escaped from his stateroom and made his way out of doors, saying that Jesus had called him.

Olson caught him just outside the door, and told him Jesus wanted him to go to bed. Ronning consented to go, but shortly afterwards succeeded in getting out of the room without being noticed. His companion, as soon as he discovered his absence, made a rush for the deck, getting to the outer air just in time to see Ronning clamber over the rail and drop into the water, pausing only long enough to say that Jesus had called again. Olson made a wild grab for the man, and barely caught him by his fingers, but his grasp was not sufficiently firm, and Ronning disappeared into the water without a sound. A small boat, containing Olson and members of the crew, rowed about the spot for half an hour, but saw nothing more of the man. The Moore has just returned to Duluth with a report of the affair.

Find Patient a Non-Resident.
Albert Jewitt, aged 22 years, who for the past two weeks has been an inmate of St. Luke's hospital, was taken before an examining board of physicians yesterday for the purpose of determining whether he was sane enough to be committed to the asylum. It developed that the young man is a resident of Richmond Hill, Ont., and his brothers declared themselves ready to take him home. They expected to start for Ontario today.

Old Resident Dies.
Nicholas Freidinger, owner of a small grocery store at 112 West Michigan street, died yesterday. He was 66 years of age and is survived by a wife. The funeral will be held tomorrow morning, with services at St. Peter's church, Eleventh avenue, west and Superior street, with interment in Calvary cemetery.

Both Legs Broken.
James White, an employee of one of the Powers & Simpson camps near Hibbing, was brought to Duluth this morning and placed in St. Mary's hospital. He was caught by a falling tree yesterday and both legs broken below the knees. He is 31 years of age and unmarried.

Bill Will Stand Trial.
The trial of James G. Bell, indicted for forgery in the practice degree, will probably be started late this afternoon in Judge Cant's room. Bell is the young man who, in company with George Gordon, is alleged to have attempted the cashing of a $10,000 check at the Bank of America last week. The checks were drawn on a St. Paul bank and purported to have been signed by the John-son-Wentworth lumber company. Gordon was arrested yesterday and is being held in the penitentiary.

HER NEW HAT.

Chicago News: "Would you wear your straw hat down to the office today?" asked the man's wife. "By no means," replied the man. "That is different altogether. If I wore my straw hat I'd have a crowd following me. I'm wearing the same hat that I wore last winter, though."

"Because it isn't conspicuous. If it made you conspicuous you wouldn't. You know perfectly well that you wouldn't. You'd go straight to a hat-maker's and get something that was in style. But you want me to be conspicuous, and I am."

"Do you mean to say that sweet little hat you bought spick and span new only last fall would make you conspicuous?" demanded the man.

"When every woman is wearing a totally different style? Certainly I do," his wife replied, in no wise mollified by the implied flattery.

"Every woman?"

"Every woman wearing those inverted, saucer-shaped abominations."

"Yes, if you want to call them that."

"Then, I think I should want to be conspicuous," said the man, decidedly.

"You can wear your straw hat, then," retorted his wife. "Of course if you feel that you can't afford to have me dress as other women do I have nothing more to say. I'll wear a shawl over my head if you think it is absolutely necessary. But I think—"

"Now don't get excited, my dear," said the man. "You know perfectly well that it isn't a question of money. I don't care anything at all about that. I was just arguing that it was absurd to go to the expense when it seemed to be entirely superfluous. When you get the worst of an argument that's the way you always are."

"I don't see that I have got the worst of it," said his wife.

"You never will see it," said the man. "I'll show you that you are quite illogical."

You say that you don't want to be conspicuous and yet you say that the trimming is going to cost $15. "If I get the trimmings, but then I can use them on some other hat. You said just now that you weren't talking about the expense."

"Won't you—please—wait—until—I've—done—talking?" begged the man. "I was going to say that if you didn't want to make yourself conspicuous what do you want to stick plumes in your hat for? Tell me that."

"Oh, I'm not going to argue about it," said his wife. "I'll wear my old hat. I suppose that ought to be good enough for me."

"Don't you think I am right?"

"Oh, of course, you are always right."

"But goodness gracious, man!" exclaimed the drummer, "have you no amusement at all in this business place?"

"Oh, yes," said the other. "If we wait till 8 o'clock we can see them shift their freight train."

HIS CHANCES.

Chicago News: The rather threadbare man smiled sadly. "I haven't any particular complaint to make," he said. "I think I have done pretty well, considering my opportunities. I've a large family, you know, and that makes a difference."

The aggressive-looking man with the massive gold watch chain said, "Pooh!" explosively. "Opportunity?" he growled. "What are you talking about? You've had as much opportunity as I have and more, too. I've got a family, haven't I? Certainly I have. My friend, that isn't the trouble. The trouble is that you haven't taken advantage of your opportunities. When opportunity came knocking at your door you didn't hear her. You thought she would come with a club and pound, or jimmy her way through the window and hunt you up and sit on your knee. Well, she doesn't do that. She's too much of a lady. If you want to embrace her that's all right, but she's not going to do the embracing herself. Whenever she's been around to see me I've been watching at the keyhole and I've had her yanked inside before she got a chance to see whether she'd got the right number."

"It seems to me that's rather ardent behavior, isn't it?"

"Not a bit too ardent," said the aggressive-looking man. "It's the way she likes to be treated. Make the most of her and be sure to tell her to call again. Talk about opportunity! Wasn't Bondson living within half a block of you when you were a young man and didn't he have a girl who was good enough for anybody? I remember your telling me about her. She got a million and a half under the old man's will when he died last year. There was your opportunity, but you didn't see it, did you?"

"Well, no," admitted the threadbare man. "I can't say that I did. I didn't know her, you know. I suppose I might have sent in my card and proposed."

"You could have worked it all right, just the same," said the aggressive-looking man. "You knew her brother and you were a pretty good looking boy—and you dressed well in those days. All you needed was nerve. If I'd have been the ladies' man you were I'd have tried it. I know that. There's that suburb you're living in. When you bought your lot why didn't you buy three or four acres? You'd have been independent today if you had."

"I hadn't the money to begin with," said the threadbare man.

"That's no excuse. You could have got some options anyway."

"I suppose I could."

"I know you could. And it isn't only that. The other day that he offered you Corazon and Emma stock for 2 cents—a whole bundle of it. Know what it's selling for now? And when I wanted you to take that appointment on the board of works you wouldn't do it. It wasn't a great deal, but you could have got a stand-in with some of the big guys and got a good thing sooner or later. Politics is all right when you know the game and get on the inside. You had a good chance there. The man who took that job I wanted you to take is drawing his five thousand a year right along now, to say nothing of what he makes on the side. But your turning down that opportunity for me. There was an opportunity for your life."

"I've had others, if I could think of them," said the threadbare man. "If I had bought wheat at the right time and sold at the right time I might have been rich a dozen times over. I've had opportunities of that kind every day. I might have worked my way out to Alaska and got in before the big rush if my foresight had been as good as your hindsight is. I had an opportunity to help you out of a hole once, if you recollect, and I've been wanting an opportunity to see you for a week. Now if you could—"

"Excuse me," said the aggressive-looking man, "there's a fellow in the car ahead I want to talk to a minute. See you later."

ROMANCE OF THE LAKES

Magazine Has Interesting Article Telling of Duluth Men.

Train of Cars Around Earth to Handle Lake Shipping.

"Picture a train of 40-ton freight cars loaded to capacity, the engine and caboose both in New York city, yet extending in an unbroken line entirely around the earth—a train reaching along a parallel from New York to San Francisco, across the Pacific, the Chinese empire, Turkistan, Persia, the Mediterranean and the Atlantic—and you have an idea of what the ships of the Great Lakes are carrying during a single eight months season of navigation."

In an article entitled "The Romance of the Great Lakes," in the current issue of the Reader magazine, the iron industry and the progress of men locally interested in the development of the Northwestern iron trade is given a most thorough review.

One hundred million tons of freight are moved annually on the Great Lakes. No other like amount of freight in the world is as important to Americans as is this traffic that is moved on the Great Lakes.

The iron mines of the North were to go out of existence tomorrow nearly half of the commerce of the inland seas would cease to be. With it would go the strongest of the lakes. In the northland, along the Mesaba, Gribble and Vermilion ranges from Duluth's back to the pine hills of Minnesota, Michigan and Wisconsin, they have practically made the iron ore of the world's commerce in steel and iron.

Among the Duluth men mentioned in the article are Thomas C. Cole, Tomlinson and Capt. Joseph Selwood.

The article is a study of the ore traffic at close range, the man who will probably hear about it after the ship is home.

Cole of Duluth. Officially he is known as the president of the Oliver Iron Mining Company, the greatest organization of iron and steel in the world. He is the great eye of the world's largest trust, he guards the interests of thirty-one mines, employs 20,000 men and gives subsistence to 50,000 people.

One Louis county is given credit for being the backbone of the iron-producing center in the United States. It is given credit for being the richest county on the face of the earth. It has over 100 mines of the big game and got a good thing since Charlemagne Tower brought down the first carload to Duluth in 1881. It also possesses the greatest traffic route in existence—the Duluth, Missabe & Northern Railway.

Capt. Selwood is accredited with being one of the greatest of the iron men. This great iron center, C. A. Tomlinson, the article says, was one of the first to see the possibilities of the iron ore business and his ships at the present time carry 200,000 tons of iron ore.

J. C. Gilchrist, James Davidson, Capt. Mitchell, William Livingston, Harry Coulby, W. C. Richardson, A. E. Wain, G. A. Tomlinson are mentioned as "men who have made the iron ore business the sheer force of the breed that is in them."

Many Meetings Will be Held Before Tuesday Night.

Political meetings are coming thick and fast these days, and the campaign promises to end up with quite a display of fireworks.

Two more big meetings will be held by Mr. Tressman. There will be an open meeting at Rowley hall tomorrow night, and one at the Great Eastern hall in West Duluth, Saturday night. In addition to these two meetings there will be several ward meetings for the ward workers between now and Tuesday night. At least one of these is held every night at 8 o'clock, and some evenings there are two or three ward meetings in session.

Mr. Haven's friends held two meetings last evening, one a Fourth ward rally, in the Finnish hall on St. Croix avenue, at which Mr. Haven and Mr. Adams spoke. The other was a Second ward meeting at the courthouse, and here Mr. Haven attempted to explain his attitude on the Sunday laws. He expressed himself as being favorable to Sunday amusements, and outlined his attitude on these matters. He also reviewed his record, and stated that he was no longer a member of the builders' exchange. The other speakers were James A. Wharton, W. E. Calkins and J. L. Cromwell.

The Viking Republican club held a meeting last evening and reconsidered its endorsement of John Hogan in the Fifth ward. Mr. Hogan was the only Democrat endorsed by the club, the endorsement being given on the ground that he is a Norwegian. Several of the prominent members were not present when the endorsement was given, and at their request it was reconsidered last evening. Lyle S. Meader was endorsed in place of Mr. Hogan.

WORK FOR SECRETARY.

Chicago Tribune: Every new congress brings to Washington the meanest man in Christendom. A Western senator arranged last summer for the construction of a barn.

"I want the work done as economically as possible," he told the carpenter. "It will save money, won't it to drive one nail instead of two into each board?"

"Yes," was the reply. "But the barn won't be as strong."

"That's all right," responded the thrifty senator. "I'll have the work done, using one nail in each board."

When the carpenter finished the senator used a Western Union frank to call his secretary to his home, "to do some work which had accumulated." Upon the latter's arrival he disposed of a number of letters and then said:

"Here are four pounds of nails. I want you to drive an extra nail in every plank in that barn."

As the government pays the salaries of senators' secretaries it is readily apparent that the Western economist saved something in having him instead

PEPPER CURES HICCUGHS.

Philadelphia Inquirer: A new and immediate remedy for hiccoughs was discovered at the Hahnemann hospital Friday evening by Dr. Peters, of whom George McClellan was cured of hiccoughs, which began two days ago by means of a pinch of pepper.

McClellan had tried all kinds of remedies before coming to the hospital, but without avail. Two hospitals were visited, but the treatment he received was apparently as little good as the drugs he had taken at home. He became weaker and weaker and could not eat or sleep.

It was in this condition that he appeared at the Hahnemann hospital last evening.

Here is something that you never tried," said Dr. Peters. "Nearly all brides are getting sore on cut glass for wedding presents, because they always get so much more than they can ever use," remarked a jeweler yesterday. "but I never heard of one going so far to block the cut glass as a little bride that was in here the other day."

"She told me her name and asked me if I would keep my ears cocked for any customer who might come in to buy a wedding present and mention her name. My part of the game was to tell the customer that she had dropped a remark about not caring for cut glass. She said she had been to two other stores and fixed up the same deal with them."

AMMONIA GOOD FOR WOOLLENS.

In washing all undyed woolen articles a little ammonia can be used to advantage, rendering them soft and comfortable to the skin, says The Delineator. Prepare a lather, always using soap-jelly for the purpose. The alkali in the soap-jelly is very much modified, and less likely to harm the wool. See that the water is only a very little more than tepid; work up the lather with the hand, add a little ammonia—one tablespoonful to one gallon of water is the allowance—and plunge in the garment.

Never rub on soap nor rub between the hands. Rather shake about in the water and use a sort of squeezing motion. Squeeze out of this first water, turn, if very dirty, put into a second water with rather less soap-jelly, and no ammonia. Pass through this water in the same way, then clean warm water for rinsing. Pass through the wringer, then shake well. The importance of this process must be emphasized.

A BRIDE'S LITTLE SCHEME.

Cleveland Plain Dealer: "Nearly all brides are getting sore on cut glass for wedding presents, because they always get so much more than they can ever use," remarked a jeweler yesterday. "but I never heard of one going so far to block the cut glass as a little bride that was in here the other day."

"She told me her name and asked me if I would keep my ears cocked for any customer who might come in to buy a wedding present and mention her name. My part of the game was to tell the customer that she had dropped a remark about not caring for cut glass. She said she had been to two other stores and fixed up the same deal with them."

VOTERS OF MANY LANDS

Twenty-One Nationalities Represented in One Precinct of City.

Naturalized Citizens From India, Turkey, Syria and Iceland.

Duluth is a cosmopolitan city. One who has lived here for a time and is interested enough to study crowds on special occasions and the surging stream of humanity, which flows past Superior street at night, is cognizant of it in a rather cloudy fashion, but only by looking through the registration books at the city clerk's office, may one get a clear idea of the numerous nationalities within the boundaries of the city. He will not get some of them at that, as there are some nationalities, which have no naturalized citizens, but the citizens are of many different tongues and forms of homes.

Perhaps the most cosmopolitan precinct in the city is the third precinct of the Second ward. The first page has five names beginning with A and their bearers are of the nationality of five different lands: Canada, the United States, Iceland, Sweden and Norway are represented and the other pages contribute enough to make a total of twenty-one nationalities in the one precinct, with its 400 voters. One would hardly expect to find naturalized citizens from India, East India and Spain, but their names are on the book. The countries represented are the United States, England, Scotland, Ireland, Wales, France, Spain, Switzerland, Italy, Germany, Sweden, Norway, Finland, Russia, India, East India, Canada, Iceland, Austria, Denmark and Poland.

Four other precincts taken at random show cosmopolitan natures, but none in the degree exhibited by the Second ward precinct. The fourth precinct of the Fifth ward has fourteen nationalities; the fifth of the Fifth ward has twelve; the fourth of the Second ward has four; and the third precinct of the Fourth ward also has fourteen. Besides the twenty-one nationalities in the third precinct of the Second ward, Turkey, Syria, Newfoundland and Roumania have representatives in the precinct named.

It is probable if one were to go through all of the registration books, the 1138 names of the city would show more nationalities, but the few precincts, chosen at different parts of the city, show that American born citizens have not an unimportant voice in the government of the city.

The native born citizens are also of many states. In the precincts, from which the above facts were gleaned, almost every state in the Union has representatives. Maine and California both have sons in Duluth, and also Virginia, West Virginia, Kentucky and Tennessee. Iowa and Wisconsin contribute many. Almost every province in Canada has sons in Duluth, and Nova Scotia. From all of which, one may draw that Duluth is a typical American city, in which birth and family do not work for or against success.

"POPPER" INVENTED
By West Virginia Girls, Has Cupid "Beat a Block."

Steubenville, Ohio, Jan. 23.—The "Question Popper," installed at Follensbee, W. Va., just across the river, by the eight members of the Girls' Leap-Year club, is proving its worth. So far it has brought about one marriage and one engagement. Now, it is to be secretly moved to another girl member's home, and the young man on whom it is to be operated will be an easy victim. It is predicted.

It only required a week for the "popper" to secure a signal triumph at the home of Miss Bertha McWhiters, where John Williams, it is said, expected to toast his shins serenely all winter. They were married the day after the popper started to work. Two weeks later, Thursday evening, at the home of Miss Joan Hardy, the "popper" put the crimp on Samuel Richards. Both young men are helping the young women maintain the secret of the invention. The other six girls are awaiting their turn, and confidently expect to be married within six months.

The club has refused many requests from out of town to divulge the "popper" secret.

FAVORED IT PRIVATELY; OPPOSED IT OPENLY

Alderman Staples Tells of Haven's Two-Faced Policy.

Played Politics Only on the Carpenter Saloon License.

During the time the Carpenter saloon license was before the council, a little over a year ago, Alderman Haven came to me privately, and told me that he did not dare favor the renewal of the license openly, on account of the strong sentiment in his ward against its renewal, but that he was for the license, and he asked me to support it in the council. I told him I would do so, not as a favor to him, but because I believed the Carpenter brothers were entitled to the license. I did so. Mr. Haven voted against it in the council, but did not very vigorously oppose it, and it was granted.

I am willing to swear that the above statement is true in every particular.

S. F. STAPLES, Alderman Second Ward.

While openly opposing the renewal of the saloon license of Carpenter Bros. in the West end, Alderman Haven was secretly working for it, according to the forgoing claims of Alderman S. F. Staples, a Republican and a colleague of Mr. Haven's in the council.

Throughout the present campaign Mr. Haven has attempted to stand as the candidate of the anti-saloon interests, and his supporters, by every means in his power, have endeavored to place the Tessman in the light of being the saloon man's candidate, in spite of the fact that Mr. Haven up as the only dyed-in-the-wool law-enforcement candidate.

Mr. Haven has stated that friends of Mr. Haven's were secretly working for the vote of the saloon interests, while the campaign leaders were publicly talking temperance, and the statement of Alderman Staples would appear to bear this out. The Carpenter license will be well remembered by the people of the West end. The people of the Seventh ward petitioned the council to grant the renewal of the license on the ground that it was in very poor condition, and that the district. A majority of the voters of the precinct opposed the license in a petition to the council, and Mr. Haven voted against it in the council. This has been one of the most unimportant votes in the history of the city.

Temptation overcame Mike Conig: a driver for the Hamilton & White company, and he found himself in court this morning with a charge of larceny over appropriation to his own use of $100, which he collected on a C. O. D. package, but it is said his pecuniary affairs are in a very bad way.

He pleaded guilty to the charge and, as he promised to be honest in the future, sentence was deferred for thirty days. If a satisfactory report is returned at that time, he will be discharged.

Charles Collins still had the remains of his last night's jag with him when his name was called. He was very talkative and unsteady on his feet, and he assured the judge he wasn't drunk last night. He said he had a few drinks, but he wasn't drunk, and he was home and when he lost his way a few times, the officers took him home.

Alfred Carlson still had a little of his jag left and his grin, as he pleaded guilty to drunkenness, was a reflection of good nature. "You see, judge, a friend of mine came down from the woods yesterday," he said, "and he had a few drinks together. We had a few more, and then I couldn't find my way, so the officers took me up. I was drunk all right."

A dropper in Duluth on the way to the woods is disastrous. Nick Hanson, John Schmitt, Frank Myers, William McLaughlin and John Konig were all on their way to the woods. Hanson had the odd story, with the lumberjack's natural remedy, to tell, and McLaughlin also was a means of warning his chills by a pint of whisky. He thought it was a good idea, with the injunction that they hit for the woods as soon as they could get out.

Fred Hanson let loose a veritable flood of tears as he pleaded for mercy. Fred was a native of Duluth, and he pleaded guilty to drunkenness, was a reflection of good nature. "You see, judge, a friend of mine came down from the woods yesterday," he said, "and he had a few drinks together. We had a few more, and then I couldn't find my way, so the officers took me up. I was drunk all right."

BULLY HITS AN OLD MAN

Olaf Christianson Gets a Stiff Sentence for Unprovoked Assault.

Cold Weather Steers a Long Line of Drunks Into Court.

The booze that Olaf Christianson, a strong young fellow, absorbed on the Bowery yesterday, gave him a great feeling of pride in his physical ability. But with the weakness worthy of a village bully he avoided contact with anybody who might do him damage. So he picked out H. S. Smith, an inoffensive little man of nearly 65 years of age, and as a result Smith is carrying a pair of black eyes and Christianson will spend the next twenty days in the county jail.

Smith, with his discolored lamps to back up his testimony, appeared in court this morning and told his story. He said he drew $1 and costs or three days.

Alfred Carlson still had a little of his jag left and his grin, as he pleaded guilty to drunkenness, was a reflection of good nature. "You see, judge, a friend of mine came down from the woods yesterday," he said, "and he had a few drinks together. We had a few more, and then I couldn't find my way, so the officers took me up. CANNON AND TAFT LEAD

N. F. Hugo Talks of Political Situation in the East.

Julia A. Wood Booming Eaton for United States Senator.

N. F. Hugo, who has just returned from Washington, D. C., where people do not consider they have had a square deal if a political discussion is not served along with it, says that Cannon and Taft are present leaders in the presidential race, according to political prophets at the national capital.

"Taft is the administration candidate, and Taft sentiment naturally is very strong, but Cannon has a much stronger following than most people here in the Northwest realize," said Mr. Hugo this morning. "He is not very popular through the Northwest, but it is different in the East, and there is an organized effort in Washington to have him placed at the head of the ticket, with Hughes for second place."

"I believe Minnesota should send an unqualified delegation to the national Republican convention. The situation is such that I believe the delegates should be left to act on their own judgment, and not be bound by instructions given before they reach the convention."

Guy Eaton of Duluth has the unqualified and unanimous endorsement of the Lake County Advocate for United States senator from Minnesota. The Advocate is published at Beaver Bay, Minn. Julia A. Wood is editor and publisher.

"With Eaton for United States senator," says the Advocate, "the new capitol building, upon the meeting of the next legislature would fairly tremble with thousands of applause for the Little Giant of the Northwest, and his triumphant election would be a cause for great pride, and indirectly a debt of gratitude handsomely paid by the Republican party to one of its most indefatigable and broad-gauged members—and it would be a refreshing example at least in the election of a United States senator by the legislature of the office seeking the man, and the Zenith City would hail with just pride and delight the great honor bestowed upon one of its most deservedly popular citizens whose interests have been identified with that metropolis for the past twenty-five years, and whose life and public life is without a blemish."

CHINESE TO CELEBRATE

Celestials Will Hold New Year Observance Feb. 2.

Feb. 2 is the date when the Chinese will offer prayers for the souls of their dead forefathers, burn the modern incense, beat the tom tom, indulge in riotous banqueting, in which red, yellow and green flowers will figure, and make a demonstration of queer fireworks that would make an American effort in the line of noise sound like the rubber-heeled pat of a subpoena dodger—for Feb. 2, be it known, is the Chinese new year.

The Chinese new year is regulated by the sun. It comes upon the first moon after the sun enters the Aquarius, which makes it come not earlier than Jan. 21, nor later than Feb. 19. Chin Gin, the proprietor of the Oregon restaurant, who wields the big stick in local Chinese affairs, will be the personality around whom the celebration will revolve. There are about 200 Chinamen in Duluth, and almost every laundry and store will be closed upon the day when the anniversary of the 6,840th Chinese new year is celebrated.

There will be a celebration at the Oregon restaurant, as well as at other places. Here the big feed will be held. Shark's fins, fish maws, Chinese eggs and nuts, Chinese candy that looks like paregoric, chop suey, various Chinese soups and other dishes that bring joy to the Chinese palate, will be served.

It is absolutely necessary to health that we give relief to the stomach promptly at first signs of trouble. Take something like a KOLDO For dyspepsia and indigestion. Sold by all druggists.

MADE A BAD BARGAIN.

Woman Who Bought Husband for $10, Loses Man and Jewels.
St. Louis, Jan. 29.—Mrs. Rosa Adler of 1421 Cass street, has been wondering since Sunday what has become of her husband whom she recently wedded, until she found the following note he had left pinned to a pair of trousers: "I have gone away to San Francisco because I had no work, you used to bother me. The money and jewelry I took you can have if you come to San Francisco. You need not be afraid for your money. If you come to San Francisco, I will be the boss."

Mrs. Adler mournfully stated today that the money and jewelry mentioned represent a value of $500. According to Mrs. Adler's statement she bought her husband from Morris Grab, a clothing store proprietor for $10.
"I went to Morris' store and he showed me Reuben and I liked him," said Mrs. Adler. "I gave Morris $10 and took Reuben and we were married. Reuben said he needed some money to look for a job and I fixed up my bank account so he could draw some. Now he is gone and so is my money and jewelry. I don't want Reuben back. I wanted to give him away, but I don't want my money and jewelry."

HOLD ROUSING TESSMAN MEETING IN WEST END

Columbia Hall Packed in Spite of Bitter Cold.

Tessman, Reynolds, McEwen and Others Give Stirring Addresses.

Mr. Tessman invaded what was supposed to be the enemy's territory in the West end last evening, and even the Third ward itself could not have given him a heartier reception.
In spite of the fact that the thermometer stood at between 15 and 20 degs. below zero, Columbia hall was packed to the doors. Every inch of standing room was taken, and there was no doubt about the attitude of the men and women present.

There were many to whom Mr. Tessman was a stranger, and his modest unassuming manner, and straightforward talk evidently made a most favorable impression.

Miss Jane Everington opened the meeting by singing "My Country, 'Tis of Thee" and George Duran, the chairman then introduced Mr. Tessman.

Mr. Tessman made but a brief talk. Two years ago, he said, the Democrats of the city had asked him to run for mayor, but he told them then that Mayor Cullum was a good man, the best Duluth had had in years, and he was entitled to a second term. He said, however, when Mayor Cullum's second term expires, they still wished him for their candidate, he would accept, which he did.

Mr. Tessman said he did not take the course followed by Mr. Haven, who went behind closed doors with a select committee to get his nomination. He was chosen by the people in the primaries.

Mr. Tessman spoke briefly of his record in public office. He said he had always voted for the best interest of the people. He complimented the Democratic administration, saying that for a good many years Duluth has been as well a governed city as any in the United States.

Mr. Tessman said he had been a personal friend of Mr. Haven and always would be. "I have lived in Duluth since I was 21 years old," said Mr. Tessman. "I started out as a bookkeeper and have worked my way up. I never lost a position for I always did my best."

In conclusion, Mr. Tessman stated that if he became mayor he would consult the people in regard to appointing men to fill the different offices of the city. At the close of Mr. Tessman's speech, he was given an ovation. The cheering lasted several minutes and at its close, the audience stood and sang, "The Star Spangled Banner."

Joseph Reynolds speaker was Joseph W. Reynolds, former manager of Mayor Cullum's campaign. He said in part: "We have gathered together to consider the real issues pending in this city's campaign. More than 10,000 citizens have registered. Every one is interested. It is one of the best signs of the times, this interest the people are taking in public affairs. A man should be measured by his standing in public affairs, and we are to be congratulated that so many men have registered and intend to vote next Tuesday."

Mr. Reynolds then gave some reasons why Mr. Tessman should be the next mayor. "First, Emil Tessman is a man," he said. "He is known to nearly every one, and is well respected as a man of fairness. The News Tribune has pictured him as an animated little fellow, but there is nothing about Mr. Tessman's appearance or habits that justifies such a disgraceful attack. It was a miserable, low-lived cartoon. But in spite of these attacks, Mr. Tessman's acquaintances are supporting almost to a man."

"As a business man, Mr. Tessman has treated all with the utmost consideration. He has stood like a gentleman all the false attacks made upon him. "Mr. Tessman's character," continued Mr. Reynolds, "may be summed up in one word, 'fairness.' He is as fair to opponents as to friends. He is the kind of a man that appeals to every man."

"Is it fair?" asked Mr. Reynolds, "to convert the churches into political halls and turn pupils into pawns in a game which besmirch another's character? Is this right or fair? Would Mr. Tessman do this?"

"The question of this campaign is not one of the saloon. The time may come when the saloon may be wiped out, but that time is not ripe yet. Now, when a saloonkeeper pays his $1,000 license, he has the rights of every citizen. But this is not a prohibition issue."

"At one time each city was allowed to regulate its own saloon business, although there was a state law against saloons running on Sundays, or staying open after 11 o'clock. In St. Cloud the mayor said he would appoint the police, but would not enforce the law. The case was tried by the supreme court, which decided the mayor must enforce the state law. That settled the question of the enforcement of state laws. The mayor of the city must enforce them. Whether Haven or Tessman becomes our mayor, he must enforce the law.

"But there is a wide field of discretion in the enforcement of the law. Here is where fairness comes in. Mr. Tessman will show no partiality, he will enforce the law the same with the poor saloon keeper as with the rich."

Mr. Reynolds then explained his position in joining the Tessman ranks after supporting Mayor Cullum at the primaries. He said by virtue of Dr. Cullum's ideal administration he had to support him, but when the people cast a majority out of 6,000 votes for Mr. Tessman, he had no choice but to support Tessman at the finals as he was the selection of the people.

Be a Good Loser.
"It is like what Mr. Taft said in regard to the Philippines," he said, "Gentlemen, the secret of good citizenship is to be a good loser, and that is the way with me and should be the way with all good citizens. Cullum's supporters should submit to the majority and join Tessman's ranks. It behooves every citizen who supported Cullum, to support Tessman at the finals as he was the selection of the people."

Thirty or forty men met in some back room and decided Haven should be a candidate. He was the choice of forty against a whole city."

William McEwen next took the floor. He claimed the government of Duluth has been absolutely free from graft.

"I have been associated with Emil Tessman in the common council for several years," he said, "and I have always found him a fair, square and upright man. If Tessman had not always been such a man, we would have found it out long ago in the columns of the News Tribune."

As to Mr. Tessman's business record, I may say it is better to have loved and lost than never to have loved at all.

Mr. Tessman started in business for himself before the hard times in '93, but during that time he was forced to close his doors. Since then he has paid his creditors 100 cents on the dollar. What would have been the result if Mr. Haven had ever even attempted a business career? As I said 'it is better to have loved and lost than never to have loved at all.'

The Lid Issue.
There is no lid question in this campaign. Since the supreme court gave its ruling on the St. Cloud case, it is the absolute duty of the mayor to enforce the law. If he does not, he will be ousted from office.

The lid issue is merely a blind to hide from you the real issue. I do not believe in the enforcing of laws that shut out Sunday baseball. It is better for a young man to watch or play baseball on Sunday than to stand on the street corners smoking cigarettes and insulting women.

The laws of health should be observed above all others.
Mr. Tessman may not have a 'goodly crowd' of loud men, like Mr. Haven, who has a crowd looking for personal favors, but he has a crowd who wish the best for the city.

The primaries are supposed to do away with political bosses, but Haven was chosen by a picked few behind closed doors. What is this but a form of the political boss. This is an issue of this campaign, shall we have a mayor selected by political bosses? Are the days of the political boss still with us?"

Mr. McEwen also went into the tax question fully.

"You are not voting for a saloon candidate," he concluded, "but for a poor man's candidate, and one who will give the poor people of this city a fair deal with special favors to none."

M. J. Harney was the next speaker. He gave an earnest, forceful address, urging the men present not to be blinded by misrepresentations. He claimed that Mr. Tessman stood for what labor stood for, and urged the laboring men in the city to support him next Tuesday.

Mr. H. McMahon followed Mr. Harney and pointed out some of the misrepresentations made by the morning paper, and claimed that they had been started by a political clique which had nominated Mr. Haven.

Andrew Nelson, one of the speakers at the now famous temperance meeting in the Catholic church a week ago Sunday, was the next speaker. He told of what he had seen and heard at the meeting.

"I was only asked to give a temperance talk at that time," said Mr. Nelson. "I did not know that the city had no time or place for a political speech. He insisted not only Mr. Tessman but a majority of the citizens of Duluth. I am a member of the church and a temperance man, but I would not violate the proprieties by bringing politics into the church."

He criticized the Mormons for mingling politics and church matters, but if it doesn't seem right in the Mormons, do you think it is right to have the congregation in a Protestant church told how to vote from the pulpit?"

The timber in controversy is located in 50-19. Mr. Bailey claims that if Mr. Frederickson had lived up to the terms of the option he gave the timber, he could have sold the timber for $5,000.

LITIGATION COMES TO END
Railroad Company and Property Owners Agree on a Price.

The appeal from the award of the commissioners in the suit brought by the Wisconsin Central Railway company against Harriet A. Southworth, J. J. Murphy and others, for the condemnation of some lots in Duluth proper, Third division, for railroad purposes, has been dismissed in the district court. The parties to the action have arrived at a satisfactory settlement, the company paying the property owners $95,046.

The commission appointed by the court to appraise the property found the value of lot 108, block 3, to be $46,467.32, and the value of lot 110 to be $45,638.61. Both the railway company and the property owners appealed from the award.

NEWSPAPER MEN COMING
To Duluth on Editorial Association Outing in August.

Members of the National Editorial association will spend a day or so in Duluth next August, when the annual convention and excursion of the organization will be held.

The convention proper will be held in St. Paul, but after the business men will start northward on a pleasure jaunt. From Duluth they will go to Winnipeg, and then to the Canadian Rockies. The party will probably take in the Minnesota fair upon its return.

The executive committee of the association held a meeting in Washington this week to discuss the plans for the outing.

GRIP?

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey Cures Grip, Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma, Catarrh and All Diseases of the Throat and Lungs.

Mr. W. A. Stagg, 1063 Pacific St., Brooklyn, N. Y., who is vigorous at the age of 73, has been cured several times of grip by Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, taken as prescribed, and has also been saved by its use from the bad after-effects of the disease.

Mr. Stagg writes: "For thirty years Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey has been my one medicine. I have always used it as prescribed, and it has proved a valuable aid, as it has not only cured several attacks of grip, but has prevented any bad after-effects. I cannot speak too highly of what Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey has done for me, and will always keep it to stimulate and tone up my system and as a sure cure for colds and grip. Although 73 years old, I am hale and hearty, due to the judicious use of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey."

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is an absolutely pure distillation of malted grain, great care being used to have every kernel thoroughly malted, thus destroying the germ and producing a predigested liquid food in the form of a malt essence, which is the most effective tonic stimulant and invigorator known to science; softened by warmth and moisture, its palatability and freedom from injurious substances render it so that it can be retained by the most sensitive stomach.

Sold by druggists, grocers and dealers or direct, $1 a bottle. Illustrated Medical Booklet containing a few of many convincing testimonials received from grateful men and women who have been cured, and doctor's advice sent free. Duffy Malt Whiskey Co., Rochester, N. Y.

JURY WAS NOT VERY GENEROUS
Decides That W. T. Bailey's Damages Were on a Bargain Basis.

W. T. Bailey, the well known lumberman, was awarded $108 damages against C. J. Frederickson, in a verdict returned in the district court yesterday afternoon. He sued for $3,700. The suit was based on the claim of Mr. Bailey that Mr. Frederickson had violated his contract to sell him, Bailey, some timber, and that by reason of such failure the plaintiff had suffered damages in the amount claimed.

The timber in controversy is located in 50-19. Mr. Bailey claims that if Mr. Frederickson had lived up to the terms of the option he gave the timber, he could have sold the timber for $5,000.

COLE HARBOR SCORCHED.
Blomberg, N. D., Jan. 28.—Fire at Cole Harbor, McIntosh county, on the Soo line, destroyed Gidrudson & Thorgerson's clothing store, Heston's hardware and furniture store and several small buildings, with a total loss. The fire originated from unknown causes in the furniture store and spread quickly to the other places. The town having only a bucket brigade.

LITIGATION COMES TO END
Railroad Company and Property Owners Agree on a Price.

The appeal from the award of the commissioners in the suit brought by the Wisconsin Central Railway company against Harriet A. Southworth, J. J. Murphy and others, for the condemnation of some lots in Duluth proper, Third division, for railroad purposes, has been dismissed in the district court. The parties to the action have arrived at a satisfactory settlement, the company paying the property owners $95,046.

The commission appointed by the court to appraise the property found the value of lot 108, block 3, to be $46,467.32, and the value of lot 110 to be $45,638.61. Both the railway company and the property owners appealed from the award.

NEWSPAPER MEN COMING
To Duluth on Editorial Association Outing in August.

Members of the National Editorial association will spend a day or so in Duluth next August, when the annual convention and excursion of the organization will be held.

The convention proper will be held in St. Paul, but after the business men will start northward on a pleasure jaunt. From Duluth they will go to Winnipeg, and then to the Canadian Rockies. The party will probably take in the Minnesota fair upon its return.

The executive committee of the association held a meeting in Washington this week to discuss the plans for the outing.

MUST DRINK MORE WATER

Nature's Great Remedy for all Diseases Says Authority.

Try This at Home for Kidneys and Bladder and Rheumatism.

"The people here do not drink enough water to keep healthy," exclaimed a well-known authority. "The numerous cases of stomach trouble, kidney and bladder diseases and rheumatism are mainly due to the fact that the drinking of water, nature's greatest medicine, has been neglected. Stop loading your stomach with patent medicines and cure-dalls, but get on the water wagon. If you are really sick, why, of course, take the proper medicine—plain common vegetable treatment, which will not shatter the nerves or ruin the stomach."

When requested for such a prescription for the cure of rheumatism and kidney trouble, the answer was: "You must make the kidneys do their work. They are the filters of the blood. They must be made to strain out the blood the waste matter and acids that cause rheumatism; the urine must be neutralized so it will no longer be a source of irritation to the bladder, and, most of all, you must keep these acids from forming in the stomach. This is the cause of stomach trouble and poor digestion. For these conditions I would suggest the following prescription: Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kirschen, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Mix by shaking well in bottle and take in generous doses after each meal and at bedtime, but don't forget the water. Drink plenty and often."

This valuable information and simple prescription should be posted up in each household and used as the first sign of an attack of rheumatism, backache or urinary trouble, no matter how slight.

RECEIVER NAMED FOR MONTANA A. O. U. W.

Helena, Mont., Jan. 29.—Robert S. Howey, was yesterday appointed receiver for the Montana Grand lodge of the Ancient Order of United Workmen. Application for the appointment of receivers was made before Judge Clements of the district court by H. S. Hopwood, counsel for the grand lodge. The grand lodge, it was stated, has death claims of approximately $100,000. There is now on hand in the beneficiary fund, $1,400; and in addition there are funds in the treasuries of subordinate lodges. The Montana grand lodge has been in existence seventeen years and has paid claims amounting to $1,650,000.

WILL SHOW BIG PROFIT

City Water and Gas System Makes Gain in Earnings.

Annual Report Expected to Show Some Astounding Figures.

The forthcoming annual report of the board of water and light commissioners is expected to show that the municipal owned water and gas system of Duluth, on the present basis of low rates has produced a profit in the last year that will make strong argument for the cause of municipal ownership of public service utilities.

The report, which is in the way of preparation has not been completed, and no definite figures will be given out until it is in the hands of the city council, but there is every reason to believe that it will be one of the most interesting municipal statements that the citizens of Duluth have ever had the opportunity of reading.

Although all information on the subject is jealously guarded by the department until the council gets it "first hand," it will be safe to predict, judging from the increase of business that has been noted from time to time during the year, that the municipal owned water and gas system of Duluth is on a basis at the present time which, if its policy will be carried out, will mean earnings in an amount that will do away with the issue of bonds in the future to take care of any extensions or improvements that may be planned.

This means that the department is not only taking care of its own operation, but is earning enough over and above every expense to provide a reserve fund that will enable the department to provide for future facilities without resorting to a loan, or, in other words, a bond issue.

FINISH TAKING OF TESTIMONY

No Decision in Great Northern Case for Thirty Days.

Nothing of special importance was brought out yesterday at the afternoon hearing before the state railway and warehouse commission, at the Spaulding hotel, on the complaint of discrimination brought against the Great Northern. The ground was pretty thoroughly covered at the morning session of the commission, and most of the testimony in the afternoon was merely a repetition of that taken in the morning, differing only as to minor details.

Quite a lot of testimony was taken, and when this has been transcribed by the official stenographer it will be given further consideration by the commission. A decision is not expected for some little time yet. Probably it will be made before a decision is arrived at. Both sides have the privilege of submitting briefs and answers.

The principal point on which testimony was offered in the afternoon related to what constitutes a load for a car of the different forest products, and also information as to values. Both sides introduced figures in this connection, and some of them varied widely. The hearing was concluded late in the afternoon.

ESCHewing THE OYSTER

Duluth People Not Eating as Many as Usual.

Something is affecting the oyster trade in Duluth this year and dealers are wondering if the good citizens are eschewing the bivalve because they think it contains disease germs and is unhealthy as a food.

"It is a fact that the oyster business in Duluth has fallen off this year," said H. J. Koling of Koling & Co., wholesale fish and poultry dealers, to a reporter for The Herald today. "I can see by the business done by us, and by what men in the retail trade tell me, that the number of oysters consumed here this season is away lower than the amount that is ordinarily used."

"Perhaps the people here have an idea that oysters are unhealthy, and that they contain numberless germs. It seems unfair that a healthy thing like an oyster should be the cause of such a foolish belief."

Concerning the oyster, the New York Sun recently said:

"The oyster has had to take a lot of abuse of late. People have declared that it is unparadoxically shy on nutritive value, that it was just as unparadoxically long on germs, and that when greenish in its cast of countenance it had more copper on board than will ever be dug out of some of the mines whose stock has been floated in the last few years."

"Under all this contumely, the oyster has persevered in its traditional policy of shutting up. Consequently those who love it will welcome the news that a champion of the oyster has appeared in no less a person than Uncle Sam himself."

"Through the agricultural department the government has gone into the oyster question with thoroughness. The result is a rehabilitated bivalve."

"A quart of oysters contains about the same quantity of nutritive substance as a quart of milk, three-fourths of a pound of beef, two pounds of codfish or a pound of bread. That point Mr. Blue Point oyster and his relatives into pretty company. In fact, at the time when the doctors are almost unanimous in their recommendation of the oyster as a food material, almost any other common food material as regards both the amounts and the relative proportions of nutrients."

TILLMAN AND ROCKEFELLER

Senator Gives Version of Their Talk on a Train.

Washington, Jan. 29.—Senator Tillman discounts the press advice as to his meeting with John D. Rockefeller on a train in Georgia. His version of the "social session," in part, is as follows:

"A man came to my seat in the Pullman car, and I was struck with the fact that his face radiated sunshine, and I said to myself: 'Here is an optimist if there ever was one.'"

"That man, Mr. Rockefeller, a man said, and of course, I knew him at once. He sat down with me, and we talked about an hour. Mr. Rockefeller did not seem to be in the least bit nervous, and in any way intimate he had any more money than I had, and you may be sure I did not say anything about it. I say this just to show that the story sent out about our meeting did Mr. Rockefeller an injustice."

"But I got in a little talk on my own hook. Mr. Rockefeller seemed to be interested in the country through which we were passing, and I told him some of the facts of the land and the character of the people."

"That was my opportunity. I remembered that he had been credited with having given away $50,000,000 for educational purposes last year, and I called attention to the expressions of Andrew Carnegie and philanthropists of that kind in favor of giving more money to Tuskegee and other schools for the negroes. I told Mr. Rockefeller that there were millions of whites in the South—white descended from pure English and Irish and Scotch—who were living in poverty, ignorance and poor because of their ignorance, and that the Northern millionaires, who had thought of giving more money to Rockefeller, seemed to be interested, and I warmed up to the subject."

"You know Mr. Rockefeller is used to giving orders that he must exclaim, in an ordinary tone, as if that was all there was to it: 'That will have to be remedied. Such things must not be done.'"

"Well, sir, it sounded so like Theodore Roosevelt that I couldn't help thinking how much I'd like to get them two fellows together."

"We went on talking and I told him how the New York money crowd run our Southern railroads."

"I had a chance to get in a good rap at the condition on the Southern at the junction near Alton. The train comes down there with Pullman cars for the millionaires bound for Alton, and day coaches for the poor people, who get out and sit around an old way station, while the train carries the millionaires—I think I called them 4-millionaires in talking to Mr. Rockefeller—to Alton. Then the train comes back and the poor people are left behind. The train is picked up and run right through, and the company's folders don't announce this discrimination in favor of the rich folk."

"We talked on, Mr. Rockefeller seemingly interested, until I reached my station. I got out and went right on my way, and I didn't mention Standard Oil, and neither did he."

WILL URGE COUNCIL TO EMPLOY IDLE MEN.

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 28.—After holding a meeting at which resolutions were adopted asking Mayor Thompson to find work for them, about 2,000 unemployed workmen marched from Arbutus hall on Russell street to the city hall today and their leaders presented the resolutions to the mayor. He told the leaders that he would urge the council to undertake some municipal work to increase their forces. The leaders told the men who had patiently and quietly waited in front of the city hall, the result of the conference and they dispersed immediately. Throughout the demonstration there was not the slightest disorder.

Drinking Men Not Wanted

The above sign is now seen in many shops and offices in this city, because drinking men are unreliable. Competition is too keen and life is too strenuous for an employer to keep men on his payroll whose nerves are unsteady and whose brains are not clear.

Every line of business is beginning to close its doors to drinking men. Drunkenness is a disease, and like most diseases, has its remedy. Opiate is the reliable treatment, and is sold upon a post-paid guarantee to effect a cure or your money will be refunded. Opiate is in two forms: No. 1, which can be used without the patient's knowledge in tea, coffee or food; and No. 2, for those who wish to be cured.

The guarantee applies to both forms. Mailed in plain sealed package on receipt of $1.00. Write for free booklet, mailed in plain sealed envelope. The Opiate Co., 106 WEST SUPERIOR ST., DULUTH.

Take one Cascaret just as soon as you know that you need it. Then you won't need a purgative. It is an easy and pleasant way to keep well.

This is the day of the gentle in medicine. The cathartic pill is old-fashioned. Salts and castor oil belong to grandmother's time. The modern doctor deals mildly. Cascarets are effective, yet gentle. They don't irritate or gripe. They don't, like cathartics, waste the digestive fluids.

Cascarets do only what some foods will do, what some fruits will do, what exercise does for the bowels. Their action is natural, not artificial. If you live out-of-doors, exercise a great deal, and avoid rich foods, you don't need them. Otherwise you do.

The most helpful laxative ever devised is Cascarets. Then, they are candy tablets, pleasant to take. Then, they are convenient. The ten-cent box fits the vest pocket or the lady's purse. That is a vital point. The time to take a laxative is the minute you suspect that you need it. Don't wait till you get home; don't wait till night. One Cascaret, taken promptly, wards off trouble.

Cascarets are candy tablets. They are sold by all druggists, but never in bulk. Be sure to get the genuine, with CCC on every tablet. The price is 50 cents, 25 cents and 10 Cents per Box.

CHOKING SAVES WOMAN

Who in Rage, Tried to Kill Herself With Poison.

Fargo, N. D., Jan. 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. John W. Miller, a minette living with her white husband in the Lilly block tried to kill herself Monday by taking rat poison, following a quarrel with her husband and while more or less under the influence of liquor.

Her husband saw her take the poison. Rushing to her side he choked her and succeeded in getting most of it out of her mouth. But she swallowed some of the arsenic.

The moment her husband saw what she had done, he notified Dr. Mallard. He responded at once and by administering emetics undoubtedly saved the woman from death.

The Miller were married about two years ago. Miller rented the Lilly flats and sub-let them to tenants. He was also employed in Brou's shoe store. Apparently the relations of the two were happy until a few weeks ago, when Mrs. Miller commenced to drink heavily.

Her husband censured her more than once, but she would not quit. Monday she had again been over-indulging in drink and her husband reproached her severely. She replied and but words followed. The woman has always had a somewhat violent temper and in a burst of passion she seized the rat biscuit which happened to be near by, and thrust a handful in her mouth.

SUES POWDER COMPANY.

Washburn, Wis., Jan. 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fort Frances is now on "talking terms" with all the towns in this section of the country. The Rainy River Limited Telephone company has just completed its telephone line from Rainy River to Fort Frances. The line is built and operated by local parties at Rainy River.

CAN'T LOCATE NELSON.

Washburn, Wis., Jan. 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Although searching parties have been scouring the woods for a month, no trace has been found of Peter Nelson, who mysteriously disappeared from his home near the town of Mason last November. It is feared by relatives that he is in the woods or is being eaten by wild beasts.

Nelson was a farmer and resided alone in a cabin about two miles from Mason. At times he drank heavily, and may have wandered away and died from the effects of alcohol. He was about 30 years of age.

It Does the Business.

Mr. E. P. Chamberlain, of Clinton, Maine, says of Buckler's Arnica Salve: "It cures the headache, I have used it for piles and it cured them. Used it for chapped hands and it cured them. Applied it to an old burn and it healed it without leaving a scar behind." 25c at all drug stores.

FIREMEN TO MEET.

Bemidji, Minn., Jan. 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—The annual business meeting of the old Northern Minnesota Firemen's Tournament association will be held in Cass Lake on Thursday, Feb. 12, when delegates from different fire departments, which are members of the association, will meet for the purpose of setting the date for holding the 1908 tournament and race. Each reporting delegate to the association is entitled to three delegates.

ACCUSES COLLEGE FRIENDS OF TAKING HIS MONEY.

East Grand Forks, Minn., Jan. 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Robbed of $53 by three college friends he met in a saloon in East Grand Forks, Hans Holton promises to have them arrested. Holton, who is a resident of McIntosh, Minn., says he met the boys and they had a number of drinks. They suggested a stroll and asked Holton to lead the way. When he did so they hit him on the back of the head, he declares, and rendered him unconscious. When he recovered consciousness he found that he had been robbed. As the young men have had good reputations previously and insist that they left Holton to go where he pleased, they have not been arrested and the affair is being thoroughly investigated. The East Grand Forks authorities promise to act if the evidence warrants it.

BURNS TO DEATH

In Fire That Destroys John McLeod's Home.

Calvin, N. D., Jan. 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Murdoch McLeod met a tragic death in the fire that consumed the home of John McLeod, which he was spending the evening alone near here.

Murdoch McLeod, a young man and family, who drove to a neighbor's for the evening, leaving Murdoch alone. While there one of the children became ill and they were compelled to remain away. Murdoch went to Calvin and spent the evening there, returning home about 10 o'clock. In the morning neighbors noticed that the house was gone and went in search of John. They met him on the road and told him about the fire. He hurried to the scene and investigated, with the result that the remains of Murdoch were found in the cellar, burned to a crisp.

Everything goes to show that Murdoch had made an attempt to fight the flames. He was 40 years of age. The house was insured for $1000.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

RIVER MAY HOLD DEAD

Disappearance of John Bodeen, Quite Well-to-Do Farmer, Living Near Stillwater, Nov. 14, Gives Rise to Drowning Theory.

Stillwater, Minn., Jan. 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—An effort is being made by the authorities to learn something about John Bodeen, quite a well-to-do farmer, living immediately north of the Boom road, who has not been seen since Nov. 14, last.

It is believed his body is at the bottom of the St. Croix river. Mr. Bodeen was 60 years old and in poor health. He has a wife, two daughters and a son, all grown and living on the farm. The family did not get along well together. The sheriff and the police are making investigations. He had a bank account and did a truck garden business. It was learned that a son, Nelson Hughes, a farmer living two miles from this city, in Wisconsin, found a coat and fur cap on the bridge across the St. Croix, one evening after dark in the early winter. In the coat pocket was a purse containing $5 and an envelope with the business card of the Stillwater Creamery company, addressed to J. Bodeen. A couple of grocery bills were also found in the pocket.

The Nelson boy was on his way home when he found the articles. He has admitted that he had found them. A son of Mr. Bodeen took the coat home to be further identified by the mother. Bodeen lost his life in the St. Croix. It is not likely that the body will be found until the ice goes out in the spring, if it is in the water.

by steam, modernly ventilated and is in every way a modern educational building. A gymnasium reserved by the school board has now been equipped with a gymnasium, the high school boys having formed an athletic club for that purpose and purchased the outfit themselves.

Work on the new school house was begun last summer and the structure was practically completed a little over a month ago.

BRENNAN MURDER TRIAL

Has Commenced in District Court at Hastings, Minn.

Hastings, Minn., Jan. 28.—The trial of Michael Brennan and Michael Nolan Brennan, indicted for murder in the first degree for the killing of Anthony Brennan at Lakeville on Aug. 27, has opened here before Judge J. M. Crosby. The old panel of the petit jury was recalled, and as many jurors as possible will be secured from it. A special venire for additional jurors will also be issued.

Anthony Brennan was a well-known farmer, and the shooting was the result of a quarrel over the disputed boundary line between the farms of Michael Nolan Brennan, father of Michael Brennan, and the murdered man.

While plowing in the field, Anthony Brennan was ordered to get off the line. Arguments followed, and the young man, Michael Brennan, fired his rifle at the law with a wooden paddle by Anthony Brennan. He immediately drew a revolver and shot Anthony Brennan through the stomach. Michael Brennan, his father, Michael Nolan Brennan, held an accomplice.

SPRING TRADE OUTLOOK

Among Pine Lumbermen of Northwest is Reported Good.

Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 28.—The amount of pine lumber in the hands of the lumbermen of the northwest is reported to be better than the average of the past few years. The association of pine lumbermen in the states of Minnesota, Wisconsin and Iowa, and the First National Bank of Minneapolis, which is the financial center of the lumber trade in the northwest, has been reduced materially by the financial stringency in 1907. They were 10 per cent less than in 1906.

J. E. Rhodes said that logging operations had been so greatly interrupted by the open winter that the output of logs in 1907 was 33 per cent less than usual. The prospect for the spring trade was declared to be bright.

CONSCIENCE SMITTEN.

Iowan, Who Bent Railroad Three Years Ago, Remits Money.

Brainerd, Minn., Jan. 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Supt. W. H. Strachan of the Minnesota & International has received a letter which he says is the first of the kind he ever saw in his long experience in railroading. It was written by a man named John De Moines, Iowa, and enclosed $5 to pay the railroad company for fare from Brainerd to the city of Minneapolis.

Strachan said he got through misrepresentation. In 1905, when the company was building the extension from Northome to Big Falls, the writer went to Mr. Strachan and, claiming to be a laborer who wanted to go up to work for the company, he secured a pass to Northome, but instead of going to that place he stopped at Tenstrike. He has since experienced religion and desired to make right the wrong he had done the company and so sent the money. Mr. Strachan states that the fare to Tenstrike is only $3.94 and Mr. Strachan will return the surplus to the sender of the letter.

HUMAN CHAIN SAVES

Two Sixteen-Year-Old Escanaba Boys From a Watery Grave.

Escanaba, Mich., Jan. 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Only by the heroic action of four boys, all under 16, was George Gray saved from drowning, while Gray himself was attempting to rescue a companion who had broken through the ice. When Gray fell into a hole while racing to rescue Walter Martin, thrown into the open water from an ice boat, the four boys ran from the shore and forming a chain with their bodies, reached the would-be rescuer as he was going down for the third time. Gray was pulled out unconscious and the boys then went to the rescue of Martin, clinging to the ice boat in the water. The human chain was again formed and Martin was pulled to safety.

HANCOCK THIS YEAR

Will Entertain St. Jean Baptiste Societies of Houghton County.

Hancock, Mich., Jan. 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—The annual reunion of the St. Jean Baptiste societies of Houghton county will be held this year in Hancock on June 24, and it is expected that a speaker of prominence from Canada will be secured to deliver an address on that occasion. The members of the local society are planning a banquet to be held on Feb. 22 in honor of the conclusion of a membership contest, which has resulted in adding 181 new members, bringing the total membership at present to 450. The banquet will be for members, their families and friends, and will be held in Germania hall, and the winners in the recent contest will be waited on by the losers.

KELLHERR'S NEW HALL.

Kellher, Minn., Jan. 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—The work of constructing Kellher's handsome city hall was this week completed. Contractor Brady finishing up the work yesterday. The new structure is a credit to the village, and would be any city of greater pretensions. The building is the only brick structure in Kellher.

Butte & Superior Will Spend Money on Development.

Share Market is Dull and Prices Are Lower.

Dispatches from Butte are to the effect that the Butte & Superior Copper company has executed a mortgage bond to the First National bank of that city to secure a loan of $500,000.

The money will be used in the development of the company's property, which consists of thirteen claims in the heart of the Butte camp.

The copper stock market became dull and prices easier at the close today. There was good buying of some of the leading issues during the early part of the session, but later on the list sagged.

"BOB" DUNN COMING.

"Sage of Princeton" May Have Some Fences to Fix.

"Bob" Dunn, former state auditor and unsuccessful candidate for governor four years ago, at the present time editor of the Princeton Union, whose name is linked with the possibilities of gubernatorial timber, will reach Duluth tonight on what is believed to be a political mission.

Rooms have been reserved for Mr. Dunn at the St. Louis. While the precise nature of the trip of the former state auditor is not known at this time, the mention of his name in connection with the coming state political campaign, leads to the surmise that Mr. Dunn's journey to the Head of the Lakes is in connection with matters political.

MINE WORKERS

Continue Discussions in Report of the Resolutions Committee.

Indianapolis, Jan. 29.—The convention of the United Mine Workers of America today continued the discussion of the report of the resolutions committee. The suggestion of President Mitchell that an insurance feature be added with an indemnity of $100 for death or total disability was discussed at length and sent to the committee on constitution to be re-drafted. The convention refused to impose a fine on locals or members for violating contracts with operators.

Grasshopper in Duluth.

Seated jauntily on a head of cauliflower, an actively alive grasshopper, arrived this morning in Duluth from California.

This afternoon quite a little crowd was drawn to the show case in R. H. Rathbun's grocery store, 117 East Superior street, where the little stranger was on exhibition.

It is quite an unusual sight to see a grasshopper alive and kicking in Duluth in the month of January, especially when the thermometer registered 25 degrees below zero early in the morning of that day.

Young Men Sentenced.

The cases against the four young men arrested by the police yesterday, were disposed of this afternoon.

John McDougall, charged with petty larceny, was released under a suspended sentence for sixty days. If his record during that time is all right, no further punishment will be meted out. Charles Alken drew the same deferred sentence for a period of thirty days.

Announcement!

To My Friends and Patrons:

On Feb. 1st, the firm of S. Morterud will be succeeded by The Morterud-Konecny Co., under the management of P. L. Morterud and Math Konecny, who are both well and favorably known, the former having been in my employ continuously since commencing business here in 1887, and the latter having been employed by the Columbia Clothing Co. Store will be closed Thursday and Friday for inventory, and Saturday morning will be open for business under the new management.

I wish to thank all my old friends and customers for their kind patronage during these many years, and would be pleased to see you all continue trading at the old store under the new management, who will do their best to please you.

FIRE SALE

STACK & CO.

21-23 West Superior St.

The unfortunate and destructive fire that visited our establishment on Tuesday afternoon, January 21, for a time threatened to wipe us out of business, and certainly would have done so had it not been for the prompt and efficient action of the City Fire Department. Since then we have been busily engaged in clearing away wreckage. Adjusting our losses, rearranging and remarking stock preparatory to

The Greatest Fire Sale Duluth Has Ever Known

Besides our general winter lines including Cloaks, Furs, Underwear, Blankets, Shoes, Millinery, Hosiery, Comforts, Wool Dress Goods, Silks, Linens, etc., will also be included many new Spring goods amounting to over $8,000 that had arrived and which were to be held in our basement stock room until after inventory, January 31st.

All These New Spring Goods Must Also Be Sacrificed

for it was in the basement the fire originated and raged most fiercely. Many of these goods are in perfect condition, all being held in the original shipping cases until we were ready to open them. Many of course are also badly water soaked and smoked.

But All Will Be Disposed of at Unheard of Prices

In this general announcement it is impossible to adequately convey any real impression of the bargains to be offered, but later announcements will be more definite. While no fire existed in our first and second floors, every article had a heavy smoke damage. In the heavy Winter Cloaks, Furs and Millinery this damage is perhaps the greatest, and while this may not seriously injure those lines of goods for actual wear, we propose to close out every garment before opening our New Spring lines.

DOORS OPEN TOMORROW MORNING, 8:30

Chris Thorpe has left the city under a suspended sentence, and James Walker drew fifteen days in the county jail.

TESTIMONY OF TEACHER

Of Harry Thaw of Vital Importance, Says
Littleton.

Also Letter of Mother
Written Twenty-Five Years Ago.

New York, Jan. 29.—Continuing his argument in the Thaw case, Mr. Littleton dwelt at length upon the testimony of Abraham Beck, the old school teacher from Pennsylvania.

"That testimony would mean something to me if I were sitting on a jury," declared the attorney. "There is no more honorable man in all Pennsylvania than old man Beck. His testimony was all his own—given in his own language—it was no rehearsal when he told you what he did. No power on earth could have induced that honorable old gentleman, now tottering near the other side, to aid in deception, to have a hand in a murder."

"Can such evidence as this be answered to the satisfaction of you gentlemen by the sneers of the district attorney. Let the prosecution, if they have no testimony, say so and forever silence their sneers and insinuations."

Letter of Mother. Mr. Littleton also laid great stress upon the letter Mr. Beck received from Mrs. William Thaw in 1881, when she said she feared the boy's mind was affected and begged the old teacher to bear with him a little longer, for she did not know what to suggest.

"When the mother had appeared here before you and had left the witness stand," Mr. Littleton proceeded, "the district attorney read to you the affidavit she made in a certain proceeding at the last trial. Mr. Jerome sought, I take it, to have you infer that she had in some way contradicted herself or that her testimony was not candid. But, gentlemen, I appeal from that affidavit, made in the pardonable pride of the mother, made in a stress of circumstances, couched in the plethoric vocabulary of the conventional lawyer, written in the tumult of a trial, I appeal from that affidavit and its peculiar construction to this letter of more than twenty-five years ago, written in the mother's own handwriting in no confounding phrases of a lawyer, written at a time when there was no peril but the peril of heredity. I appeal from that affidavit to this letter, which comes fluttering across a span of twenty-five years from the hands of a tottering old man of 70, like a benediction out of the past to interpose itself to save the boy.

Thaw's school days a failure, Mr. Littleton traced his travels through Europe with his parents as a young man, and told again the incidents that the foreign physicians testified to.

Thaw's school days a failure, Mr. Littleton traced his travels through Europe with his parents as a young man, and told again the incidents that the foreign physicians testified to.

Mr. Littleton told of the delicate line that sometimes separates the sound from the unsound mind, and declared that every man has the weight that may some day break his heart; that some day might send his brain crashing toward insanity. Thaw's school days a failure, Mr. Littleton traced his travels through Europe with his parents as a young man, and told again the incidents that the foreign physicians testified to.

MRS. POTTER PALMER HAS MANY RIVALS.

Mrs. Potter Palmer, Chicago's social leader, has many ambitious rivals, says the Delineator. She first asserted her right to her present position in society during the famous fair of 1893.

A world's fair, it will be perceived by now, meant more back in the last century than it means today. At all events, Mrs. Palmer proved her right then to her life crown. She has won it, never arrogantly, but always with the most delicate touch, a gift of the gods which never deserts her, however trying the hour.

In a new state of society, the social arbiter is called upon for the most sudden decisions, which more often than not reach farther than the eyes of man can discern, and Mrs. Palmer has made her full share of them, all distinguished for good sense and for level perceptions. Chicago society women, however, are daring enough to be the one body in the known world to cast the shadow of a doubt on Mrs. Palmer's prestige in her home town.

And since they cannot beat her at her world game, which started far back in 1893, that memorable year when social lines were drawn in Chicago for practically the first time, Chicago women have been attempting to decide the question, at least to put the question to popular vote, by means of charity. It is an odd condition of affairs, something peculiar to Chicago, and it has grown to such proportions that the present winter may see the death blow dealt to the charity fete in Chicago.

COAL STOVES A CURIOSITY. The life of today is so strenuous that we hardly realize that the things which seem commonplace to us would have been beyond belief to our grandfathers, says The Delineator.

Spanning the recollection of people still living, there have been four succeeding eras in which the forces utilized for light and heat have marked time for our progress in domestic economy. On a candle-light world, the kerosene lamp shed its beams in seeming beautiful brilliance. But the kerosene lamp went back to the kitchen-shelf before the gas-jet, and, now this, pales before the electric light. The coal-stove was hailed as the improvement of the age when our forefathers bricked up their fireplaces. Today in the large cities it is a curious relic only occasionally to be found. Tomorrow the gas-stove that has superseded it will have gone to the dump-heap and the electric stove will have been installed instead.

KUBELIK A PEASANT'S SON. Kubelik, the famous violinist, is a living proof that even in Europe merit may carry a man from a peasant's hut into exclusive society, says The Delineator.

Twenty-seven years ago the poor Bohemian market-gardener Kubelik, to whom a son had just been born, would have called insane anybody who prodicted that the baby would live to make ry into the most exclusive aristocracy in Europe. In his part of the world music is the supreme art and it seemed natural that the king of modern violinists should wed Countess Marianne Czaky daughter of one of those ancient Bohemian houses that trace their origin farther back than any other aristocracy in Europe.

Kubelik was but 25 years old at the time of his marriage and the little countess was even younger. They live at Kolin, Bohemia, where the famous violinist has bought a castle, and there they divide their time between music and the care of their twin daughters. If there is anything in the adage that a good son makes a good husband, Mrs. Kubelik should be very happy, for her husband is devoted to his old peasant mother and deeply reveres the memory of his father, who made every sacrifice for his son's musical education. The first money Jan earned by playing he spent in buying a wreath for his father's grave.

Kubelik is making a concert tour in America this winter, and his wife accompanies him.

RELATIVES OF WASHINGTON. Many kindred of George Washington dwell on and about the original Washington plantation in Westmoreland county, Virginia, writes Guy E. Mitchell in the Technical World Magazine.

John Washington of Brighton parish, Northamptonshire, England, came to Virginia in 1657 and bought a farm on the Potomac river between Bridge Creek and Pope's Creek, in what was then Northumberland county, but which long, long ago, became Westmoreland county. He bought the farm from Col. Pope, a great landholder in the early colonial era, and whose daughter, Anne Pope, became the wife of the immigrant, John Washington. These were the great-grand parents of George Washington the Great.

John Washington, through his marriage to Anne Pope, obtained lands outside of the farm purchased by him. The original farm is owned by John E. Wilson, who married Miss Doty Washington, grand daughter of William Augustine Washington, a nephew of George Washington. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson are advanced in years. A score or more of Washingtons live on their ancestral lands and within rifle shot of the spot where George Washington was born.

Some of these people are prosperous farmers and professional men; others are not prosperous. They are all plain and simple folk who have the good will and respect of their neighbors. A peculiar thing about this family, is that all its members have the distinctive Washington features.

EXCEPT. From time immemorial there had been a law in Applegate, County Warwick, England, to the effect that the mayor had the best of everything in town, and for instance, one should say he had the best coat in the place he must add the words, "Except the mayor."

One day a stranger came to Applegate and had dinner there at the landlord's. After saying his bill he said to the landlord: "I've had the best dinner in the country."

The landlord: "Except nothing!" The stranger: "Except nothing!" As a result the tourist was called before the magistrate and fined £10 for his breaking of the laws of the place. When the man had paid his fine, he looked around him and said, slowly: "I'm the biggest fool in town, except the mayor."

Passionate Denunciations of First Trial Were Missing.

Does Not Insist on Verdict of First Degree Murder.

New York, Jan. 30.—Conceding that Harry K. Thaw may have had irrational outbreaks now and then during the thirty-six years of his life, District Attorney William Travers Jerome, in his plea for the conviction of Stanford White's slayer, today declared there was absolutely nothing in the case presented to the jury to show that Thaw was insane the night of the tragedy—that he did not know the nature or quality of his act, or that the act was wrong. The prosecutor followed this, however, by signifying very plainly that he believed justice would be served if the defendant should be found guilty of some lesser degree of criminal responsibility than murder in the first degree. He explained carefully all the elements that entered into a verdict of first degree murder, and then pointed the way to two other possible findings—murder in the second degree, or manslaughter in the first.

Mr. Jerome surprised his hearers today by a striking contrast of his argument with that of a year ago. The vindictiveness was gone, the passionate defense of life was gone, the denunciation of Evelyn Nesbit had no place in his remarks. Instead, there was a calm, analytical presentation of evidence, a concession of possible weakness in the second degree, or manslaughter in the first.

EXAMINERS TAKE CHARGE Of New Amsterdam and Mechanics and Traders Banks.

New York, Jan. 30.—Bank examiners took active charge today of the affairs of the New Amsterdam National bank and the Mechanics & Traders bank, a state institution, both of which closed their doors yesterday. Both of these banks were included in the Morse-Henze-Thomas chain of banks, and after the closing of the Nations bank of North America a few days ago there had been what amounted to runs upon them.

As a result of the closing of the banks several others not in the important class met heretofore withdrawals of deposits this morning. One of these was the Oriental bank, where quite a run of depositors began as soon as the offices were opened today. All depositors were paid promptly and President Hugh Kelly announced that twelve other institutions had offered their aid to the bank and that he expected to withstand the drain.

It is thought the two failures will have no very important effect on the general banking situation. State Superintendent of Banks Williams, who came down from Albany last night to take charge of the Mechanics & Traders bank said today that the general condition of banking institutions in this city is good and that weakness has developed only in special instances.

EDUCATION OF HUSBANDS To Receive More Attention From Evanston Club Women.

Chicago, Jan. 30.—The women of Evanston, who have perspicacity enough to belong to the Woman's club, are going in for intelligent husbands. Of course most of them have husbands already and cannot make any new selections, so they are going to instruct their help-meets with the hope of making them intelligent.

The idea was suggested to them yesterday by Mrs. George F. Shears, who made a speech before the club, entitled "The Chief Duties and Privileges of Members of Women's Clubs," and the women considered it a good one. Mrs. Shears said they should pay less attention to music and art, and more to educating husbands. They should leave the expansion of their own souls and devote their energy, ingenuity and patience to introducing intelligence into the masculine members of the household. She did not make it quite clear whether it was a privilege or a duty to have an educated husband, for that course, depends upon the individual taste of the wife.

The subjects on which husbands might best be instructed for a beginning seemed to be philanthropy and altruism. Instruction, she said, was for the purpose of enabling the men to vote more intelligently and have more culture and refinement at their command. "We have not the right to vote," she said, "but we have the right to our husbands. Music and art have their place in our meetings, but members should inform themselves on philanthropic subjects and work along altruistic lines, and then go home and tell their husbands about it, in order to substantially benefit mankind."

SET FREE IN TEN MINUTES

Jury Acquits Young Girl Who Killed Her Step-father.

Broke His Skull With Stove Poker in Self Defense.

Cadillac, Mich., Jan. 30.—In the circuit court here yesterday afternoon it took a jury just ten minutes to find a verdict of acquittal in favor of a 13-year-old girl charged with manslaughter. Pearl Harper was charged with killing her stepfather, Melvin Thompson. She had been under $4,000 bail since she surrendered herself to the authorities "soon after" the death of Thompson. The latter, it was brought out by the girl's defense had come home intoxicated at night and had threatened to kill both the girl and her mother, the girl breaking his skull with a stove poker when he attempted to carry out his threat. The case was called at 2 o'clock and the verdict was rendered before 4 o'clock.

FOR NATIONAL COMMITTEEMEN

Hot Fight Between North Dakota Stalwarts and Insurgents.

Fargo, N. D., Jan. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—For national committeemen, Alex McKenzie or George E. Winship, that's the question that will be most bitterly fought out between the stalwarts and the insurgents, in an effort to control the state Republican convention, to be held in Minn. May 4, to select delegates to the national Republican convention.

Alex McKenzie is the present committeeman. If the stalwarts control the convention, and the selection of the delegates, McKenzie will be elected to the place again. The insurgents want to control the convention for various reasons. If they are successful, it is claimed that George E. Winship, editor of the Grand Forks Herald, will be the national committeeman. Mr. Winship is, perhaps, the strongest man in the insurgent ranks, and is not a candidate for any other honor.

NEW PLAN OF SUFFRAGISTS

Women Ring Door Bells and Make Addresses in London.

London, Jan. 30.—Having filed to reach King Edward during the ceremonies of the opening of parliament and the house of commons is actively barred against them, the Women's Suffragists of England this morning adopted a new method of protesting against the fact that his majesty, in his speech from the throne made no mention of their demands to be permitted to vote. The militant members of the organization formed themselves into several committees which, at the same hour today, visited the homes of the various members of the cabinet for the purpose of asking them to use their influence to have the question of women's suffrage settled at this session. As none of the ministers would see them, the women demonstrated by ringing door bells and delivering addresses from door steps. The police were unprepared for this course of action, and noisy scenes were witnessed on several of the fashionable thoroughfares of London. The women eventually were dispersed after seven arrests had been made.

THE SOMNAMBULIST STORY WAS A FAKE.

New York, Jan. 30.—On the morning of Jan. 20, there was transmitted through the Associated Press service a special dispatch to the Chicago Tribune from Jackson, Miss. alleging that two expert safe burglars had made a strange confession to the police of Hattiesburg, to the effect that the president of the Hattiesburg bank was a somnambulist and while sleeping in his sleep unconsciously communicated to them the combination of the bank's safe. It now transpired that the story was an invention of some disreputable newspaper correspondent, and that the bank in question is fairly entitled to a correction.

ABERDEEN ALDERMAN

Charged With Being the Receiver of Stolen Coal.

South Dakota Man is Arrested in Minneapolis.

Minneapolis, Jan. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—E. G. Anderson, alderman and prominent citizen of Aberdeen, S. D., was arrested here last night, charged with being a receiver of stolen goods.

Anderson is charged by the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railroad company of purchasing coal which was stolen by employees of the road.

Early last week a switchman, who has sold coal to Anderson, was arrested and released on $500 bail. Then a telegram was sent to Superintendent of Police F. T. Corriston of Minneapolis, asking that he arrest Alderman Anderson in Minneapolis. Detectives at once arrested Anderson at a hotel.

While admitting that he purchased the coal from the switchman, Alderman Anderson states that he did not stop to think where it came from, and he is confident he will be able to set himself right after he reaches home.

TROUBLE IN ARGENTINA

Political Situation in the Republic Remains Unchanged.

Buenos Ayres, Jan. 30.—The political situation, arising from the strained relations between President Alcora and congress, due to the senate and house of deputies refusing to deal with the matters for which they were especially summoned, and to their continuing to sanction the annual budget, a course which was followed by an executive decree closing the congress, remains practically unchanged. There is reason to believe, however, that an overwhelming majority of the people approve the policy of the government.

The government is in readiness to adopt every measure necessary for the maintenance of the law and order and a state of siege throughout the entire republic will be declared on the first sign of an organized subversive movement. President Alcora said today that the government was complete master of the situation and that there was no danger whatever of a disturbance of the established order. Tranquility prevails throughout the whole country.

"Have come to me privately, and told me that he did not dare favor the renewal of the Carpenter Bros' license openly, on account of the strong sentiment in his ward against its renewal, and asked me to support it in the council."—S. F. Staples, Alderman Second Ward.

REFUSES TO INTERFERE

With County Officers in Enforcement of Sunday Laws.

Important Decision by Judge McPherson of U. S. Court.

Kansas City, Jan. 30.—Judge Smith McPherson, in the United States district court here today, handed down a decision declining to interfere with the county officials of this county in the enforcement of the Missouri statute making unnecessary labor on Sundays a misdemeanor.

The decision was in a case of Nance O'Neill, the actress, and the local theater, who sought to permanently enjoin the county grand jury from indicting them. The decision is a victory for Judge William H. Wallace, of the criminal court, who in his campaign against Sunday labor has caused the indictment of two thousand stage folk and the managers as well as hundreds of storekeepers for alleged violation of the Sunday law. All have been required to give heavy bond. None of the cases has come to trial, the theatrical managers, who have furnished the bonds in the various cases, having declined an offer of Judge Wallace to bring about a test case in the lower court.

Permanent Injunction Denied. The complainants last Sunday secured a temporary injunction restraining the judge from indicting them. They sought a permanent injunction, which was today denied by Judge McPherson. The complainants alleged that Judge Wallace personally selected the jury in violation of the law. This Judge Wallace denied.

Judge McPherson, in his decision today, says: "This court expresses no view with reference to the construction to be given to the Sunday statutes of this state. The legislature has the power to enact Sunday statutes; no man of common information questions this. It is a question of policy of the state."

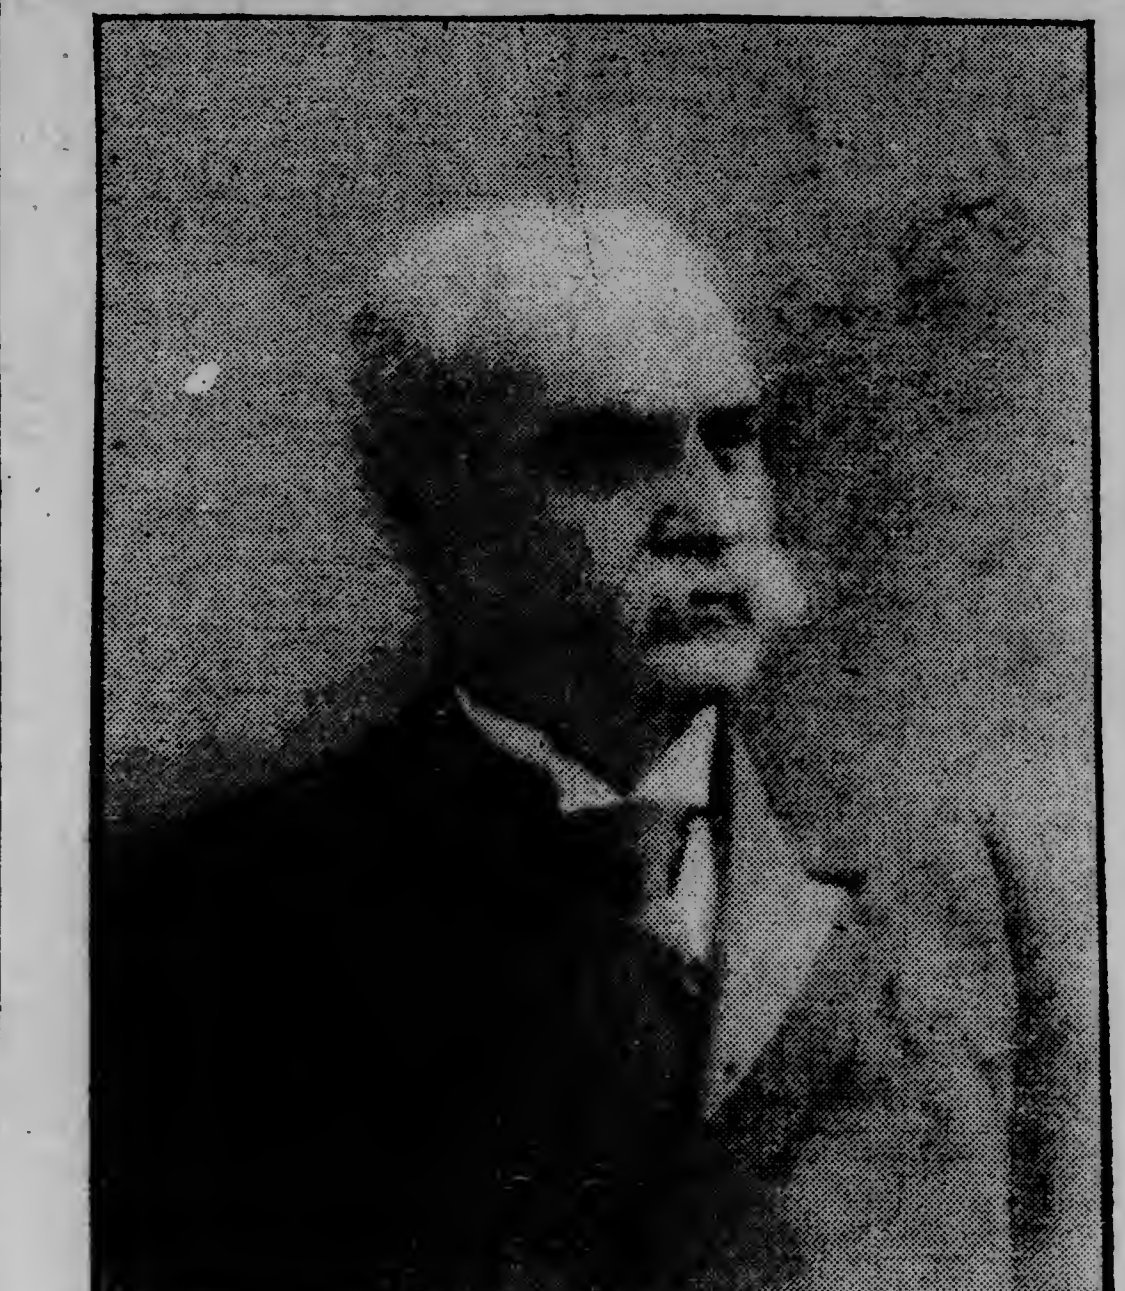

"Whether the criminal code of Jackson county is right or wrong, United States courts cannot, and must not, interfere. The dignity of this court must be maintained, and it cannot be maintained if it undertakes to interfere with local police questions of the state that were properly and exclusively lodged with the states when our government was organized."

Judge McPherson says that the proper course for the complainants is to seek trial in the criminal court, and then make an appeal to the state supreme court, and finally to the supreme court of the United States.

McKINLEY COMING BACK.

Portland, Or., Jan. 30.—The Oregonian today says that George McKinley, convicted of stealing government land and who escaped from this country to the Orient, while awaiting sentence, sailed from Hongkong for Portland, in custody of a detective.

AMENDED FINANCIAL BILL PRESENTED TO THE SENATE

SENATOR N. W. ALDRICH.
Whose Amended Financial Bill Was Presented to the Senate Thursday.

STAR THEORY IS DISPROVED

Two Streams Are Not Moving in Opposite Directions.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 30.—Prof. Lewis Boss of the Dudley observatory, which is supported by the Carnegie fund, announces that he has disproved the theory that there are two streams of stars moving in opposite directions, which theory was recently promulgated by Kapteyn, a famous Dutch astronomer, and generally accepted by astronomers. The Dudley observatory is the only one in the world engaged in the same work as that in which Prof. Kapteyn is engaged, and is mapping all the stars visible to the naked eye and recording their movements as nearly as possible. While the work has been going on only a year and much more remains to be done, Prof. Boss and his assistants say they have gone far enough to be able to positively prove that Kapteyn's theory is untenable. They believe that the mistake was due to the inadequacy of the Dutch professor's equipment.

STAND FOR BOOTBLACK

Which Cost Pennsylvania $1,619.20 Offered in Evidence.

Contractor Paid Man Who Made It But $125.

Harrisburg, Pa., Jan. 30.—The new famous bootblack stand for the senate lavatory, supplied by Contractor John H. Sanderson of Philadelphia, one of the defendants in the state capitol conspiracy suits, on trial in the Dauphin county court, was offered in evidence by the commonwealth today. Sanderson collected $1,619.20 from the state for this stand and paid the subcontractor by whom it was supplied $125. Photographs of the restraints of the senate and house caucus rooms, for which the state paid Sanderson $90,748.80, and for which he paid the subcontractor $2,060, were also offered in evidence.

Fred H. Potter and Howard H. Foehl of the furniture company of New York were called by the commonwealth to establish the measurements of a clothes tree and table produced by the state. All of this furniture was supplied by Sanderson at the rate of $18.40 "per foot," and according to the commonwealth, he was paid for certain articles at a rate of three times the actual measurement.

Different Measurements Used. The commonwealth also offered several bills for furnishings supplied by Sanderson to show that different statements of measurements were employed by the contractor for collecting for articles supplied under the same items in the special capitol furnishing schedule of 1904.

Architect Joseph M. Huston, who has secured a separate trial, has been subpoenaed as a witness for his co-defendants, Former Auditor General Snyder, Former State Treasurer Mathews, James Shumaker, former superintendent of grounds and buildings, and Sanderson, but may not be called. The feeling against the architect on the part of his four co-defendants grows more bitter as the trial proceeds and interesting developments are expected to result. Eyraim Oswald, carpenter for the board of grounds and buildings, who was called by the commonwealth yesterday to identify the furniture offered in evidence and to testify as to the measurement and contractors' tags on each article, was recalled when the trial was resumed today and cross-examined briefly by counsel for the defense, but nothing of importance was brought out.

CHINESE TO BUILD A BIG STEEL PLANT.

New York, Jan. 30.—An enormous steel plant is to be erected at Pankow, China, by a company composed entirely of Chinese capitalists. The construction of the plant is primarily for the purpose of supplying steel for the construction of the various railways in Central and Northern China. It is expected that the plant will become a factor in the general steel trade of the far East. It is estimated that the initial cost of the new plant will be about $5,000,000 and inquiries are being made in America, with a view of placing of orders for the equipment. Plants are also contemplated for Japan and India.

LIVED OVER NINETY YEARS. Fairbault, Minn., Jan. 30.—Mrs. Michael O'Reilly supposed to be the oldest person in the world, is 93 years old and came to this city in 1862. She was a native of Ireland. She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. D. Donohue of this city, and a son, Thomas O'Reilly, Deadwood, S. D.

The Aldrich Measure Changed to Meet Previous Objections.

Right of Issuing Additional Currency Placed With Secretary.

Acceptance of Various Bonds and Obligations is Broadened.

Washington, Jan. 30.—The Aldrich financial bill, which has been in the hands of the committee on finance since its introduction in the senate on Jan. 7, was reported today by Senator Aldrich. The various amendments which have been published from time to time appear in the bill, although in general character the bill remains the same as when introduced. There has been an effort on the part of the committee to emphasize the emergency nature of the act that is proposed, and to this end various amendments are inserted in the bill which are intended to cause speedy issuance of additional currency when a stringency occurs. The following amendment is inserted in the first section of the bill in lieu of the provision which gave the comptroller of the currency power to fix the time and amount of issues, when application is made, according to his judgment and at his convenience: "Must Refer to Secretary."

"The comptroller of the currency shall transmit immediately the application, with his recommendation, to the secretary of the treasury. Who shall, in his judgment, business conditions in the locality demand additional circulation, approve the same, and shall determine the time of issue and fix the amount within the limitations hereinafter imposed, or the additional circulating notes to be issued. In order that the distribution of notes to be issued under the provisions of this act shall be made as equitable as practicable between the various sections of the country, the secretary of the treasury shall not approve applications from associations in any state in excess of the amount to which such state would be entitled of the additional notes herein authorized on the basis of the proportion, which the unimpaired capital and surplus of the national banking associations in such state bears to the total amount of unimpaired capital and surplus of the national banking associations of the United States."

"Provided, however, that in case the applications from associations in any state shall not be equal to the amount which the associations of

ROGERS EASY FOR "RUSSIAN LION"

Hackenschmidt Defeats American Wrestler in Match at London.

London, Jan. 30.—George Hackenschmidt, Russian, defeated J. C. Rogers, American, in the wrestling match here today for the world's championship. Hackenschmidt gained the first two falls. The time of the first fall was 7 minutes, 35 seconds and that of the second 6 minutes and 45 seconds. Hackenschmidt consequently retains the title of champion. The match was under catch-as-catch-can rules, best two out of three falls, with ten minute rest periods allowed between bouts.

REVISION OF TARIFF To be Demanded by the Business Interests of Chicago.

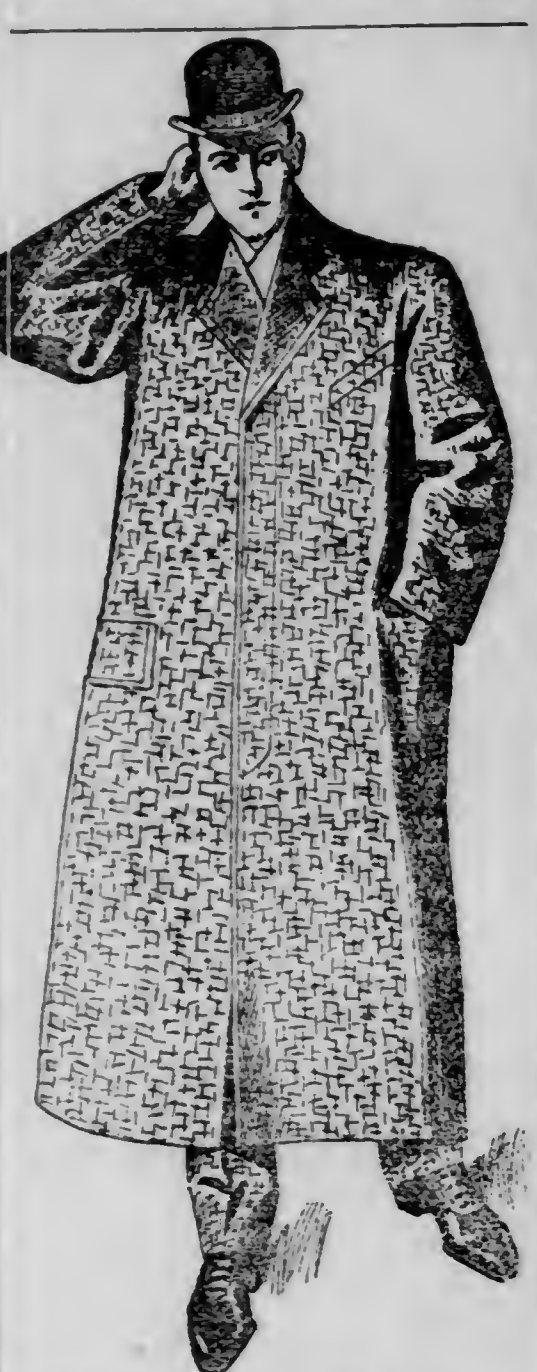

Chicago, Jan. 30.—Chicago business men will be represented at a meeting of commercial interests in Washington next Monday, the purpose of which is to bring pressure on congress to pass the Beveridge bill, creating a special commission to consider means of revising the tariff.

It is pointed out that tariff revision means much to Chicago and the Middle West, and the various commercial bodies will do what they can to bring it about. The delegates will compose the most influential and representative industrial committee ever organized in the country. The committee will call on President Roosevelt, Speaker Cannon, the ways and means committee of the house and the finance committee of the senate, and urge that the Beveridge bill be made a law as quickly as possible.

The committee confidently expects that the Beveridge bill will be passed. If this is the case, the commission will get to work at once and continue every day until the assembling of the next congress, which will be after the next presidential election. Then the result of the commission's study will be put before congress. It will be the aim to revise the tariff strictly from a business standpoint.

Politics will not be considered, and to this end the members of the commission, according to the Beveridge bill, must be chosen for their fitness, and without regard to politics. This is the first concentrated effort by all classes of industrial interests to bring about a revision of the tariff, and there is absolutely no politics back of it.

TO COME UP ON MONDAY, FEB. 10.

Aldrich Financial Bill Will be Discussed Then.

Washington, Jan. 29.—Senator Aldrich today favorably reported his bill providing for an emergency increase in the national bank circulation. The report was made at a meeting of the committee held today at which all the Republican members present voted for a resolution authorizing the reporting of the bill and all the Democrats voted for the Bailey substitute.

Senator Henshaw, who favors a central bank scheme was not present and his vote was unrecorded. The only Democrats in attendance were Senators Teller, Bailey and Daniels. Senator Teller, who is absent in Florida was recorded as having voted for the bill on Monday, Feb. 10.

Mr. Aldrich said he made this announcement as the time so that senators might have ample opportunity to prepare for the discussion of the bill. He said that the committee had under consideration some amendments to the bill relating to railroad bonds and probably would suggest them at a later day. He explained that the bill was the bill of the majority of the committee and that members of the minority might have a substitute to offer later. He also added that his correspondence with the interstate commerce commission upon the subject of railroad securities would be presented as a document. Mr. Bailey said that if the committee proposed to submit a written report on the bill he wished to reserve the right on behalf of the minority of the committee to do the same himself.

Mr. Aldrich replied that it had not been customary to submit written reports in such cases but he expected to explain the measure on behalf of the committee. In that case Mr. Bailey said it would not be necessary to reserve the right of the report.

APPEAL IS REJECTED.
Pavia, Jan. 29.—The superior court today rejected the appeal from the finding of the lower court by Mrs. McBride, better known as Maud, the "Irish Joan of Arc," who sued her husband, Maj. McBride for an absolute divorce. The legal separation decreed by the lower court was confirmed by the superior court.

Bills Introduced in Congress by Representative Stafford.

Incorporate Ideas of Maj. Judson to Relieve Situation.

FROM THE HERALD WASHINGTON BUREAU

Washington, Jan. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Maj. Judson, United States engineer, during a recent visit to Washington, called attention to numerous aids to navigation on Lake Michigan, which should be provided for. Among others of the members of the house with whom Maj. Judson talked upon the various projects, was Representative Stafford of Milwaukee, and he today introduced four bills incorporating the ideas of Maj. Judson, to relieve the situation.

The bills prepared and introduced by Representative Stafford follow: To authorize the establishment of a gas buoy with fog signal attachment on or near Garden Island shoal, at a total cost not to exceed $7,500; to authorize the establishment of a light and fog signal ship on or near the south-east shoals off North Manitou island, at a total cost for construction of such apparatus and machinery at not to exceed $50,000; to authorize the establishment of a fog signal at Grand Point, Alameda, at a cost not to exceed $1,000; to establish a light and fog signal on Lansing shoal, at a cost not to exceed $250,000.

UNIQUE AND INTERESTING

Actual Business Department at Duluth Business University.

A visit to the Duluth Business University will convince any one of the practicability of the instruction given by this modern business college. Over one hundred students are now at work in the Business Exchange Department, each one having his or her own set of books to keep, and practical work to do in preparing almost every known kind of business transaction, involving the drawing of all kinds of Commercial papers. The Exchange has a Jobbing House, a Wholesale House, a Commission House and a Bank. In the latter college currency is used, which more resembles the thing of business than any other. The books in the bank are patterned after those of the Federal Reserve Bank. Each officer of the bank from collection clerk to president is responsible for the strict performance of his duties, and the work done on these books as well as on those in the other houses would compare very favorably in point of neatness and correctness with what may be found in regular business houses. The teachers in charge check every paper that passes through the students' hands and insist on accuracy and neatness. The officers are supplied with the most modern devices, such as loose-leaf ledgers, card index systems, filing cabinets, etc. The student who gets a high grade in the college is fortunate as he finds therein an opportunity to learn in a short time all about modern business methods, and it would ordinarily take years of office experience to acquire.

Will Try Blind Pig Cases.
The criminal calendar for the present term of the district court is now pretty well cleaned up. The superior court, which County Attorney Norton has some twenty or twenty-five to prosecute unless the defendants decide to enter pleas of guilty to the charge of selling liquor without license. The last grand jury returned a large number of indictments against range people accused of running a blind pig.

Two Men Found Insane.
Two men were examined for insanity in the probate court yesterday and were committed to the state hospital at Pergus Falls. Frank Babcock was found to be insane from the excessive use of alcohol. He is a family man residing at 708 East Third street, John Elberg, a resident of Virginia was found to be insane from the same cause. He is a carpenter and resides at 1000 West Second street. He was examined by two question during the time he was examined and his answers were vague.

Hardship on Carriers.
Undue hardship is imposed on the rural carriers by the practice of some patrons of free delivery in placing loose coins in their boxes every time they desire to dispatch letters. Instead of putting stamps on the letters. This is a great inconvenience to carriers, and Postmaster Eaton requests that the practice be done away with wherever possible. He says that when a letter is placed in a box it should be placed in the box to receive the letter.

Sues for His Wages.
John Young has sued the Wheeler Lumber company for $50.00, which he alleges under an alleged contract to get out timber. Mr. Young claims that he was paid for the amount claimed, and that the same he is on the timber. He is represented by S. H. Eckman.

Sues on Alleged Note.
John H. Jacobs has started a suit in the district court against A. R. Merritt and John McKinley to recover $2,000 and interest on a promissory note alleged to have been executed by the defendants April 22, 1904, and payable in four months. Jacques & Hudson represent the plaintiff.

Quick Work Done.

Reno on Trial.
The trial of Henry Reno, charged with grand larceny in the second degree, began in the district court this afternoon. Reno is charged with stealing two treasurers' certificates of the Northern Pacific railroad, valued at $60.

Coal Dealers Busy.
The cold snap is keeping the coal dealers on the move. Business has been slack with them for several months. It has been booming in the past few days. Many people invariably wait until their coal is all used before they order more, and when they run out of fuel during a spell of weather like this, it starts them looking for coal.

The long indoor life of winter makes the blood weak, and the system easily catches colds and diseases. Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea is the greatest winter remedy; prevents colds and disease, keeps you well all winter. 35 cents. Tea or Tablets. Ask your druggist.

DOG LIKES RESTAURANT.

Employees Find It Hard to Eject Big Newfoundland.

A big, black Newfoundland dog, with a placid temperament and a desire for rest and warmth from the biting cold, in some manner gained entry into the restaurant of the Hotel, and refused to leave, despite the strenuous entreaties of the employees.

Finally, a succulent piece of ham was held as a bait in front of the canine's nose, and by this means he was led from the restaurant out into the cold of the street.

No charge was rung up for the means of ousting the uninvited patron.

Seeks a Divorce.
Charging cruel and inhuman treatment and making other sensational allegations, Doris L. Sever, aged 32 years, has instituted divorce proceedings against her husband, Theodore L. Sever. She is represented by Alexander Marshall. Judge Dible has issued an order restraining La Sever from interfering with the proceedings in any way during the trial of the action. She keeps a boarding house, supporting herself in this way.

RIGHT.
Tell If You Know a Good Thing.

When a man finds the true food value of a preparation like Grape-Nuts, it is no more than neighborly to tell it to others.

"I should feel responsible to a degree," writes an Ohio man, "for much human suffering were I to withhold from others the knowledge of the benefits I have personally derived from the use of Grape-Nuts as an article of food. Two years ago I began to feel a general tendency to collapse—had frequent bilious attacks, was troubled with constipation and vertigo, also with a tendency to head, causing temporary blindness.

"Liver and stomach in bad condition, appetite and sleep became very irregular, memory began to slip away, legs became shaky, and I found it necessary to use both hands in drinking from a cup.

"Previous to this time I was in the habit of eating all I wanted of whatever was set before me. When the trouble came, I tried medicine without help, but I gradually grew so weak I had to give up a lucrative government position.

BRYAN ON PUBLICITY

Says Contributions for Campaign Purposes Should be Known.

When Men Resort to Secrecy They Have Something to Gain.

Washington, Jan. 30.—"An election is a public affair and participation in politics is a civic duty. All arguments used in elections should be used publicly and all measures employed to secure the election of or to defeat a candidate should be means which the one using them would not be ashamed to have the world know."

The spokesman of the view of William J. Bryan on this subject on publicity of campaign contributions as expressed today before the house committee on election of president and vice president.

The meeting was called for the special purpose of hearing Mr. Bryan and in addition to the full membership, there were present Perry Belmont and Samuel Gompers and other labor leaders.

Mr. Bryan said that he did not want the world to know, or that he distrusts the intelligence or patriotism of the people.

Mr. Bryan insisted that the most important thing to be done was to make the public know the truth about the campaign. He said that he did not want the world to know, or that he distrusts the intelligence or patriotism of the people.

It is very easy to change the committee and the person at the organ of the campaign, he said, "and then make scapegoats of those who had been in charge of the election."

No Objection to Contributions.
Mr. Bryan declared that there could be no objection to any one making a campaign contribution, if that contribution represented his patriotic interests in a public cause. It was the duty of the government to publish the names of those who contributed to the campaign.

Mr. Bryan, however, voiced his opposition to the principle of allowing any one to contribute to the campaign. He said that he did not want the world to know, or that he distrusts the intelligence or patriotism of the people.

A little discontent may be the harbinger of content itself. If your discontent makes you hostile and adverse to your cause, it will prove to be true in your case.

THE PEOPLE'S CHOICE.
Senator La Follette was talking in the Senate today about the "people's choice." He said that he did not want the world to know, or that he distrusts the intelligence or patriotism of the people.

Mr. Bryan, however, voiced his opposition to the principle of allowing any one to contribute to the campaign. He said that he did not want the world to know, or that he distrusts the intelligence or patriotism of the people.

Application has been made in Maine and this city for the appointment of a receiver for the Consolidated Steamship company. A report of the bondholders' protective committee said that the suits have been brought by creditors, who are not unfriendly to the company, and that it is believed a receiver will best protect the security holders and other interests concerned. It is also believed that the proceedings do not affect the Clyde, Mallory, New York and Porto Rico, or New York and Cuba lines, the resources of which are considered to be ample. The lines affected principally are the Metropolitan and Eastern Steamship company.

New Yorkers Believe Thaw Jury Will Fail to Reach Agreement.

W. E. Slater of New York, at the Spalding, says that the opinion of New Yorkers is that the Thaw jury will not reach an agreement. He says that though Littleton has fought hard and put up a magnificent defense, the opinion seems to prevail that both sides have too much evidence pointing both to temporary insanity and premeditated murder, and that it will be impossible to get twelve men to come to an agreement on the case.

Mr. Slater says that the case lacks the interest of the first trial. The shutting out of the general public has done much to curb the interest of those morbid sensation seekers. It is thought in New York.

"Sun Dogs" Are Seen.

"Sun dogs" were prominently basked in the warm rays of Old Sol today. People, who took occasion to brave the strong reflection of his solar orb saw several of them, within a few degrees of the sun, taking advantage of the shelter of the corners made by the intersection of solar halos.

According to Observer Richardson sun dogs are not very uncommon, although they are not seen by everybody, nor do they occur so often that their observance by a layman is not worthy of comment. They are luminous spots, occurring within a few degrees of the sun, and occur in connection with solar halos. They form at the intersections of the solar halo, and are of considerable brilliancy.

Dubruel-Poirier.

At a very attractive wedding Tuesday morning the St. Joseph's church, Miss Bertha L. Dubruel became the bride of Charles W. Poirier. The ceremony was performed at 9 o'clock.

The bride, who carried a bouquet of cream-colored roses, and a groom in a cream silk topin over silk and was prettily veiled in tulle.

Miss Bertha L. Dubruel of Superior accompanied the bride as bridesmaid. She wore a white mill dress trimmed with lace and her flowers were pink carnations.

Omer F. Dubruel acted as best man. After the wedding the company of forty guests went to the home of the bride, 130 East Third street. The house was delightfully decorated in red and white. Breakfast was served there.

THE PAINTER'S WAY.
Mark Twain, a dinner in New York, talked about the trouble of housekeeping. Referring to the painter's way, he said: "If you are a housekeeper, I don't need to tell you that when a painter has taken up the painter's carpet, removed the furniture from the dining room, leaned two ladders against the hall mantel, and stacked a half-dozen variegated cans of paint on the sideboard, it means he is now ready to paint the outside shutters and the back fence."

HOW TO KNOW GOOD BEEF.
Too much care cannot be exercised in the selection of meats, says the Delineator. The following will help the housekeeper in recognizing good beef. The meat of beef should be neither too red nor too pale, and the fat should be slightly tinged with yellow. Gristle between the last and the lean shows that the animal was old.

The best beef has little streaks of fat running through the lean. It should be firm to the touch and adhere firmly to the bones it contains. It has very little odor, and that not disagreeable. It does not become moist on keeping, and when cooked does not shrink. For roasting purposes tendons parts should be avoided, as they become hard and bony when cooked, unless stewed or used for soup.

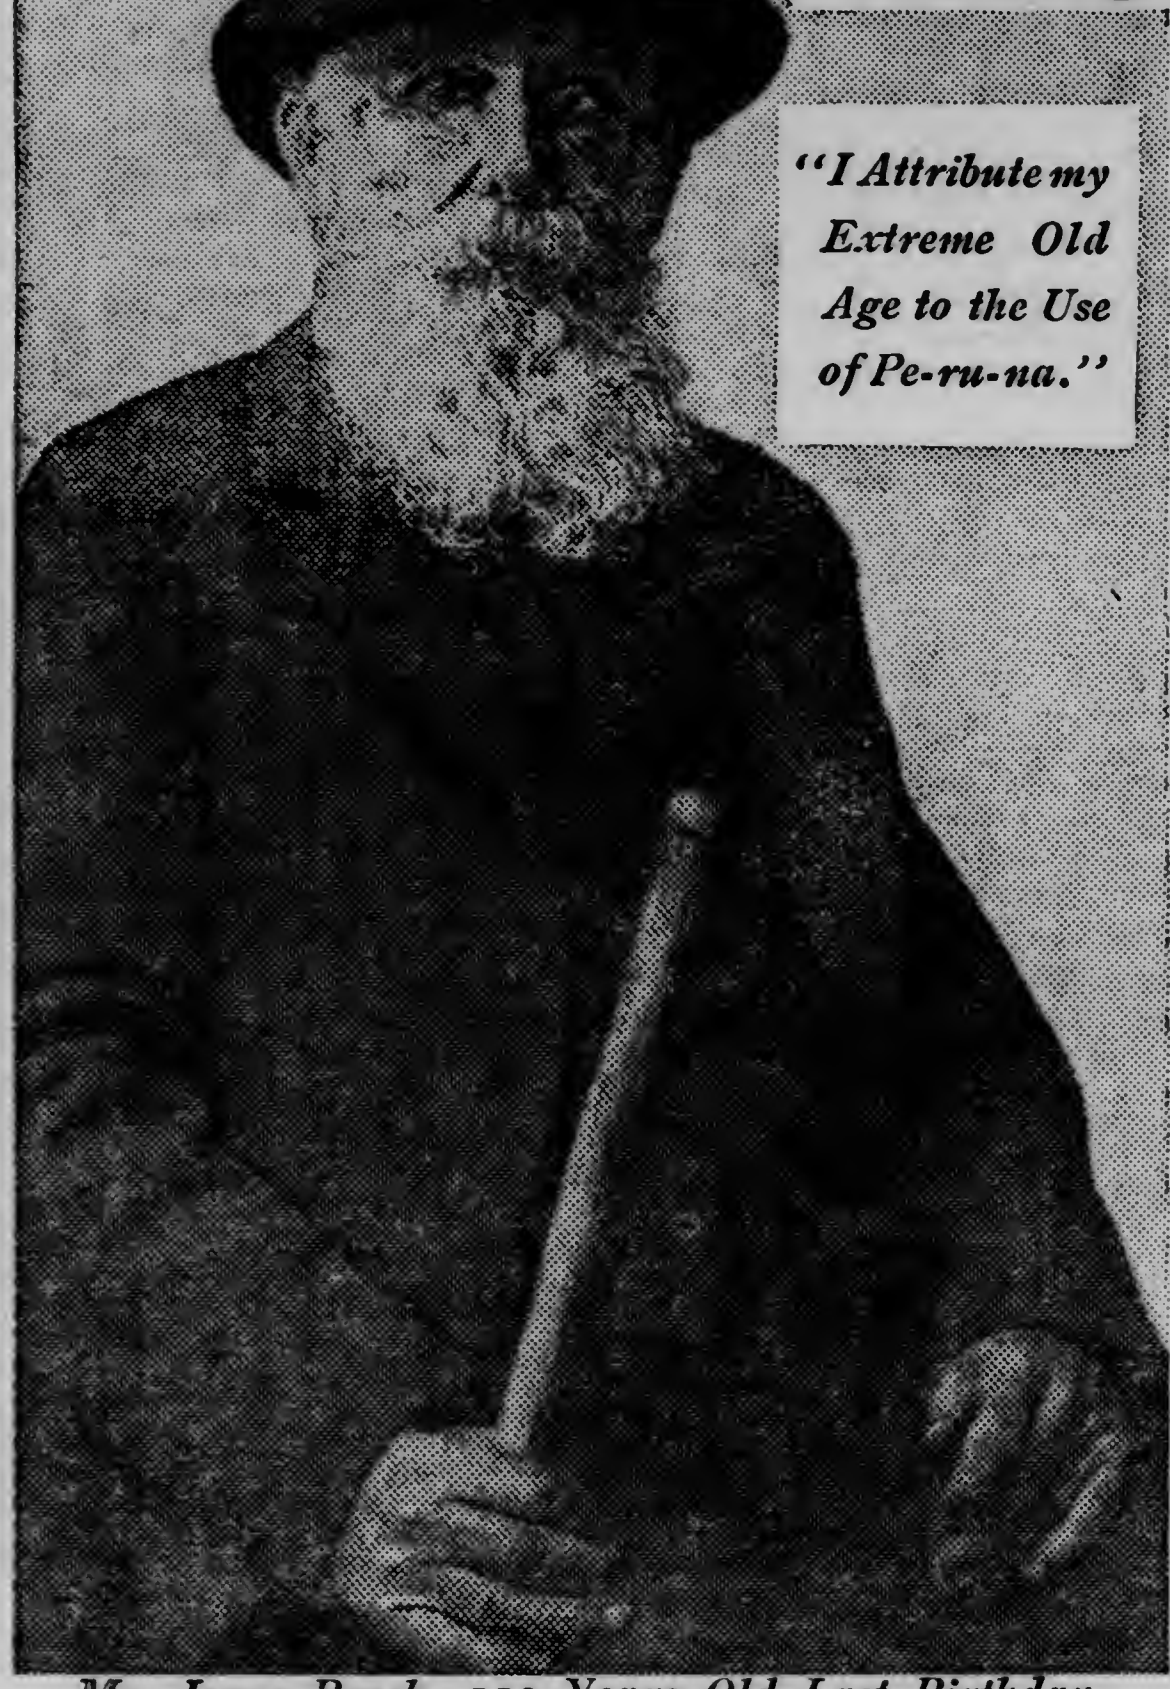

A HANDY IRON CLEANER.
You can make a very practical little contrivance for use on ironing day, says the Delineator. It consists of a block of wood about five inches square. Five holes are bored in this block and filled with beeswax. These are covered with a piece of muslin. The other side of the block is covered with emery cloth. The emery side of the block is used to rub the iron on if the starch sticks, and the wax side gives the iron smoothness.

THE OLDEST MAN IN AMERICA

Escaped the Terrors of Many Winters By Using Pe-ru-na.

"I Attribute my Extreme Old Age to the Use of Pe-ru-na."

In speaking of his good health and extreme old age, Mr. Brock says: "After a man has lived in the world as long as I have, he ought to have found out a great many things by experience. I think I have done so."

"One of the things I have found out to my entire satisfaction is the proper thing for ailments that are due directly to the effects of the climate. For 119 years I have withstood the changeable climate of the United States."

"I have always been a very healthy man, but, of course, subject to the ailments which are due to sudden changes in the climate and temperature."

"As for Dr. Hartman's remedy, Pe-ru-na, I have found it to be the best, if not the only reliable remedy for the ailments. It has been my standby for many years, and I attribute my good health and extreme old age to this remedy."

"It exactly meets all my requirements. It protects me from the evil effects of sudden changes; it gives me strength; it keeps my blood in good circulation. I have come to rely upon it almost entirely for the little things for which I need medicine."

"When I was a child, a gripe first began to make their appearance in this country. I was a sufferer from this disease."

"I had several long stages with the gripe. At first I did not know that Pe-ru-na was a remedy for this disease. When I heard that la gripe was epidemic catarrh I tried Pe-ru-na for la gripe and found it to be just the thing."

In a later letter, Mr. Brock writes: "I am well and feeling as well as I have for years. I would not be without Pe-ru-na."

Yours truly,
Isaac Brock,

Mr. Isaac Brock, 119 Years Old Last Birthday.

ISAAC BROCK, a citizen of McLennan county, Texas, has lived for 119 years. For many years he resided at Bosque Falls, eighteen miles west of Waco, but now lives with his son-in-law at Valley Mills, Texas.

MORMONS LYING LOW

W. T. Edmunds Says That They Practice Polygamy in Secret.

Church Party Was Overthrown at Last Municipal Election.

The Mormons are really not the whole flock display out in Salt Lake city; they are just the tissue paper trimmings that decorate the pots that hold the real doctrine, says W. T. Edmunds, at the Lenox.

Americans and others believing in single connubial bliss and domestic felicity achieved a notoriety at the last municipal election in the Mormon city, and have really usurped the power from those holding that the Mormon church should rule the city and state, says Mr. Edmunds.

Mr. Edmunds doesn't say that the Mormon power is on the wane in Utah; he says that Mormon influence is working less openly than it was before the government took a hand in prosecuting those practicing plural marriage. They are still marrying in couples and trios, but they have to be careful lest they are made to suffer the consequences of their past pocket emulation of the one-time leader, Brigham Young.

Joseph Smith still exerts a powerful influence over the state. The church is supreme in Utah. The practice of polygamy is encouraged and members of the Mormon church are its most staunch advocates. But the Americans of Salt Lake City have taken things into their own hands, and those holding to the view of plural marriage and the views of the church on this subject have been ousted from their control of municipal power.

Mr. Edmunds says that the political machinery is controlled by the church. If you are only close enough to the powers that be, this is outside of the municipal power of the city. So intervention is the power of the church with the bench and law-making body that it is extremely difficult to get rid of.

LIBEL CASE IS ON TRIAL

A. J. Gurtin Wants $10,000 Damages From Local Attorney.

Evidence is Likely to be of a Sensational Nature.

The trial of the $10,000 damage case of Alexander J. Gurtin against A. E. McManus, a well known local attorney, for defamation of character by charges in a civil suit started against the plaintiff some time ago, was started in Judge Dibble's room this morning.

Owing to a scarcity of jurors the drawing of the jury for the Gurtin case was not completed up to the noon recess, but it was expected that the twelve men who will try the case, would be selected early this afternoon.

Mr. Gurtin is represented by Davis & Hollister, and Mr. McManus, who is trying his own case, has practically the entire bar of St. Louis county as counsel.

The case against Mr. McManus is the outcome of a civil suit instituted by William Rock, as guardian of Matilda Hinckley, a 15-year-old girl, against Mr. Gurtin for $10,000 damages. It was charged in the complaint that Gurtin had defamed the girl.

The action never came to trial.

Mr. Gurtin now sues Mr. McManus for damages for the alleged false, malicious and defamatory charges said to have been made in the complaint and reply.

Mr. McManus makes a general denial to other of the charges made by Gurtin, and alleges that the statements made in the complaint were made in good faith without malicious intent. Mr. McManus denies that the charges alleged were untrue.

The trial is expected to take a more or less sensational turn in view of the strong charges that have been made in the complaint and the fact that Mr. McManus dismissed the Hinckley case and broke off with Rock some time before Gurtin began his suit for damages.

COLLAPSE OF MRS. McDONALD

Causes Delay of Fifteen Minutes in Proceedings of Court.

Chicago, Jan. 30.—The first witness today in the trial of Mrs. Doris McDonald for the murder of Webster S. Guerin was Policeman John Doherty, who told of finding one of the bullets from the revolver held by Mrs. McDonald at the time of her arrest, in the desk of Guerin. On cross-examination, the defense demanded to know why he had carried the bullet in his pocket for ten months without saying anything about it. Doherty explained that he had been upset mentally because of illness in his family and had forgotten all about the bullet. Mrs. McDonald collapsed just as Doherty took the stand, and it was necessary to adjourn court until physicians had administered restoratives. The trial was delayed fifteen minutes.

TALKED TO THE JURY

Joseph Garner, Alleged Forger, is Finally Shut Off.

Claims That He Was Guileless Dupe of Gordon.

James Bell, alias J. Blake, alias Joseph Garner, was this morning on the charge of forgery in the second degree. It is claimed that he attempted to pass a forged time check of the lumber company. Learning that the check was a bogus one, the intended victim notified the police, and Bell was taken into custody.

On the witness stand this morning, Bell testified that his true name is Joseph Garner, and that he was formerly manager of a large mercantile establishment in Manchester, Eng. He claimed that he was a receiver of thirty pounds of sugar that a customer failed to return, one day, and that, following a difficulty with his employer, he was arrested for stealing the sugar, and served a 30-day term in the workhouse. The defendant claimed that he changed his name for fear the disgrace of his imprisonment would follow him.

Bell, or Garner, is one of the oddest characters that has been tried on a criminal charge in the district court in some time. He insisted on talking to the jury, in spite of the objections of the county attorney, and the attempts of his own attorney, Capt. Tamm, to shut him off. His counsel had to interrupt him sharply by Garner's subsided.

The defendant has a strong cockney accent, and his recital was listened to with some amusement by the jury, particularly as the matters were regarded as "highly important" had little bearing on his own guilt or innocence.

Garner put up a strong front of guileless innocence and maintained that he had been taken in by a party called G. Gordon, his companion, who pleaded guilty to the same charge. The defendant maintained that he had no idea he was doing wrong by indorsing the name of J. Blake to the time check, in fact, he thought the paper had already been indorsed.

Garner admitted during his cross-examination that he got out of the village of Niagara Falls, N. Y., under circumstances somewhat similar to the Manchester affair.

Although more bogus time checks in the same handwriting as the one he attempted to pass were found tucked under the cushion of the patrol wagon after he was taken to the station, Garner claimed that he knew absolutely nothing about them, that they must have been placed there by Gordon. The evidence showed Gordon was never near the patrol wagon.

The state finished its case this morning and the defense rested shortly before noon. The arguments will be completed and the case will be in the hands of the jury before this evening.

LOUIS XIV'S BUTTONS.

Sartorial Art Journal: Twenty thousand dollars for a loop-shaped pearl scarf pin, $15,000 for a pearl stud, $4,900 for a coat fastener formed of a white button pearl with a gold bar, $50 for seven buttons en suite and $750 for a pair of brilliant sleeve links—these are a few of the prices realized at the recent London sale of a noble marquis' jewelry.

But after all, everything is comparative, and the marquis' gems, rare and costly though they are, would have been quite eclipsed by Louis XIV's personal jewelry. He paused and smiled.

"But let me tell you," he said, "an incident that befell Miss Vanderbilt last year. There was a children's hospital which she visited regularly, bringing fruit and flowers to the little patients, and in a certain ward a boy was pointed out to her one day as a very bad case."

"Oh, who is incorrigible," sighed the nurse.

"Miss Vanderbilt talked a while with the little chap, and when she rose to go he said:

"See here, I have heard bad reports about you. Now I want you to promise me to be good. If you are good for a whole week, I'll give you a dollar when I come again next Thursday."

"I shall not ask the nurses how you have behaved this last week. I want you to tell me yourself. Now, what do you think do you deserve that dollar I promised you?"

"The boy regarded Miss Vanderbilt with a troubled frown. Then he said in a low voice:

"Gimme a nickel."

"The boy promised to try to be good. This promise though, he did not keep. On her next visit Miss Vanderbilt, going to him, said:

"I shall not ask the nurses how you have behaved this last week. I want you to tell me yourself. Now, what do you think do you deserve that dollar I promised you?"

"The boy regarded Miss Vanderbilt with a troubled frown. Then he said in a low voice:

"Gimme a nickel."

EMPEROR WILLIAM'S TALISMAN.

Westminster Gazette: It is interesting to learn that the Kaiser has brought to England the famous Hohenzoellern talisman, which, for centuries has been credited with a supernatural power to protect its wearer from harm of any kind.

This important talisman, a massive gold ring with a square, dark colored stone, which the emperor is said to wear on the middle finger of his left hand, has a highly romantic history, dating from the far off days when his ancestors, the Marquis of Nuremberg, followed their leaders to the capture of the Holy Sepulchre from the Moslems.

The ring, which was captured in a hard fought battle under the walls of Jerusalem, came into the possession of Margraf Ulrich, from whom it has descended to his successors, generation after generation, as a highly prized heirloom.

The sentence from the Koran which adorned the ring when worn by Saladin and his successors has been removed and a Latin cross engraved in its place.

WHAT A FURRED TONGUE INDICATES

When the tongue is coated, looks yellow, brown or cracked, there is something wrong with the stomach or liver, and you need Beecham's Pills. Wherever the trouble is located, Beecham's pills will find it, and will quickly put it to rights.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

KEYMEN DO NOT ACCEPT

First Plan for Readjusting Wages Offered by Northern Pacific.

Claim It Would Deprive Them of All Their Rights.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Representatives of the railroad telegraphers on the Northern Pacific are in St. Paul conferring with General Manager George T. Slade and other officials regarding a general readjustment of salaries schedules and working conditions to be made when the federal law providing for a nine-hour day for railroad employees goes into effect.

The general board of the Northern Pacific division of the railroad telegraphers and composed of the fourteen division chairmen, and Sam Johnson, general chairman, has held one joint meeting with the railroad officials at which a plan for readjustment was presented by the railroad.

This plan proved unsatisfactory to the men, and they will submit a scheme of their own at a late date. Said an operator:

"It was proposed to make a reduction of 20 per cent in our salaries, but this was not so important as some of the changes in working rules. The proposed plan would do away with the seniority rule that is, those men who have been the longest in the service should be given preference in promotion. While this rule is not laid down in black and white, it is generally followed.

"Telegraphers might also be required to scrub stations and clean platforms under the proposed arrangement. If we had accepted it, it would have gone back to the day when we had no voice in working conditions."

DRIFT WITH ICE UPON SUPERIOR

Two Lumberjacks Nearly Freeze to Death Off Bayfield.

Bayfield, Wis., Jan. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Two lumberjacks, who decided to row in from the camp on Presque Isle, got into a boat and set out for a twelve-mile row to Superior. The channel between Wilson Island and Presque Isle with little trouble, and while crossing the channel they ran into a lot of thin ice which hindered their progress. After working for some time trying to make headway, they decided to return to the camp.

A strong wind came up in the morning and jammed the ice against the shore. One of the men had two suit cases and the other had a sack in which he carried his clothes. Their clothes were the only thing in sight in the line of fuel, so they made a fire in a pall which they used for heating. When all their clothes were burned, they were nearly frozen. In this way they managed to keep from freezing until the ice was made strong enough for them to walk on the camp nearly exhausted.

POSTMASTER HAS GONE TO CANADA

Norway Stamp Seller Flees to Escape Law and Mob.

Norway, Mich., Jan. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Charged with criminally assaulting a 14-year-old girl, a dealer in stamps, postmaster here and a married man with several children, has fled to Canada to escape the punishment of the law and perhaps the vengeance of a mob.

A warrant was issued for his arrest, but he got wind of it and escaped to Canada. The affair is creating a tremendous sensation in this region, as Simpson has been postmaster at Norway for many years and was a prominent politician. His brother is proprietor of

SIMPLE WASH CURES ECZEMA.

Itching, Burning Skin Disease Routled Without Use of Injurious Drugs.

Great inventors often have been praised for surrendering the secrets of their discoveries. Practically the same thing happened in the medical world in the case of Dr. Decatur D. Dennis, the eminent skin specialist of Chicago.

Dr. Dennis, in his own office practice, discovered that pure vegetable oil of wintergreen, properly mixed with other simple remedies was practically a sure specific for Eczema, psoriasis, barber's itch, salt rheum, and other itching skin diseases. But the oil of wintergreen alone was found ineffective. It required other mild ingredients such as glycerine and thymol compounded with the wintergreen, to produce the real eczema cure.

This compounded D. D. D. Prescription positively takes away the itch at once—the instant it is applied to the skin. This vegetable liquid does away with deleterious drugs so long used in an attempt to doctor the blood, whereas modern science has determined that eczema is first and all the time a skin disease.

If you want to know more about the merits of D. D. D. Prescription, call at our store. This remedy, Lyceum Pharmacy, Duluth, Minn.

PRINCIPAL BLOCK BURNS.

Falley, North Dakota, Has Forty Thousand Dollar Fire.

Kennmare, N. D., Jan. 30.—The village of Tolley, sixteen miles east of this city, lost one of its principal business blocks by fire. The blaze originated in some unknown manner in Kjos & Nelson's general mercantile store, and before it was discovered the entire building was consumed in flames.

The town has no fire protection whatever, and the following business houses were destroyed:

Sauer Bros., general merchants, building owned by A. Ribot, Dr. Rivyall's drug store, postoffice, Christian Hardware company's stock and building, a pool hall and Kjos & Nelson's store, and a schoolhouse.

The total loss, above insurance, is $40,000.

DID LARGE BUSINESS.

Creation Co-operative Association Makes Its Annual Report.

Calumet, Mich., Jan. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—At a meeting of the Creation Co-operative association held this week the secretary's report showed that the association had done a total business during the past year of $80,000. This is $20,000 in excess of the business during the preceding year.

The report further stated that the association had made satisfactory negotiations for a loan made necessary by the construction of the association's new store at the corner of Seventh and Elm streets, the loan covering a long period of years.

Officers and directors were chosen at the meeting, all of the stockholders voting. The officers are as follows:

President, William Mitchell; treasurer, Joseph Stefanz; secretary, Attorney A. Lucas; directors for a term of two years, Lucas Stefanz, George Mitchell, Anton Belobaydich, and Vinko Ozernich. There are five other directors whose terms will expire in rotation.

ADJ. GEN. POOLE LIKES

Showing Made at Minot of North Dakota Militia.

Bismarck, N. D., Jan. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—The national guard of North Dakota is in excellent shape, according to Adj. Gen. T. H. Poole, who attended the recent national guard meeting at Minot and who says:

"The meeting of the guard at Minot was a great success in every way and many matters of importance to the states were discussed. A resolution was passed favoring the Dick-Capron service pay bill, which will be introduced at this session of congress and requesting our legislators at the national capitol to vote for the bill.

We also appointed a committee consisting of Col. Nichols of Mandan, Maj. Fraire of Grafton, Capt. Hanley of Bismarck, and Lieut. Smith of Minot. It is the duty of the military laws of the state to conform to the Dick bill and the state laws. The military laws of the state as they now stand are obsolete, and the revised code will be presented to the next session of the legislature for passage. The legislative committee will be announced later.

All companies are placed and the enlistments in the individual companies are good. We will pay particular attention to target practice the coming season and expect that the North Dakota guard will have received the new Springfield rifles before the season opens.

FIRE AT BRAINERD.

About One Thousand Dollar Damage From Wednesday Afternoon Blaze.

Braintree, Minn., Jan. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—A fire which broke out in the upper story of a frame building on Sixth street about 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon caused damage to the extent of probably $1,000 to the building and $200 to Mr. Erb on stock. The building and one adjoining one owned by Mayor R. R. Erb and the loss is fully covered by insurance.

West, who occupied the adjoining building as a restaurant and saloon, suffered a loss of about $200 by damage from water and moving his goods.

PRESIDENT NILES SPEAKS

On Various Business Topics at Hardware Men's Meet.

Fargo, N. D., Jan. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—President Niles of the National Hardware Dealers' association, was the chief speaker at this forenoon's session of the North Dakota hardware men. He reported on the progress of the work in a national way and on the rapidly increasing membership of the national organization.

This afternoon was exclusively for discussions and business sessions, and the place of the next meeting will be fixed before adjournment.

The visiting delegates were guests of local committees at a vaudeville performance last evening and afterwards at the Commercial club at a smoker.

DIES AMID HIS WEALTH.

Fergus Falls Miser Can't Take His Gold With Him.

Fergus Falls, Minn., Jan. 30.—Coroner Haugen was called to the eastern outskirts of the town to investigate the death of Arne Gunderson, a well known character about town. Gunderson lived alone in a small shanty and had been drinking heavily. He was found dead on his kitchen floor, and as the fire had been on for several hours, his feet and groin portions of his body were badly frozen. Alcoholism and exposure are assigned as the cause of death.

A search through the hardware store showed that he had a large amount of cash on hand, and also a large sum of money in the form of gold and silver. Cash and notes aggregating nearly $5,000 were found by the coroner.

BELTRAMI COUNTY TO

SUE CLEARWATER COUNTY.

Benidji, Minn., Jan. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—The board of county commissioners of Beltrami county have passed a resolution instructing County Attorney Henry Funkley to bring suit against Clearwater county for the funds claimed to be due Beltrami. This suit is the outcome of a disagreement as to the apportionment of the funds, which should have been made to each county when Clearwater county was set aside from Beltrami county, some five years ago. An attempt was made by the officials of Beltrami county to make satisfactory adjustment of the matter about two weeks ago, when the members of the Clearwater county board, together with the county auditor and the county attorney of that county, were in this city to consult with the local board of county commissioners.

No amicable agreement could be reached in the matter, and the county board of Beltrami county has decided to push matters in connection with the settlement, hence the instruction to the county attorney to bring suit in the matter.

Bargain Friday

SOME two or three years ago we began a systematic endeavor to make Friday a day of unusual interest and profit to Duluth housewives, and, therefore, made special "one-day" prices on everyday necessities of every sort—china, glassware, housefurnishings, hardware, cutlery, etc., etc., every Friday for the special "housekeepers' bargain day." It proved a success from the start—other stores were not a great while discovering that we were getting the lion's share of this sort of trade, and one by one they began publishing competitive bargain prices on Thursday night for "Bargain Friday"—as we had now come to term the day. People learned quickly to discern the difference between our really splendid bargains and the fictitious values often offered by every little store on the street and as a result "Bargain Friday" at the Glass Block has come to be a familiar and much used term in every well-regulated and economical household in the city. Housewives will gladly welcome the announcement that tomorrow we resume the "Bargain Friday" sales. Watch the Thursday evening papers—every week. It means big savings in "running the house."

EXPANSION OF NATION

Under McKinley Policies Set Forth in Speech by Taft.

Secretary Says United States is Among Leaders of World.

Cleveland, Jan. 30.—McKinley, the martyred president, was the keynote of several addresses delivered at the Tippecanoe club's annual McKinley Day banquet here last night, at which Secretary Taft was the guest of honor. He spoke on "The Republic." Secretary Taft, accompanied by Col. Clarence Edwards of the United States army and Congressman Duncan E. McKinley of California, arrived here at noon. He was met by a reception committee, headed by former Governor Myron T. Herrick, and taken to the Union club where an informal reception was served. Late in the afternoon the secretary was taken to the Tippecanoe club rooms, where a public luncheon was held. The banquet commenced at 4:30 o'clock, when Mr. Taft hurried away to address the local chapter of the Red Cross society. Ohio politics was not overlooked by Mr. Taft. For over an hour he conferred with his state manager, Arthur I. Vorys, Walter C. Brown, chairman of the Republican state committee, and local leaders. The local fight was left in the hands of Vorys and Brown. Secretary Taft was introduced by President Treadwell as "The next president of the United States." The cheering that followed was long continued. "I shall venture to speak to you tonight on that which I think will ever be remembered and the great and distinguishing characteristic of McKinley's administration—the expansion of the United States into a world power. "Those of us who look back to McKinley's administration find it difficult to separate from his administration the great battle for honest money and for the integrity of the nation's pledged faith with which his administration was ushered in. The conditions surrounding that controversy make it one of the most remarkable victories for popular government that was ever achieved. With an undoubted majority of the electoral votes, embracing many of both parties, lured to a support of a free coinage of silver by the spurious arguments of pseudo scientists and by the severe stress of the most grievous industrial depression, a change was effected and a majority of voters were ultimately made, by a hard educational campaign, to see the right and forever other people for any time. We have done it for 100 years. We did it in the case of Louisiana. We have done it in the case of every territory that has subsequently admitted to the United States, and we are doing it today in the case of New Mexico and Arizona. What is the difference between the government of the United States and the government of a colony by the executive appointed in accordance with its direction? Of course I know the nice distinctions that are made in the supreme court decisions between an organized territory under the Constitution and a territory belonging to the United States, the government of which is not brought within the operation of the constitution. But I am speaking now as man to man, as layman to layman—what, in principle, is the difference between the action by congress of the right to pass a law which shall be obeyed by men in New Mexico, who have no voice in the selection of the representatives or the senators who vote that law, and the passing by congress of such a law for the government of the Philippines or Porto Rico or Cuba, when these islands are within our control? If the latter is a violation of the Declaration of Independence, we have been violating the Declaration of Independence for 100 years. The statements in the Declaration of Independence are to be construed in the light of contemporary history.

No Charge of Imperialism. "If we assume control over a people merely in the spirit of conquest and merely to extend our control, then we may be properly denounced as imperialists, but if we assume control over a people for the benefit of that people and with the purpose of giving them to a self-governing capacity and with the intention of giving them the right to become independent, when they shall prove themselves fit, then the charge that we are imperialists is unwarranted. On the contrary, we are a nation like the United States, with 80,000,000 people, with resources unexampled in the history of the world, with ideals as high as those of any nation, with the earnest desire to spread the principles of liberty and of popular government, cannot maintain a position of isolation with respect to the people of the world. We shall have thrust upon us the people under our control. We must assume responsibility with respect to their development. We must exert the power that the Lord has given us for the purpose of assisting our neighbors.

"The policy of isolation, which would prevent us from exercising our influence or direct control in those where we are capable of doing good and advancing the world's progress in a narrow, selfish and altogether unjustifiable policy.

"What has been the result to the United States of this so-called policy? Well, it has added to her trade something over $100,000,000. I do not think that is important except as a beginning. If the government continues its friendly policy toward Porto Rico and the Philippines and opens her markets, as well as the Philippines, to Porto Rico, this trade will triple and quadruple in a remarkably short time, so that merely from the standpoint of material progress, the mutual benefits for the people who we are helping are enormous. It will be no mean justification of the policy.

"Again our action in assuming our part of the responsibility of the world powers for the development of the world, has added to our influence the preservation of the peace of the world, has made our voice influential in all international councils. So great has been this growth that the immediate successors of William McKinley, Theodore Roosevelt, have been able to accomplish more in the preservation of the peace of the world than any other president that ever was elected, or any monarch that ever reigned. It is the influence that we are exerting in South America, in Central America, in Europe, in China, is much of it, the result of the policy of expansion adopted under William McKinley. It said that this policy has entailed upon us the enormous burden of a navy. I believe that it has increased the necessity for a greater navy. I believe that it has increased the insurance of peace that we could possibly have—a navy commensurate with our resources and commensurate with our coast line, and commensurate with the number of de-

Mr. Tessiman's Platform
Refutes All Insinuations Against Him.

For the benefit of those who may not have read Mr. Tessiman's platform when it was published before the primaries, it is again given in The Herald this evening.

The platform was published several weeks in advance of Mr. Haven's. It is a plain, straightforward statement of what Mr. Tessiman stands for, and the wording of it leaves no room for quibbling. It refutes all the insinuations and innuendoes which have been spread against Mr. Tessiman, and the only argument which can be brought against a man standing on such a platform is that he will not live up to its provisions. Mr. Tessiman says that he will. Those who know him believe him. They know him to be a man of his word. Each voter will have a chance to register his own opinion on this point next Tuesday.

Desperation is beginning to be manifested in every line of the political gossip of Haven's Morning Handicap. Plaintive appeals to even the much-scorched liquor interests are interspersed with fluges at the "Haven Handicap." The Haven Handicap even sees cause for mirth in the attitude of Mr. Reynolds, because he is body-blow to the candidate of the majority of the country. It was rather an electoral victory than of the administration of McKinley. That which really distinguished the administration of McKinley is the war with Spain and the expansion which followed it.

"Since the foundation of our government the people of the United States—that is, the states as distinguished from the territories—have been engaged in governing other people. But it is said that we have engaged in governing them with a view of ultimately making them a part of our government. That begs the question. The question is whether we have power to govern other people for any time. We have done it for 100 years. We did it in the case of Louisiana. We have done it in the case of every territory that has subsequently admitted to the United States, and we are doing it today in the case of New Mexico and Arizona. What is the difference between the government of the United States and the government of a colony by the executive appointed in accordance with its direction? Of course I know the nice distinctions that are made in the supreme court decisions between an organized territory under the Constitution and a territory belonging to the United States, the government of which is not brought within the operation of the constitution. But I am speaking now as man to man, as layman to layman—what, in principle, is the difference between the action by congress of the right to pass a law which shall be obeyed by men in New Mexico, who have no voice in the selection of the representatives or the senators who vote that law, and the passing by congress of such a law for the government of the Philippines or Porto Rico or Cuba, when these islands are within our control? If the latter is a violation of the Declaration of Independence, we have been violating the Declaration of Independence for 100 years. The statements in the Declaration of Independence are to be construed in the light of contemporary history.

No Charge of Imperialism. "If we assume control over a people merely in the spirit of conquest and merely to extend our control, then we may be properly denounced as imperialists, but if we assume control over a people for the benefit of that people and with the purpose of giving them to a self-governing capacity and with the intention of giving them the right to become independent, when they shall prove themselves fit, then the charge that we are imperialists is unwarranted. On the contrary, we are a nation like the United States, with 80,000,000 people, with resources unexampled in the history of the world, with ideals as high as those of any nation, with the earnest desire to spread the principles of liberty and of popular government, cannot maintain a position of isolation with respect to the people of the world. We shall have thrust upon us the people under our control. We must assume responsibility with respect to their development. We must exert the power that the Lord has given us for the purpose of assisting our neighbors.

"The policy of isolation, which would prevent us from exercising our influence or direct control in those where we are capable of doing good and advancing the world's progress in a narrow, selfish and altogether unjustifiable policy.

"What has been the result to the United States of this so-called policy? Well, it has added to her trade something over $100,000,000. I do not think that is important except as a beginning. If the government continues its friendly policy toward Porto Rico and the Philippines and opens her markets, as well as the Philippines, to Porto Rico, this trade will triple and quadruple in a remarkably short time, so that merely from the standpoint of material progress, the mutual benefits for the people who we are helping are enormous. It will be no mean justification of the policy.

"Again our action in assuming our part of the responsibility of the world powers for the development of the world, has added to our influence the preservation of the peace of the world, has made our voice influential in all international councils. So great has been this growth that the immediate successors of William McKinley, Theodore Roosevelt, have been able to accomplish more in the preservation of the peace of the world than any other president that ever was elected, or any monarch that ever reigned. It is the influence that we are exerting in South America, in Central America, in Europe, in China, is much of it, the result of the policy of expansion adopted under William McKinley. It said that this policy has entailed upon us the enormous burden of a navy. I believe that it has increased the necessity for a greater navy. EMIL TESSMAN'S PLATFORM

In announcing myself as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for mayor of Duluth, it is hardly necessary for me to make any extended declaration of principles or to indulge in promises. My seven years of active work in the common council of the city have demonstrated to the people of Duluth my views on public questions. Yet the voters have a right to know where I shall stand and what I shall try to do if I am honored by an election as mayor of Duluth, and I therefore take this opportunity to state my views as briefly as may be.

I believe that the operation of the city is a business matter, and that the city's business is conducted on a basis of sound economy, so that the taxpayers shall not be called upon to pay needless taxes for the support of the city government. I believe that all property and all classes of property should be taxed equally and that each individual should contribute to the support of public utilities in proportion to his means.

I am a firm believer in the public ownership of public utilities. Duluth has fully demonstrated the practicability of this idea. With able business men managing the public service utilities on behalf of the people, Duluth is, and will continue to be an example for the guidance of other cities in the practical application of the principle of public ownership. It will be my endeavor to promote the economical and business-like management of the instrumentalities now owned and controlled by the city for the service of the public and to extend public ownership rather than curtail it. I shall enforce the laws of the state and the city, so far as it lies in my power, without fear or favor. I believe laws are made to enforce, that neglect of small laws leads to the neglect of large ones; that small lawlessness breeds large lawlessness; that contempt for one law leads to contempt for all laws, and therefore to disorder, bad government and oppression of the people. Without fairness, therefore, without malice, but without compromise and without favoritism, I shall stand for the strict enforcement of law.

As municipal government is a business matter, I shall expect of all city employees the same single-minded attention to duty that I should expect of them if they were my personal employees in private life. I shall work for the betterment of Duluth as I should if I were in private employ, instead of public.

I shall use my influence in behalf of liberality toward public parks and play grounds. The parks are the city's breathing places, where the workingman whose week days are consumed in toil, has a chance to go with his family on a Sunday for a breath of fresh air and for pleasant association with the flowers and the trees and with his fellows. Public playgrounds are needed to provide places where children may enjoy themselves in safe and wholesome surroundings, instead of being exposed to the dangers and temptations of the streets. I shall work for the betterment of roads and bridges in order to permit the extension of the street railway system from West Duluth to New Duluth and the new steel plant.

I believe in and shall work for a Greater Duluth, a Duluth not only great in size, in population, in industry and in wealth, but a Duluth that is as clean and slightly and pleasant to live in as the energy and activity of a city administration co-operating with an alert and enlightened and public-spirited people can make it.

EMIL A. TESSMAN.

tion. We have attracted general attention to ourselves, and now what will be the result if he is elected? We shall have the law enforcement people all stirred up and what can Tessiman do for us? Nothing. If he did try pretty hard he might get himself impeached. If Haven is elected we know that he will do as he says and put on the lid right. So, if you can show me how the saloonmen are going to get anything out of this election except the worst of it to the extent of their contributions, I shall be glad to take anything out of the saloonmen's pockets.

This quaint, plaintive little appeal for the saloon vote, is intended to insinuate that Tessiman is a saloon keeper and the people of the city who stand for law enforcement, is playing both ends against the middle again, and is meant to attract the law enforcement party, while it copy to the saloon men not to be too distant or frigid in their attitude. If the interview were a bona fide one, it would prove exactly what The Herald has been claiming since the opening of the campaign—that there is no lid issue and that the saloon men have nothing whatever to gain from the election of Mr. Haven or the election of Mr. Tessiman.

Mr. Haven held a meeting on the Heights last evening. There was a fair attendance. Mr. Haven, Charles E. Adams, Lyle S. Meader and James A. Wharton spoke. Mr. Haven again declared that he is at the present time a member of the Builders' exchange, and claimed that he had severed his connection with last June before there was any trouble with the unions.

JURY ACQUITS THE BROTHERS. Finds the Dohertys Did Not Purloin Log Loader.

John and James Doherty, indicted for grand larceny in the second degree were acquitted by a jury yesterday afternoon. In the time that it required for the jury to take one ballot. The Doherty brothers are loggers at Buhl. They were accused of stealing a log loader from Andrew Nelson, another logger of that place. John Doherty and Nelson were formerly in the logging business together and Doherty claimed that when the partnership was broken up each took a log loader. Nelson claimed Doherty stole his loader in November. Doherty claimed he did not steal Nelson's loader, that he knew nothing about it and that Nelson was prosecuting him simply to get even for the reason there was not the best of feeling between them over a village election held last spring and because Doherty was to be a witness against Nelson in a timber trespass case.

The Dohertys were defended by C. B. Miller.

BOYERTOWN DISASTER

Caused by Negligence of Mrs. Monroe and Factory Inspector.

Boyerstown, Pa., Jan. 30.—The jury, which has been investigating the disastrous fire at Rhoades opera house, in which 169 persons lost their lives, returned a verdict at 1 o'clock this morning.

The verdict in part is as follows: "We are of the opinion that Mrs. Monroe and the deputy factory inspector are largely responsible for the disaster, on account of negligence. We request a prosecuting attorney of Berks county to arrest, and if possible, convict Mrs. Monroe, owner of the opera house, and Harry McNeister, the deputy factory inspector, on the charge of criminal negligence."

The Pure Food Law. Secretary Wilson says: "One of the objects of the law is to inform the consumer of the presence of certain harmful drugs in medicines." The law requires that the amount of chloroform, opium, morphine, and other habit forming drugs be stated on the label of each bottle. The manufacturers of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy have always claimed that their remedy did not contain any of these drugs, and the truth of this claim is now fully proven, as no mention of them is on the label. This remedy is not only one of the safest, but one of the best in use for coughs and colds. Its value has been proven beyond question during the many years it has been in general use. NEW AMSTERDAM BANK

CLOSED BY COMPTROLLER.

New York, Jan. 30.—The New Amsterdam National bank, capitalized at $1,000,000, was closed by the order of the comptroller of the currency last night, and National Bank Examiner Charles A. Hanna was placed in charge. The institution's liabilities are placed at $4,426,000, of which $2,082,400 are due depositors. The bank's officers assert that not only will every depositor be paid in full, but the stockholders will receive a substantial dividend. The New Amsterdam National bank was formerly one of the chief links in the chain of banks established by Charles W. Morse. About a year ago the New Amsterdam National underwent a reorganization, because of a falling off in its business and Frank W. Kinsman, Jr., was elected president.

Paris, Jan. 30.—In reply to the theme advanced by Paul Barget in his play, "A Divorced Man," which was given in this city Tuesday night, Aristide Briand, the minister of justice and foreign affairs, practically comes out in favor of trial marriages. He endorses the idea of gradual evolution of the doctrine of divorce. He said the point reached where a marriage may be contracted for a specified period under legal safeguard protecting the interests of both parties. He declares it is impossible for those about to enter upon the marriage relation to know the true character of their partners and that it is unnatural and intolerable to expect an ill-matched pair to drag out a miserable existence because they blundered in entering upon the most vital relation in life.

RED CHEEKS WITHOUT ROUGE.
If you want to look very pretty to have red cheeks for a dance, you can, this, says the Delineator: Rub cream into the face, and then apply a watery movement. Wipe that cream off with a towel, and then rub in more and wipe it off again. Then wash the face with hot water. Then dry the face with a towel, and then apply with a soft towel. To add the final touch, take a small piece of ice, cover with a towel and rub gently three or four times over the face. This will give the color which will last for hours, and really a mild form of a Turkish bath to the face. Many ladies, before going to bed, use this process. They wash their cheeks first with warm water, then with cold water, and dry thoroughly. This gives

The first American ship to call down the wrath of the Japanese was the steamer Pembroke, which, unconscious of any danger, entered the narrow passage on June 23, bound for Nagasaki. The story of her unannounced reception is told by Edga Stanton Maynard, his "History of the American Navy."

"Immediately after the Pembroke came to, the Japanese warship Daniel Webster moved up and dropped anchor a short distance from her. No suspicion of foul play seems to have been entertained by the captain of the Pembroke, for it was not until half-past one, an hour after midnight that Daniel Webster, without the slightest

This was simply a prelude to the entertainment that Capt. McDougall was destined to give these people who, without notice or provocation, would fire on an unarmed, defenseless vessel. A few days after the Pembroke affair,

A French dispatch boat was the victim of a similar cowardly attack, was nearly sunk and a number of her men were killed. A Dutch cruiser that ventured into the straits was obliged to gate the matter off with a volley of shot, and nearly near going to the bottom, but finally escaped, after being hit thirty times.

Following the Dutchman, a French gunboat with more temerity than discretion, got within range of the batteries of the venomous little Japanese and was sunk. But Capt. McDougall, with the Wyoming, was in the neighborhood, and the American commander, when anything but a good humor man, he heard of the hilarious time ing first learned that the Lancelfield drew no more water than his own ship. Early the next morning the Wyoming rounded a point of land when one of the batteries opened fire on her, the first shot striking the ship just above the engine room, cutting away some rigging—ample evidence of the accuracy of the Japanese gunners. Making no reply to this, the Wyoming steamer continued on its way, another abrupt, promontory, when she came within full sight of the town and within long range of the batteries and the Japanese warships.

"The shrewd American commander had noticed a line of stakes driven into the mud, sides of the marking the edge of the inner channel. Rightly guessing that the enemy had long before got the precise range of this waterway, McDougal ordered his pilots to take the ship toward the northern shore, close under the batteries on that side. The Daniel Webster was anchored close to the town's wharf, about fifty yards beyond a length ahead, and near her side

WINTER MEETING

Of the Superior District of United Norwegian Lutheran Church.

At the First Norwegian Lutheran church, Rev. J. H. Stenberg, pastor, the superior district of the United Norwegian Lutheran church of America held its regular winter meeting to further its missionary cause. The meeting opened Sunday morning with a missionary sermon by the secretary, Rev. Louis S. Marvick of Ashland, Wis. The meeting closed last evening with short addresses by the following pastors: J. A. Bjork, Chr. Christianson, J. J. Fadum, Th. Fossum, S. Aron Johnson, N. F. Lockren, Louis S. Marvick and J. H. Stenberg. The tenor soloist from Minneapolis, Prof. Theo. S. Reimstad and the Zenith quartet, John Olson, Carl Hval, Carl Olson and Hans Granseth sang at the various sessions. The singing of the regular church choir under John Olson's leadership was also much appreciated. The topic for the general discussion was introduced by the Rev. Chr. Christianson of Washburn, Wis. The offering was for the benefit of the United Church missions in China and Madagascar.

SPORTS OF THE DAY

TO CONTEST FOR MEDALS

Second Y. M. C. A. Indoor Meet to be Held February 13.

Race in Y. M. C. A. Basketball League is Waxing Warm.

Events have been selected and the date fixed for the second of the three indoor athletic meets to be held at the Y. M. C. A. this year. The meet will be held Thursday evening, Feb. 13, and all entries must be in by 6 o'clock on the evening of Tuesday, Feb. 11.

There will be five events, and contestants must enter all in order to compete for the prizes. The program has been changed somewhat from that of the last meet, but all events are in the line of regular gymnasium work for the martial arts and vaulting back, the contestants will be divided into three grades and the contestants in the first meet will again enter in the grade in which they competed on the former occasion. The other events will be—three standing broad jumps, running high jump with and without a pole, and in the latter four events, contestants will compete on an equal basis.

The winner of each event will be credited with five points and the man standing second will receive three points. The winner of the greatest number of points in all three meets will receive a gold medal, and the second man will receive a silver medal. The third and last meet will be held March 3.

Ed Mapp and Archie Brown were tied for the honors in the last meet, and they will be the contestants in the coming exhibition is expected to be spirited.

STANDING OF THE TEAMS.

Team	Points	Games	Wins	Losses	Ties
Harvard's 515 class	1	1	1	0	0

The defeat of Mapp's team by the Harvard team, Saturday night, by the non-class five in the Y. M. C. A. Basketball League, and the victory of Mapp's team over Deighton's 515 class team Tuesday night, brought about a tie between Mapp and Harvard for first place. Every game in the league thus far has been interesting and the members of the classes are taking great interest in the fortunes of their respective teams.

Both games during the past week were close. Saturday night, Harvard's team showed a little better work than Mapp's team, but Mapp's team was on top by a score of 25 to 22. Tuesday night, Deighton's class lost to the Harvard team, but Mapp's team won by 15 to 12.

Tomorrow night, Mapp's team will play Harvard, and the game is expected to be a close one. Mapp's team has been victorious in three games already played and the association boys will have a good reason for expecting a victory.

Tomorrow night, the Y. M. C. A. basketball team will play Harvard, a superior opponent, the Superior Normal, at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium. The Superior Normal was victorious in three games already played and the association boys will have a good reason for expecting a victory.

CENTRALS DROP TO LAST PLACE

Big Duluths Take Three From New Bowling League.

The Centrals, the new team in the Duluth City Bowling league, took a decided slump last night, losing three straight to the Big Duluth five. They drop from first place to last, and the Big Duluths may have a good reason for expecting a victory.

KEOGH LOSSES OUT.

Hueston Finishes Strong and Holds His Title.

St. Louis, Jan. 30.—Thomas A. Hueston of St. Louis last night successfully defended his title as champion pool player by defeating Jerome Keogh of Buffalo, the score for the three nights' play being: Hueston, 60; Keogh, 54.

Hueston, in a characteristic finish last night, retrieved the ground lost to his opponent in the first two nights' play. When play on the third block started last night the score stood: Keogh, 40; Hueston, 32.

Conlon Wins.

Peoria, Ill., Jan. 30.—Johnny Conlon of Chicago won the decision in a ten-round fight last night over "Kid" Murphy of New York before the Peoria Athletic club.

PROSPECT IS NOT DEAD

Northern League Has Hopes of Entering Twin Cities.

Issue Will be Forced at Coming Association Meeting.

Contrary to the general belief of the fans, the Northern league has not entirely given up the idea of entering the Twin Cities. The statement is positive and comes from the best source of information obtainable, one that is intimately connected with the baseball interests in St. Paul and Minneapolis.

Next week, at a meeting of the American association to be held in Chicago, it will all come out. If nothing definite is done by the association at that time, it will, of course, be too late for the Northern league to do anything with the project and the magnates will be forced to go ahead with their organization.

But there is more than a possibility that the Northern league will give the right to enter St. Paul and Minneapolis. The Twin City American association magnates are strong for the project. They are nettled at the stand taken by Bryce of Columbus and have decided to force the issue. They will get what they want, they say, and at present, they want the Northern league to enter the Twin Cities.

It is believed they can bring Bryce around to their way of thinking. The exhibition games, which each American association team may play, are dictated by the other teams. Columbus is one of the most prolific exhibition teams in the league and if St. Paul and Minneapolis should say the word, Bryce might be thrown out of a tidy little sum such as $10,000. In fact, the sum would be worth more to Bryce than the entrance of the Northern league into St. Paul and Minneapolis would mean for him. Of course, the St. Paul and Minneapolis men aren't saying that they will say the word, but they are throwing out all hints and nobody would be surprised, if Bryce should show a change of heart, when the magnates convene again.

As for the U. & P. league's petition for the right to enter Columbus, the Twin City magnates cannot see that the case is parallel and they are holding out against it. But they think Mr. Bryce will come into line all right and the beginning of play in the spring will see Twin City teams in the Northern league.

NILSSON AND WOOD.

Skaters Will Meet on Chicago Rink Next Sunday.

Chicago, Jan. 30.—Johnny Nilsson of Minneapolis, former champion ice skater of the world, and Morris Wood of New York, champion half-mile skater of the world, are matched to race in this city on Feb. 1. Logan Square Park rink has been decided upon for the match, and both men will arrive in this city Friday or Saturday.

Nilsson and Wood met in Minneapolis last Sunday and the Eastern men won two races out of three. According to reports, the Minneapolis skater was put to a great disadvantage by being forced to start against the wind in every race, the pursuit style being called for, and consequently was not able to really square chance to win. The men flipped a coin for sides each time, and Wood happened to win every call.

BUFFALO LITHA SPRINGS WATER

These Well Known Medical Men Speak From Experience With Its Use in Their Own Persons and Practice. Are They Not Competent Witnesses?

"IT SHOULD BE RECOGNIZED BY THE PROFESSION AS AN ARTICLE OF MATERIA MEDICA."

James L. Cabell, M. D., A. M., LL. D., formerly Professor of Physiology and Surgery in the Medical Department of the University of Virginia, and President of the National "U. S. A. in Uric Acid Diathesis," says: "BUFFALO LITHA SPRINGS WATER is a well-known therapeutic resource. It should be recognized by the profession as an article of Materia Medica."

"IN ALL FORMS OF BRIGHT'S DISEASE, EXCEPT THOSE HOPELESSLY ADVANCED, ITS GOOD EFFECTS ARE PRONOUNCED."

Dr. George Ben Johnson, Richmond, Va., Ex-President of Southern Surgical and Gynecological Association, Ex-President Medical Society of Virginia, and Professor of Gynecology and Abdominal Surgery, Medical College of Virginia, says: "In all forms of Bright's Disease, except those hopelessly advanced, its good effects are pronounced. I believe it has been the means of prolonging many lives in this trouble. Almost any case of Pyelitis or Cystitis will be alleviated by it and many cured. I have had evidence of the undoubted diuretic, purgative and eliminating powers of this water in RENAL CALCULUS, and I have known its long continued use to permanently break up the gravel-forming habit. It is an agent of great value in the treatment of Albuminuria of Pregnancy, and is an excellent diuretic in Scrophulous and Typhoid Fever."

"FOR MANY YEARS I HAVE FOUND IT A VALUABLE THERAPEUTIC RESOURCE."

E. H. Pratt, A. M., M. D., LL. D., Prof. Official Surgery in the Chicago Homeopathic Medical College, and Attending Surgeon to Cook County Hospital, says: "For many years I have found BUFFALO LITHA SPRINGS WATER a very valuable therapeutic resource. It has proved especially efficacious in Rheumatism, Gout, and affections of the Kidney and Bladder generally, including Bright's Disease. I have never used it for the removal of stone, preferring to operate for that, but I have found it exceedingly valuable after operation in correcting Uric Acid Diathesis, and thus preventing reformation."

WARM REPLY BY PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT TO ATTACKS MADE ON THE ADMINISTRATION

THAW JURY RETIRES TO CONSIDER VERDICT AFTER AN IMPARTIAL CHARGE BY JUSTICE

Decision Must Not be Influenced by Matter Outside of Record.

Must Not Consider Punishment Which May Follow the Verdict.

Jurors Take All the Exhibits in the Case With Them.

New York, Jan. 31.—Today, for a second time, the fate of Harry K. Thaw, slayer of Stanford White passed into the hands of a jury of his peers. The twelve jurors retired at 11:40 a. m., after listening to a charge from Justice Victor J. Dowling, who sought to impress upon them that the burden to prove the sanity of the defendant rested upon the prosecution throughout the trial and declared that if from all the evidence in the case, the jurors entertained a reasonable doubt as to his sanity, the defendant was entitled to the benefit of that doubt.

At the same time he pointed out the provisions of the statute which provides that the only persons excused from criminal responsibility are those who suffer from such a defect of reason as either not to know the nature or quality of their act or not to know that it was wrong. "Some may hold that it is too hard a test," commented the court, "but it is the law. It is clear, explicit and reasonable."

Hunted Not Insanity.
Most crimes are committed from just such motives as these.
Mrs. William Thaw, her son, Josiah, and her daughter, Mrs. George L. Carnegie, and Evelyn Nesbit Thaw were in the court room while Justice Dowling read his charge. From the moment the first word came from the bench, until the jury had filed out to begin its deliberations, the court room doors were locked, and no one was allowed to pass in or out.
As the jury was about to leave the box, Justice Dowling asked if they desired any of the exhibits in the case. Foreman Gremmel replied that the jury would like to have them all. Thaw was compelled to stand and nod his formal assent to this action. The defendant was then taken to his cell.

THE ORIENTAL BANK CLOSES

New York State Institution Unable to Stand Run.

New York, Jan. 31.—The Oriental bank, on which a run of depositors was started yesterday, did not open for business today. A notice was posted on its doors, announcing that the institution was closed by order of the state superintendent of banks. The Oriental is a state bank, having a capital stock of $750,000. According to its latest statement it owed to individual depositors $7,578,811, and to banks, bankers and brokers $6,477,292. It had a surplus fund of $202,000, and undivided profits of $203,947. G. S. Leonard, a state bank examiner, was placed in charge of the institution this morning. A branch of the Oriental bank, at 1228 Broadway, also was closed. A line of depositors was formed in front of the main offices at Broadway and John street at an early hour today, and when the hour for opening arrived there were about seventy-five depositors in line, some of whom had already been standing for several hours in the extreme cold. As soon as the closing was announced, the line melted away.

The recent troubles of the Oriental date from the failure of the Borough bank of Brooklyn and the International Trust company, in October last. The Oriental was a depository for the capital stock of the Trust company when it was organized by William Gow and others, last fall. When the Borough bank closed, it was discovered that the Oriental bank had loaned it $250,000, and it was asserted that this was returned to the Oriental as part of the capital stock of the International Trust company.

FIRE IN ARSENAL

Causes Serious Injury to Several Persons at Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Jan. 31.—Several persons were seriously injured today by an explosion and fire at the Frankford arsenal in the extreme northeastern section of the city. The explosion was a slight one and occurred in the refining room of the shrapnel department. A large number of girls are employed in the place making cartridges for the army and there was a panic among them which, however, was quickly allayed.

RAILROAD ANNOUNCES

That It Will Not Haul Liquor Into Prohibition States.

The Louisville & Nashville Takes Firm Stand on Matter.

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 31.—Announcement was made last night by the Louisville & Nashville railroad that it will no longer receive shipments of liquor into Georgia or Alabama, states which have recently passed prohibition acts. A high official of the road gives the reasons for the action by explaining that the right of roads to ship into prohibition territory, even though the traffic be interstate commerce, has been the practice as carried on between Indiana points and points in Kentucky, which have voted against the sale of liquor.

BRYAN TO VISIT WILMINGTON, DEL.

Will Speak at Two Democratic Meetings During Stay.

Wilmington, Del., Jan. 31.—William J. Bryan is expected in Delaware this afternoon for a stay of about twenty-four hours, and this time will be fully occupied in receiving and responding to the attentions of Delaware Democrats. Mr. Bryan will reach here at 2:30 this afternoon, from Washington, and during his stay will be the guest of John G. Gray, a city official. At 7:30 o'clock he will be escorted to the Grand Opera house, where he will be the only speaker at a Democratic mass meeting. Following the meeting, there will be a dinner at German hall, where Mr. Bryan will again make an address, and will speak. Mr. Bryan will spend the night in Wilmington, and tomorrow morning will go to Dover. There he will address a public meeting, to be held in the Dover opera house at 1 o'clock, and after the meeting, will hold a brief reception. At 3:53 he will leave for Philadelphia, where he will be the principal speaker at the dinner to be given in the evening to State Treasurer William H. Berry of Pennsylvania.

OTHER SOURCES

Needed to Secure Sufficient Officers for the Philippine Scouts.

Washington, Jan. 31.—Gen. Wood has recommended legislation, providing other sources of supply for officers of the Philippine scouts than those now available. He suggests that appointments to places in the commissioned personnel of that organization be extended to graduates of certain military schools and cadets of two years' service, found deficient in only one study, and who are recommended for appointment by the academic board. Gen. Wood points out that the classes of eligibles, in whose behalf a preference is established by law, will soon reach such an age as to preclude their appointment to the grade offices in the scout organization.

BLIZZARD IS RAGING

Throughout a Considerable Section of the Northwest.

Will Continue Through Day Followed by Colder Weather.

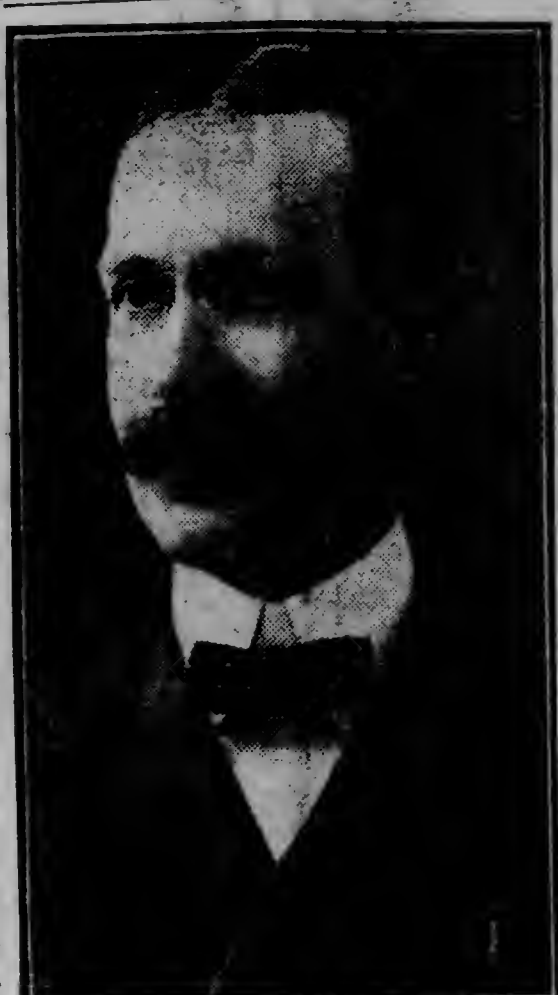

Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—A blizzard is today raging throughout the Northwest and the forecast official reports that it will continue throughout the day and in the night, when colder weather will again follow. While the fall of snow is considerable, it is of the lightest variety and will not impede traffic to a great extent.

St. Paul, Jan. 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—Snow which began falling during the night has covered the ground to a depth of several inches. The storm continues, and the out of doors aspect is one of the old-fashioned winter kind. It is the first heavy fall of snow this winter. The temperature is mild.

UNKNOWN MAN IS FROZEN TO DEATH

Coldest Weather in Upper Peninsula in Years Claims Victim.

Marquette, Mich., Jan. 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—One man frozen to death is the tragic sequence to the coldest spell of weather experienced in this region in several winters. For the first time this season, the mercury fell to zero this week and yesterday it dropped to 41 below at Humboldt, 40 below at Republic and Michigamme, 33 at Princeton, 32 at Ishpeming and 31 at Marquette. The cold had perished from exposure. His body was brought to Marquette. The cold continues today, but is much less intense.

SINGS CARMEN WHILE SEATED IN A CHAIR

Pittsburg, Jan. 31.—Miss Olga Nethersole played "Carmen" here last night at the Nixon theater while seated in a wheel chair. Yesterday the actress met with an accident, falling on the slippery pavement and seriously ruptured a ligament in her right ankle near the instep. She also received a severe bruise over the eye. Despite the pain and urging of physicians, Miss Nethersole pluckily determined to appear last night. The audience was notified at the beginning of the performance, and when the actress appeared seated in a wheel chair she was given hearty applause. Notwithstanding the great difficulty, the portrayal was a remarkably clever and spirited one.

CANNOT WIN WITH BRYAN

Auditor of North Carolina Says Johnson Would be Stronger.

Johnson and Chanler His Idea of a Winning Team.

FROM THE HERALD WASHINGTON BUREAU.

Washington, Jan. 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—Governor Johnson of Minnesota, as the candidate of the Democratic party, would poll more votes in North Carolina than would Bryan, as the candidate," declared B. F. Dixon, state auditor of North Carolina, at the Briggs House. "I cannot see why the party wants to nominate Mr. Bryan. They cannot win with him, and the leaders of the party know it. Why cannot they nominate Johnson for president, and Lieut.-Governor Chanler of New York for vice president? That ticket, in my opinion, would be one the Republicans would find hard to beat. With Bryan as the standard bearer, what kind of an argument will the party make? He has been defeated twice, and he has no new argument to make that will win over any votes."

COMPULSORY VACCINATION

In Schools Lies Solely With State Board of Education.

St. Paul, Jan. 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—In an opinion, Assistant Attorney General Weeks holds that village boards or boards of education cannot compel district quarantine, or compulsory vaccination. These are matters that lie solely with the state board of education, and in the case of compulsory vaccination, only after sanction has been given by the village board of education.

THERE'S A DIFFERENCE EVEN IN TEDDY BEARS.

HOT DENUNCIATION OF THE CORRUPT MEN OF WEALTH

Have Hurt Honest Business Men and Clamor Against Truth Being Told.

No Moral Difference Between Gambling at Cards or in Stock Market.

THE MEAT OF THE MESSAGE.

Advocates re-enactment of employers' liability law to conform with supreme court's decision. Urges compensation by government to all employees injured in the government service.

Directs attention to need of action in connection with the abuse of injunctions in labor cases.

Recommends laws better to secure control over the great business concerns engaged in interstate commerce, and especially over the great common carriers; that interstate commerce commission may pass upon any rate on its own initiative, may exercise supervision over the financial operations of interstate railroads and assume a certain measure of control over the physical operation of these railroads.

Urges that railroads be permitted to form traffic associations, but not to pool earnings or traffic.

Says Sherman anti-trust law should be amended so that it will not prohibit useful combinations.

Denounces gambling in the stock market, and suggests legislation to prevent trading on margins for speculative and gambling purposes.

Replies to attacks made by the Standard Oil corporation and the Santa Fe Railway company on the administration's action in prosecuting them and securing their conviction by the courts of criminal misconduct.

Defends the two judges who imposed heavy fines on these two corporations, and praises all judges who are upright, wise and fearless.

Says the laws must in the future be administered as at present, and justice be meted out with an even hand to great and small, rich and poor, weak and strong.

Denies that the administration's actions have brought on business distress, but says it is largely due to the speculative folly and flagrant dishonesty of a few men of great wealth, and claims there is no justification to feel gloomy or frightened at the outlook, as ultimate success is assured.

Washington, Jan. 31.—President Roosevelt sent to congress today a special message which fairly sizzles with the denunciation of corrupt men of wealth and large corporations convicted of dishonesty that have attacked the administration. The message says:

To the Senate and House of Representatives: The recent decision of the supreme court in regard to the employers' liability act, the experience of the interstate commerce commission and of the department of justice in the enforcement of the anti-trust laws, and the gravely significant attitude toward the law and its administration recently adopted by certain heads of great corporations, have all combined to make it desirable that there should be additional legislation as regards certain of the relations between labor and capital and between the great corporations and the public.

The supreme court has decided the employers' liability law to be unconstitutional because its terms apply to employees engaged wholly in interstate commerce as well as to employees engaged in interstate commerce. The court holds that the congress has power to deal with the question as far as interstate commerce is concerned.

Employers' Liability Law.
As regards the employers' liability law, I advocate its immediate reenactment, limiting its scope so that it shall apply only to the class of cases as to which the court says it can constitutionally apply, but strengthening its provisions within this scope. Interstate employment being thus covered by an adequate national law, the field of interstate employment will be left to the action of the several states. With this clear definition of responsibility the states will undoubtedly give to the performance of their duty within their field the consideration the importance of the subject demands.

I also very urgently advise that a comprehensive act be passed providing for compensation by the government to all employees injured in the government service.

Under the present law an injured workman in the employment of the government has no remedy, and the entire burden of the accident falls on the helpless man, his wife, and his young children. This is an outrage. It is a matter of humiliation to the nation that there should not be on our statute books provision to meet and partially to atone for cruel misfortune when it comes upon a man through no fault of his own while faithfully serving the public. In no other prominent industrial country in the world could such gross injustice occur, for almost all civilized nations have enacted legislation embodying the principle of recognition of the principle which places the entire burden for industrial accidents (excluding, of course, accidents due to willful misconduct by the employee on the industry as represented by the employer, which in this case is the government.) In all these countries the principle applies to the government just as much as to the private employer. The same broad principle which should apply to the government should ultimately be made applicable to private employers.

There is a special bill to which I call your attention. Secretary Taft has recently recommended the immediate passage of a law providing for compensation to employees of the government injured in the work of the isthmian canal, and that $100,000 be appropriated for this purpose each year. I earnestly hope this will be done, and that a special bill be passed covering the case of Yarmaster Buntin, who was injured nearly two years ago while performing his duty. He is now helpless to support his wife and his three little boys.

Abuse of Injunctions.
I again call your attention to the need of some action in connection with the abuse of injunctions in labor cases. As regards the rights and wrongs of labor and capital, from blacklisting to boycotting, the whole subject is covered in admirable fashion by the report of the antitrust committee which I have just received. I can do little but repeat what I have said in my last message to the congress. Even though it were possible, I should consider it most unwise to abolish the use of the process of injunction. It is necessary in order that the courts may maintain their own dignity and in order that they may in effective manner check disorder and violence.

It is all wrong to use the injunction to prevent the entirely proper and legitimate actions of labor organizations in their struggle for industrial betterment, or under the guise of protecting property rights unwarrantably to invade the fundamental rights of the individual. It is futile to concede, as we do, the right and the necessity of organizing effort on the part of wage-earners and yet by injunctive process to forbid reasonable action to accomplish the lawful objects for which they are organized and upon which their success depends. This matter is daily becoming of greater importance and I can not too urgently recommend that the congress give careful consideration to the subject. If some way of remedying the abuses is not found then feeling of indignation against them among large numbers of our citizens will tend to grow so extreme as to produce a revolt against the whole use of the process of injunction.

HAVEN "LAID DOWN" ON TEMPERANCE PEOPLE

Had Opportunity to Secure Veto on Carpenter License.

Is Making Desperate Scramble to Land
Labor Vote.

That Alderman Haven has been "double crossing" the temperance people of Duluth, and while openly playing for their sympathy and support while his followers have been secretly soliciting the support of the saloon interests, and assuring them that they have nothing to fear in the event of Haven's election, has been claimed by Mr. Tossman's followers throughout the present campaign, and today a story came out which apparently substantiates the report.

That Alderman Haven had it within his power to have the license of the Carpenter Brothers voted by Mayor Cullum, and did not do so, is undoubtedly true. At the time the license was before the council Alderman Haven voted against it openly, but according to a statement published in The Herald recently by Alderman Staples, Mr. Haven secretly worked for the license and requested Mr. Staples, at least, to support it. Owing to the strong sentiment in his ward, Mr. Staples did not dare openly support it, and both he and Mr. Haven, the other Aldermen from the ward, opposed it. The license, however, was granted.

Mr. Haven has made his vote on the proposition one of his campaign arguments, as tending to show that he stood for law enforcement. It was learned by a Herald reporter today, in good authority, however, that an effort was made by a committee headed by Messrs. Bert Wheeler and A. R. Merritt to secure the mayor's veto to the license. The mayor, it is claimed, expressed his willingness to do so, but he could be conclusively shown that it was not the wish of the majority of the voters of the ward, and if the Seventh ward aldermen would come to him and urge that he revoke the action of the council.

The two members of the committee and Alderman Barnes went to the mayor on the proposition and had a conference with him. Mr. Haven was not present. What transpired at that meeting is not known, but the license was not vetoed. Mayor Cullum, when seen this morning, was adverse to talking on the

ROAD WILL GO THROUGH

Question of Route Stands in Way of Street Extension.

City Will Deal With Railroad on Most Equitable Basis.

The members of the board of public works and other city officials have definitely decided, without taking official action, that the extension of Railroad street, from its present terminus to Garfield avenue, at the south end of the viaduct, should go through so much was brought out at the hearing on the proposed extension before the board of public works this morning. The route for the extended roadway, however, is still in the air, and will be until the proposed line of the Soo road entering the city is investigated with respect to its connection with the proposed extension.

Two routes are proposed. One provides for the extension of the street in a direct line to Garfield avenue, and thence south parallel with the viaduct. The other, and that which was under consideration this morning, provides for a route crossing the Northern Pacific track east of the viaduct, diagonally. The latter is the shorter route, and the one favored by the city officials.

Attorney Murphy of Superior, representing the Great Northern; Attorney Mitchell, representing the Omaha and Northern Pacific; and E. C. Blanchard, representing the Northern Pacific for this district, were the railroad men present at the meeting, and B. W. How, Capt. McHugh, J. A. Peterson, Henry Nott, R. B. Knox and others, representing the interests desiring the extension, were present to give their testimony.

It developed at the hearing that the railroad companies have receded from the position which prompted them to file a demurrer, protesting the board's right to make the extension. Instead, the railroad representatives appeared to be willing to deal with the city on a fair basis, so that the route might be laid out in the manner most advantageous to them. The city takes the same position. Summed up by City Attorney Bert Essler, they want to extend the railroad street to provide a means of communication between the limits of the present thoroughfare and Garfield avenue, and intend to go ahead with condemnation proceedings with that end in view. But it does not want to discontinue the railroad companies any more than it is necessary and is willing to consider reasonable propositions, which will provide for a suitable route between the two points, and give the minimum inconvenience to the railroad companies.

The question of the extension was brought into the discussion this morning the Northern Pacific was the only railroad with which the city still had to deal. The representatives of the Great Northern and Omaha expressed complete satisfaction with the route, as it developed at the hearing, and under consideration, as it applied to their tracks, only one crossing being made and that at a point where the tracks of the Northern Pacific are crossed at two points by the roadway, under the viaduct, and the track of the last street of Garfield avenue is rendered worthless for roundhouse purposes on account of the roadway crossing it diagonally. The Northern Pacific representatives showed favor toward the route direct from the present terminus to Garfield street, Garfield avenue and thence parallel with the viaduct to the point designed to be reached. But there, also, an obstacle interposed in the shape of a "diamond" crossing in a direct line with the direction of Railroad street and the city would object to running the street over such a crossing.

The question of the Soo's line of entrance to the city brought out that a hearing is to be held tomorrow before Judge Gant to determine the status of the city's right to condemn proceedings for a line parallel with the Northern Pacific through the city which city the city proposed to build with the roadway. The railroad representatives suggested that the action of the board be postponed until after the court finding in the hearing tomorrow, for, in case the Soo should be granted the right of way it asks, the city could be constrained to deal with it on the same basis as the other railroad companies.

The contingency was also brought up that the Soo's petition for a right-of-way might provide for a right-of-way desired for the street. The board refused to commit itself on the question of waiting for the final court decision on the petition of the Soo road, but took the matter under advisement that further investigation may be made. Possibly more testimony may be taken and the question of the right of way of the Soo road will also have a direct bearing on the action of the board, in its recommendations to the council.

The Railroad street extension has been under fire for a long period of years. An old plat, put before the board this morning and providing for the circuitous route between the present terminus and the south end of the viaduct, was made several years ago. At present, a roadway is used over something the same route as that considered this morning, but it is in bad condition, the Northern Pacific holds the title to the land, and the city has no right to put it in repair.

For the present, however, the different wholesale companies, who are working for the new outlet, will continue to use the present roadway. They are working strenuously for the extended street in order that an improved street, to which the city holds title, may be provided, and a means of communication between the district south of Garfield avenue and up-town wholesale district may be insured for all time.

SUPERIOR NEWS

Mayor Appoints Comptroller.

Mayor Linley has announced that the name of O. C. Tonsberg of the firm of Silver-Tonsberg company, printers, will be presented to the council, next week, for confirmation as appointee to fill the office of city comptroller, to succeed A. J. Wenzel. The news of Mr. Tonsberg's appointment was a surprise, as he has not been active in politics. Mr. Tonsberg is a progressive young business man and his appointment is said to meet with favor.

Gives Notice to Vacate.

The Soo Railroad company has served notice on fifty families on Connor's Point to vacate the company's property within the next thirty days. It is understood that this is a preliminary step by the company for the improvement that it intends to make in the way of trackage in that part of the city. The majority of the families affected by the notice reside in the pocket east of the ship yards and extending down the vicinity of the Kimball school building.

"HURRY UP" OF WIRELESS.

German Colonial Secretary Witnesses Interesting Demonstration. Berlin, Jan. 31.—Colonial Secretary Dernburg was the witness of a unique demonstration of the "hurry up" possibilities of the German land wireless telegraph system at a demonstration at the big central station at Nauen last week. He looked over a military wireless station and examined the apparatus specially designed for colonial use, which was fully set up in his presence.

Within fifteen minutes after the command for setting up the apparatus was given, communication was established by means of the Morse alphabet, at a station twenty miles distant. Herr Dernburg was informed that the maximum transmission capacity of such an emergency station, which with all its paraphernalia, weighs only 40 pounds, is believed to have gone toward Sioux City.

ROOSEVELT PLANNING A YEAR OF SILENCE.

Chicago, Jan. 31.—It is the present intention of President Roosevelt to retire absolutely from public life for at least a year when he moves from the White House March 4, 1909, says a Washington special dispatch. He has abandoned any idea of succeeding Thomas C. Platt as one of the senators from New York.

His program is "a year of silence, and deep silence at that." He has not made up his mind what he will do during his year of self-inflicted silence and abstinence from public affairs. He may go to Alaska to hunt big bears and later go to Hawaii. He has voiced a desire to make an extended big game hunt in Central Africa.

FORTY SHOTS FIRED

In a Pitched Battle With Bandits in Iowa Town.

Alton, Iowa, Jan. 31.—Forty shots were exchanged early yesterday in a fusillade between 300 citizens and five bandits, who were attempting to rob the safe of the Northwest bank.

No one was hurt, and in the excitement the crackmen made their escape. They got none of the bank's money, although they were within a few feet of it. The explosion of a quantity of nitroglycerin, used to blow the safe, awakened the two men who slept in a block across the street. They opened fire on two of the robbers, who were standing guard outside the bank building. The alarm was spread by the ringing of the firebells and soon the entire male population of the village turned out, armed to the teeth. It is remarkable that no one was killed for the robbers returned the shots with a vengeance and made their retreat under fire. They are believed to have gone toward Sioux City.

COMES TO A SUDDEN END

Libel Suit Against Attorney A. E. McManus Has Been Dismissed.

Case is Dropped After the Examination of A. J. Gurtin.

The trial of the $10,000 damage case of Alexander J. Gurtin of Minneapolis against Albert E. McManus of this city came to a sudden and somewhat unexpected end in the district court this morning when on stipulation of both parties to the action Judge Divilbiss dismissed the case.

The stipulation for a dismissal follows the testimony of Mr. Gurtin, who was on the stand yesterday afternoon to substantiate his claim against Mr. McManus for alleged defamation of character, based on certain allegations made in the complaint and the reply made in the answer in the case of William Rock, guardian of Matilda Hinricks, against Mr. Gurtin for damages for the alleged defamatory article in the Minneapolis Tribune.

Mr. Gurtin testified under direct examination, that he was born near Ottawa, Kan., thirty years ago and was one of a family of eight children. He came to Duluth in 1887 when he was 13 years old and up to a year or two ago followed the barber trade, working in various saloons in this city, winning and at Bisbee, Ariz.

After quitting the barber trade Mr. Gurtin, according to his statement, was a compositor engineer at the Lake Superior & Pittsburg mine at Bisbee. Since that time he has been a stock speculator and proprietor of a garage. At the present time he resides with his sister at Minneapolis and has no regular business.

Mr. Gurtin claimed that he is not dishonest, that he is not a gambler, a swindler, a brawler, a fugitive from justice and that he has no debts. Under cross-examination by Mr. McManus, Mr. Gurtin admitted that he had intimate relations in 1887 with C. J. Flaherty, a landlubber in a local hotel and former variety theater actor, but denied that he had to leave town for fear of any prosecution in connection with the matter.

The Bisbee Affair. The plaintiff also admitted that Feb. 8, 1888, he stopped all night at a hotel in Bisbee, Tex., with a woman, registering as man and wife. He also admitted that when in Bisbee he was out with a party of friends one night visiting the gambling district and that while drinking in one place he got into an altercation with a man. In the fight that followed he, Gurtin, hit the man with his fist and knocked him out with a blow over the head with a bottle.

The witness admitted that he went before the justice of peace and pleaded guilty to a simple assault, paid a fine of $20 and left Bisbee. He denied any knowledge that there was a warrant out for him in Bisbee charging assault in the first degree, or that the man he struck has ever recovered from the blow.

Mr. Gurtin admitted that he was in Superior one evening with a young woman, but denied that they stopped all night in a hotel there and that he brought his young woman home at the instance of Mr. Hollister, his attorney, after her mother had made an appeal to the latter. Mr. Gurtin admitted that he had trouble with a Japanese bellboy who picked on him, but that the trouble was stopped before any damage was done.

Asked by Mr. McManus where his reputation had been damaged by the alleged allegations by the attorney, Mr. Gurtin said he did not know. He "supposed" that his credit had been injured and that he had been put in the wrong light with his friends.

He denied knowing anything about the Hinricks girl. Following the announcement of a stipulation for a dismissal of the case yesterday afternoon, Mr. McManus, last evening issued the following statement:

"As soon as I became convinced that an injustice was being done to the defendant, I at once went to one of the judges of the district court of St. Louis county, Minnesota, and stated to him that I desired dismissal of the case. This I had to do for the reason that the real plaintiff was a minor, and I had to obtain the consent of one of the judges to the dismissal of the case. I obtained such consent and entered a dismissal of the case, and such dismissal was made and filed without the payment of any money or other consideration, but was purely voluntary on my part."

"This statement is made freely and voluntarily on my part, to in so far as possible right the wrong that was done Mr. Gurtin by the starting of the above mentioned case. I desire to say that in the starting of the same I was misled and misled upon."—A. E. McManus, Attorney.

Harbors and Grand Marais until Feb. 5, when the last of the vessels was laid up for the winter. Probably another trip or two could be made, but there is no business. Residents of the north shore towns, and fishermen along the lake who are dependent upon the boats for their supplies, take good care to see that they are well stocked up before winter sets in. They ship in all the goods they are likely to need during the cold months, and do not care particularly whether the boats run or not, as they have gotten their winter's supply. There is always a little passenger business, as long as the steamers run, but hardly enough at the time of the year to make operating them a paying proposition.

Steam will be kept up on the Moore all winter, so that she will be ready to go out in the spring at the earliest possible moment. Because of the lateness in the arrival of cold weather, it is rather expected that navigation will open much earlier than usual this year. Boats out of Duluth were forced to discontinue running to Fort William and Port Arthur three or four weeks ago, and no stops have been made at Isle Royale since about the middle of December. The few people remaining on the island for the winter are cut off entirely from communication with the mainland. Two or three watchmen and three or four trappers constitute almost the entire population of the island. It is understood that two or three fishermen are also wintering on the island. Ice began forming in the lake off

Duluth early this week, and now quite a field extends out from the shore.

CHARGES OF SLANDER Preferred Against Dr. J. M. Buckley, the Methodist Editor.

New York, Jan. 31.—Charges of disloyalty and slander, preferred against the Rev. Dr. J. M. Buckley, editor of the Christian Advocate, and one of the best known Methodist Episcopal leaders in this country, were considered by a commission of nine clergymen of the New York east conference of the church in Brooklyn yesterday. It is understood that the charges are based on editorials in the Christian Advocate.

A commission of clergymen, with the Rev. Dr. C. F. Wing, presiding elder, as chairman, was appointed to determine whether the charges constituted sufficient grounds to warrant a formal trial. Its sessions were executive and will be continued.

ABRAHAM RUEF SAYS STATEMENTS ARE UNTRUE. San Francisco, Jan. 31.—Abraham Ruef, in open court yesterday, denounced as untrue the statements of District Attorney Langdon that he had been in communication with the other defendants in the United Railroads case, and last night issued a statement, in which he repeated his denial of his alleged double dealing, charged the prosecuting with violating its solemn word of honor and written pledges; accused the district attorney of trying to force him into absolute compliance with certain demands by securing his conviction, and then, under promise of leniency, compel him to testify; reiterated that he had kept faith, and asserted that he was now, as always, willing to testify to the truth, as he had done before the grand jury.

MINE LOOKS GOOD. L. Rouchleau Favorably Impressed With Butte-Ballaklava Property.

Louis Rouchleau, who has just returned from Butte, is very favorably impressed with the property of the Butte-Ballaklava mine. Mr. Rouchleau made a thorough inspection of the property and says that it is one of the best mining properties offered to Duluth people. Mr. Rouchleau says at the present time the cutting is down to a depth of 50 feet and crosscutting at this depth has disclosed the good values in the mineral. The next crosscutting will be at a depth of the 700-foot level. The experience of other mines in the same camp makes the belief certain that the veins will improve with the depth of the mine.

BEHIND CITY ELECTION. Bemidji, Minn., Jan. 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—The annual city election will be held on Tuesday, Feb. 18, to elect a mayor, one councilman from each of the four wards, a city clerk, a treasurer and an assessor.

This year there is not, at present, the fight being waged for the different offices that there was last year, when Mayor Pogue and ex-Mayor Carrier were candidates.

KIDNEY, LIVER AND BOWELS

Sickness is next to impossible if you keep the kidneys, liver and bowels in perfect working order with an occasional dose of Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Mr. S. B. Holden, No. 2344 Cass Ave., Grand Rapids, Mich., says: "I have for years been subject to sluggishness of the liver and constipation. The kidneys were also inactive and caused me a great deal of pain across my loins. I got some of Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and they cured the inactivity of the organs rapidly and easily. I would not be without them." 25c a box at all dealers. Write for a free sample. Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

LIVER CAUSES OBESITY. When you begin to take on surplus flesh, a torpid liver is usually to blame. Over-exercise and fasting are to be avoided. The liver is the most important organ of the body, and its proper functioning is essential to health.

BEARS BEGIN LONG REST

Much Belated Hibernation of Bruin Permitted by Weather.

Woodsman Says Bears Were in a Trance All Fall.

The bears have at last hit their leafy dens for the long-belated winter sleep. Joseph Quinn, who is in town today looking for woodsmen for work in the pulpwood camps, up near Norway, says that only a few of the bears have heaved the old spell of the past few days. The rest are snoring peacefully in the dens made last fall.

Up until a few days ago, said Mr. Quinn, bears were seen in the woods. This is something unusual for this time of the year. Most of them lay themselves down to sleep long before the fates of black November inscribed present on the calendar of time. One bear was shot, and another chased for a distance corresponding to many city blocks, by some of Mr. Quinn's men last fall. They were just going into winter quarters then. But the rainy weather that was enjoyed during December and January brought them out to seek the air.

Some of the bears, though, according to Mr. Quinn's story, did some weird somnambulistic stunts. They had gone without their accustomed all-winter nap for such a long period that they were hardly awake when they roamed the forest. Between weary gapping yawns and an occasional rubbing of the eyes, which denoted half-wakening spells, the bears grouped about their way like humans in a sleep-walking stunt.

Hunters took pity upon the animals, and refused to take advantage of them by shooting them. Mr. Quinn said that two bears were reported to have been seen, just before he left for Duluth. They were walking through the woods. They had an unsteady gait, and their eyes had a strained and faraway look, as if they had slept for weeks. They looked lean and haggard, and it is believed that they were searching for the hibernating quarters they constructed last fall.

OPERATIONS ARE RESUMED

Pulpwood Contractors Take Advantage of the Cold Snap.

Pulpwood hauling and logging operations have been resumed. The snow of the past few days has enabled the resumption of the hauling that was interrupted because of the lack of roads. Up at the Kenai, where the pulpwood is cut, they are working industriously to make up for the lost time occasioned by the cold weather. Men are again demanded for the work that is just beginning to pick up. Cars are being supplied for the hauling of the pulpwood, and it looks as if the pulpwood operators will be able to make up part of the time lost while waiting for seasonable weather.

THOSE WHO HAVE PASSED BEYOND

Troy, N. Y., Jan. 31.—Fred W. Wolf, the oldest active letter carrier in the United States, died here last night. He was 72 years old and had been a letter carrier fifty-four years. On his sleeve were three gold stars, two being emblematic of fifty years' service, and the other being a special honor conferred by the president of the United States upon the peer of veteran carriers.

London, Jan. 31.—Sir Henry W. Tyler, chairman of the Westinghouse Brake company and deputy chairman of the Great Eastern Railway company, died yesterday. He was born in 1827. From 1877 to 1886, he was president of the Great Eastern Railway of Canada.

FIRE SALE

STACK & CO.

A History-Making Day!

We offer our sincere regrets to the hundreds who had to leave our store yesterday without having been waited on. It was simply impossible to take care of the tremendous crowds that thronged and surged in every department all day long, from the opening of the doors, until they were closed for the night. We did our best, and we have made every preparation to insure the comfort of the thousands that will attend our great sale tomorrow.

NEVER BEFORE WERE THERE SUCH VALUES!

We make no attempt to describe and give prices on the numberless articles of needed merchandise that fairly force themselves on the most economical shopper. Coats, Suits, Dress Goods, Silks, Wash Goods, Shoes, Millinery, Linens, Underwear, Men's Furnishings, Laces and Ribbons, all must go—and they are going as fast as delighted purchasers can carry them away. Those who came yesterday, came back again today, bringing their friends with them. Many new purchasers will be here tomorrow.

KILLED AT HOUGHTON

James D. Campbell of Duluth is Run Down by Train.

Was Walking on Track and Did Not Hear Approach.

Houghton, Mich., Jan. 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—While walking from Houghton to the home of his brother, Hugh J. Campbell, at the Isle Royale mill location, James D. Campbell, a resident of Duluth, was run down and killed by a passenger train on the D. S. S. & A. railroad just east of Houghton, Wednesday night, about 10:30. His dead body was found lying beside the track yesterday morning about 5:30 o'clock. Campbell came to Houghton Wednesday with his brother, and they separated, agreeing to meet again at 10 o'clock. When Hugh Campbell arrived at the meeting place, his brother was not there. He presumed that he had started to walk to the location, so boarded the train, by which the walking man was killed.

When he arrived at his home, his brother was not there, so he returned to Houghton and gave the alarm. When the body was found, the fur collar was turned up around the ears, and the head was muffled, so as to indicate he was walking on the track and did not hear the approaching train. The body will be sent to Duluth for interment.

The James D. Campbell mentioned in the dispatch was a carpenter, living at 411 North Twenty-fourth avenue west. He was 50 years of age, and is survived by a wife and several adult children. He left only this week for Houghton to visit his brother. Mr. Campbell was for a long period of years a foreman at the plant of the Zenith Furnace company in West Duluth. Last summer he was out West, returning a few months ago. He was a member of the Duluth Carpenter's union, and was well known in the West end of the city.

BIG INCREASE IN RECEIPTS

Land Office Did Good Business During Month of January.

The Duluth land office did a big business this month, showing an increase of $11,045.36 in receipts, as compared with January, 1907. Total receipts for the month were $39,929.54. Of this amount, $28,351.77 was from the sale of public land, $2,068.05 in fees and commissions, and $9,509.72 as commissions on entries of ceded Indian lands.

Total receipts in January, 1907, were $28,884.22. Almost every month in the last year has shown an increase in receipts at the Duluth office.

THE IDENTITY OF VESSEL UNKNOWN

Great Anxiety Felt for Her Crew and Life Savers.

Southwest Harbor, Me., Jan. 31.—Nothing is known here as to the identity of the three masted schooner which yesterday afternoon was found to have struck on the ledges off Little Duck Island, twenty-four hours earlier, nor has any word come from the crew of the Cranberry Isle life saving station which put off just before dark last evening to the assistance of the schooner. A high wind, which blew all night and still continues is causing the schooner to pound heavily, and the indications are that she must soon go to pieces.

Little Duck Island is fifteen miles from Southwest Harbor and between Cranberry Island and Great Duck Island. It is not inhabited and the sailors would have been unable to find shelter there had they been able to effect a landing. The temperature yesterday and today was about 15 degs. below zero. The greatest anxiety is felt here for the safety of both the life saving crew and that of the unknown vessel.

ATTITUDE ON TROYER

Tessman Makes Position Clear on Chief of Police.

Big Tessman Rally Will be Held in Rowley Hall.

The latest attempt of Mr. Haven's morning handicap to unearth something detrimental to Mr. Tessman is the statement that if he is elected mayor he will throw the police department into politics and discharge Chief Troyer.

"If anybody has thrown the police department into politics it is not I," said Mr. Tessman to The Herald today. "I have thrown no department of the city government into politics during this campaign. It has been my constant policy throughout the campaign, from the beginning until now, to keep my hands free and to make no pre-election promises. I made that promise at the outset, and I shall keep it to the end.

"As to Chief Troyer, since an attempt has been made by somebody to make the police department an issue, I will say this: I have promised to make no promises. If, when I am elected, I find that it is the wish of the people of Duluth that he be reappointed, I shall regard myself as a servant of the people, and it will be my pleasure to accede to their wishes in this as in all other respects."

There will be a rousing big Tessman meeting at Rowley hall on West Fifth street this evening.

It is the first big central meeting that Mr. Tessman has held in the present campaign, and his attendance is expected.

Mr. Tessman, Joseph W. Reynolds, W. E. McEwen and Andrew Nelson will be the speakers.

To the Editor of The Herald:

I notice that the News-Tribune is taking a walkout at some of its fellows for daring to have a choice in the present municipal election.

It is the first time I ever had it put up to me that being a union man, and perhaps holding an office in a union, deprived a man of a right to a voice in politics. It seemed to me that a labor leader has just as much right to support the man of his choice as any other individual. Maybe I am wrong, but the News-Tribune has convinced me of it yet. As to the two candidates, I can't see how any union man can consistently do otherwise than support Mr. Tessman. Though Mr. Haven tries to repudiate it now, he was until very recently president of the Builders' exchange.

Mr. Tessman, an employer of union labor and has always been fair in his dealings with the men in his employ.

ITCHING ECZEMA FIFTY-FIVE YEARS

Suffered Torments from Birth —
Boils Formed as Big as Walnuts —
In Frightful Condition and Could Hardly Work — Tried All Kinds of Remedies to No Avail — At Last

WHOLLY CURED IN 8 MONTHS BY CUTICURA

"I had an itching, tormenting eczema ever since I came into the world, and I am now a man fifty-five years old. I tried all kinds of medicines I heard of, but found no relief. I was truly in a frightful condition. At last my blood was so bad that I broke out all over with red and white boils, which kept growing until they were as big as walnuts, causing great pain and misery. I thought they would take the skin off my whole body, but I kept from scratching as well as I could. I was so run down that I could hardly do my work.
Mr. Nelson R. Burnett recommended the use of Cuticura Remedies, telling me that he was confident the truth of the above and, in time, cure me. I used the Cuticure Soap, Ointment, Resolvent, and Pills for about eight months, and I can truthfully say I am cured. I cordially recommend Cuticura Remedies to all who are afflicted the same as I was, believing that, if they will use them according to directions, they will find them all they are represented to be.
Any one doubting the truth of the above can write to Mr. Burnett, who will cheerfully vouch for my statements."
—Hale Bordwell, R. P. D. 3, Cedar Corners, Tipton, Ia., Aug. 17, 1907."

"I cheerfully endorse the above testimonial. It is the truth. I know Mr.
Bordwell and know the condition he was in. He never tires of praising the Cuticura Remedies."
—Nelson R. Burnett, Tipton, Ia."

Gentle anointments with Cuticura,

ANOTHER FIRE ON PARK POINT

W. E. Jones' House Destroyed—Fire Fighting Facilities Inadequate.

More evidence of poor fire-fighting facilities was secured yesterday, through a fire which totally destroyed the one and one-half story dwelling owned by W. E. Jones, at 2724 Minnesota avenue, and occupied by James Woodhull, an airial bridge operator. The house was burned to the ground, and all its contents destroyed, late in the afternoon.

The alarm was turned in by neighbors who saw smoke issuing from the windows. One of the first to arrive at the scene was Volunteer Chief George Ball and his assistant, George Lindberg, were the only ones who caught the fire car.
They were later aided by volunteers, but, handicapped by lack of water, were unable to check the flames. Some of the hydrants were frozen, and a stream of water was turned on from the building it was almost a wreck. The loss is estimated at $1,000. This will be another strong argument for better protection on the point.

FOUR PLEAD GUILTY.

Gratton, N. D., Jan. 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—In the district court four persons guilty have been found, as follows:
Tom Vondraschack, Conway, violating prohibition law. Iver Beble, violating prohibition law. Gus Weber, violating prohibition law. J. H. Brown, violating prohibition law.
The following pleaded not guilty: T.
Christianson, mayhem; Carl Bergquist, rape; Sam Winter, larceny.

HOME-LIKE COMFORTS.

Hotel St. Regis, New York, Offers Unusual Attractions.

A NEW PHASE IN LIVING

"God's blessing upon the man who provides you with the comforts of home when away from home!" was the exclamation of a well-known personage whose business compelled him to be much away from his own fireside.
When or where this man found entertainment so enjoyable as to call forth this benediction is not recorded, but such an expression might naturally fall from the lips of any one of the many thousands who have had the good fortune to share the bounteous and comfort-giving hospitality of New York's leading hotel, the St. Regis, at Fifth avenue and Sixty-fifth street.

Home comforts reach their climax in this hotel. Whether your tastes be moderate or extreme, the St. Regis, by reason of its perfect construction, its matchless equipment and its excellent management, is prepared to satisfy and please to the utmost. A vast expenditure of money, combined with rare foresight and good judgment, have produced "a veritable marvel" in the St.
Regis Hotel. Every requisite for personal comfort and restful enjoyment is at hand.

Expensive, do you ask? Such a false report once gained circulation. Where the idea originated is a mystery, but it must have been in the mind of some one who knew nothing about the St.
Regis by actual experience. Comparatively speaking, the cost of living at the St. Regis is most moderate, as all who have experienced the pleasures there offered will bear witness. A single room, beautifully furnished, may be had for $4 a day; or the same, with private bath, for $5 a day; or a parlor, bedroom and bath for $12 and upward.
Furthermore, the restaurant charges are no higher than in other first-class hotels.

HAS KNIFE FOR J. ADAM

R. D. Haven Promised to Withdraw Support From Congressman.

Entered Into Agreement
Before Securing News
Tribune's Support.

Many of Congressman Bede's supporters in Duluth, are very much wrought up over the fact, recently brought to light, that before he could get the support of the Duluth News Tribune, R. D.
Haven had to promise to withdraw his support from Mr. Bede, and devote his energies to the nomination and election of a candidate active by the Bede opposition.

It is understood that the man was mentioned at the present of the agreement as the possible opponent of their popular congressman, and that Mr. Haven therefore did not wish to lend his support to any particular individual.
It has been proven to the satisfaction of some of Bede's friends, however, that he did agree not to support the present candidate when he comes up for re-election.

Paul's conversion of the Bede ranks is creating much bitter talk among Republicans. The action comes with very bad grace, for, apparently, the only reason the majority candidate had for taking it is the fact that he was a disappointed officeholder under Bede. He made a desperate effort to land the republican of the local land office, but because Congressman Bede thought there was another man more deserving of the place, he evidently decided, when the opportunity offered, to throw his support to someone else, and get what satisfaction he could out of the fanned revivings.

Congressman Bede and local Republicans generally are willing to admit that Mr. Haven did good work for Bede during the last congressional campaign, but they say there also were many others who did equally good work, and who were equally deserving of favors at the hands of the successful candidate.
There were not enough plums to be distributed among them all, and it is conceded that Mr. Morrison was as deserving as any one of the land office resulting from Bede's friends point to the fact that other disappointed officeholders, understanding all this, are still enthusiastic supporters of the congressman.

ALBENBERG'S STOCK DAMAGED

Bursting of Pipe Floods Portion of Main Floor.

A loss of between $8,000 and $10,000 resulted to the stock of goods on the main floor of Albenberg & Co.'s store, corner of Superior street and First avenue west, as a result of the bursting of one of the pipes in the sprinkling system in the department store.

The pipe was in one of the front windows and the store following the accident was so powerful that before water could be shut off, all the goods in the front part of the store had been flooded. The dress goods, silks, velvets, wash goods, notions and linings were almost ruined, together with the suits in the display window. The defect in the pipe has not been accounted for as yet.

It does the business.
Mr. E. E. Chamberlain, of Clinton,
Maine, who is running the Africa Salve.
"It does the business; I have used it for piles and it cured them. Used it for chapped hands and it cured them. Applied it to an old sore and it healed it without leaving a scar behind." 25c at all

CARRIAGE MAKER KILLS DAUGHTER

Chicago Man Shoots Three
One After the Other.

Chicago, Jan. 30.—William H. Meusch, a carriage maker at 419 Armitage avenue, yesterday shot and killed one of his daughters, 5 years old, and fatally wounded his two other children.
The cause of the crime is not known, but according to the police, Meusch had recently quarreled with his wife several times, because of the children.
The carriage shop was beneath the rooms in which the Meusch family lived, and late yesterday the man called Gertrude, the oldest daughter, telling her to come to the carriage shop. As she stepped through the door Meusch fired a bullet into her abdomen, killing her instantly. He then called Jennie, 2 years old and shot her as she entered the shop. William, the 2-year-old son was the last victim to be killed, and his father shot him just above the heart as he came in. The two children were taken to a nearby hospital, where it was stated that both of them will die.
Mrs. Meusch and an older son were upstairs at the time and heard the shots, but paid little attention to them.
A short time after Mrs. Meusch saw her husband walking in the back yard carrying the dead body of Gertrude, and the unconscious form of Jennie in his arms. She at once telephoned to the police. In the meantime Meusch placed the children on the floor of the basement and locked himself in a small closet.
The murderer is believed by the police to be of unsound mind. He confessed Meusch said to Capt. Harding: "My kill another daughter, 18 years old, who was absent when the tragedy occurred."
Meusch said to Capt. Harding: "My children are better off dead than alive."
15-year-old daughter left home three months ago because of domestic trouble."

COL SNAP
NOT MINDED
Prices on Michigan Street
Show Very Slight Changes.

Poultry is a Little Higher—Receipts Are Light.

The cold snap in this neck of the woods has been productive of few changes in the local produce market, as business has continued at about the same volume, and at the same prices, with few exceptions, this week as last.

At this time of the year Michigan street is at a standstill. There are no features to be found along its stretch.
The present cold snap could not have come at a more opportune time for commission merchants. They expect a certain amount of very cold weather during the year; they do not like it particularly, but they expect it. But up to now the weather had been mild, and receipts have arrived in good condition. If the zero weather had swept down upon the town at Christmas time, when business was abnormally brisk, its effect would have been immense.

London, Jan. 31.—Heated charges of cowardice in turning a blind eye to the "reign of terrorism" in Ireland, in order to keep the Nationalists in good temper and assure a continuance of their support in the commons were launched against the government in the house of lords, yesterday. The marquis of Londonderry, who was viceroy of Ireland in 1896-98, led in the attack and so invectives were his sentiments that ever Lord Lang-

BANDIT DIES WITH STOICISM

Pleads With Hangman to Allow Him to Fasten Noose.

Calcutta, Jan. 31.—Putan Din, the decoy leader, who was captured with many members of his band in the Bara Banki jungles, after a "drive" carried out by a force of police and villagers numbering close on 5,000 men, has paid the penalty of his misdeeds. He was a man of remarkable powers of organization. Besides personally directing most of the decoys and planning the rest, he was known to have committed at least one murder in the course of his long career of crime.

He and his brother were hanged on the same day, and a correspondent gives a striking picture of the bearing of the robber chief face to face with death. Both brothers were dressed in spotlessly clean garments, but to the close observer this was the only resemblance between them. Putan Din walked into the enclosure with a firm step and a look of proud defiance on his face. When Rag-hunadan set down to have his frons knocked off, Putan Din chided him for selling his clothes by sitting on the ground. Then he gave his blanket to the jail officials and laid them spread it on the ground for him to sit on.

While his frons were being knocked off, he comforted his brother, and so strong was his personality that he ultimately imparted sufficient strength to the miserable man by his side to enable him when his time came to walk to the gallows without a falter. The hangman approached Putan Din to pinion his arms, but he waved him aside and asked the jail janitor to do it for him. Speaking to the hangman, he requested him not to touch him. He said he would place the rope around his neck and hang himself if the executioner would show him how to do it when they arrived at the gallows. Then, turning to the European officials present, he confessed his crime and finished by saying: "It is justice that I should be hanged. I ordered the murder to be done. My brother, however, is innocent. I led him into bad ways." He then turned to his brother and said: "Come, our time has arrived," and stepped forward up the incline. Rag-hunadan, however, hung back, and Putan Din had to be checked, he again spoke to his brother, and then the two walked steadily up and stood on the gallows. Putan Din in a firm voice said "Good-by" to his friends, and addressing his brother said: "Good-by, brother. I am sorry I brought you to this. The noise of the falling trap was the only reply.

CONCERNING TOMMY.

Invitations have been received by the federated clubs of the city for the annual mid-winter reception and luncheon of the Minnesota State Federation of Women's Clubs, which will be held this year, Wednesday, Feb. 12, at the new Elks' hall at St. Paul. The notice from the committee, which accompanies the invitations, is as follows:

"We desire to emphasize the unique, and, we believe, valuable features of the arrangements for the coming mid-winter meeting of the Minnesota Federation of Women's Clubs, in the hope that there may be a larger attendance than ever before. We note, first, the time, a holiday, Feb. 12, when teachers and other business women can be present; second, the place, a large, new building, handsome in all its appointments, and a banquet hall separate from the assembly room. Third, a buffet luncheon, instead of a breakfast. The luncheon will be bountiful, and we think entirely satisfactory in all respects, and occupy much less time. We expect to serve 600 people in an hour and a half. It will be promptly at 12:30. During the luncheon a reception will be held in the parlors, at which the president, ex-presidents and other officers, assisted by club presidents, will receive informally. A larger opportunity for acquaintance and social enjoyment will thus be afforded. The literary program will begin exactly at 2 o'clock, and end at 3:30. The papers to be read are on live topics of vital interest to women as mothers and citizens, as well as individuals. The Schubert club of Paul has prepared a charming musicale, from 4 to 5:30 p. m., in honor of the state federation. Sixth, the price is but 25 cents, which admits all federated club women to the exercises of the entire day, including the musicale. The usual fee to the Schubert musicale alone is $1.

Please ask the members of your club to secure tickets before Feb. 10 as the caterer must know how many to provide. There is ample room for all. Mrs. H. L. Ladd, secretary, orchestra will play during the luncheon and reception.

"Yours truly,
"MRS. RUSSELL R. DORR.
"MRS. G. W. HUGHES.
"MRS. W. M. TODD.

JAPANESE ART.

One Process Mastered By Former Duluth Woman.

In the International Studio for February is an extended notice of the work of Mrs. Burt Lum of Minneapolis, who was formerly Miss Bertha Bull of this city. The many Duluth friends of Mrs. Lum have watched her progress in the making of Japanese prints with great interest. The "Studio" for February contains two reproductions of her poster, "The Two Chrono-xylographs," of which reproductions are given, are interesting examples of the process, as employed by an American lady, who has acquired her knowledge and skill mainly in Japanese studios, under native artists. Mrs. Lum had already made considerable progress in this art, when she was in Japan, but she had not time to complete it. She had a chance to study the methods practiced by native wood engravers, first of all in a small atelier in Kyoto, and later in the Kokka atelier in Tokyo, well known through the publication bearing that name. A detailed account of the process follows. In Japan, as in Europe, for the work of the artist in cutting and printing the blocks is not undertaken by the draughtsman, who confines himself to creating the design, but Mrs. Lum has produced all her prints from beginning to end without aid.

HOME WEDDING.

Miss Vesta Randall Becomes Bride of John C. Shimonek.

The wedding of Miss Vesta Randall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Randall to John C. Shimonek of Jamestown, N. D., took place Tuesday at the home of the bride's parents on Piedmont avenue. The wedding service was read by Rev. J. R. Davis of Grace Methodist church and only the families were present. Mr. and Mrs. Shimonek left for a southern wedding trip and after March 1 they will be at home at Jamestown.

Club Notes.

"The Key Browning Optimism" was the subject of the lecture this morning by Rev. J. W. Powell, and the library club room was filled with enthusiastic followers of the course. The concluding lecture of the course will be given next Friday morning when "Browning's Place in Literature" will be the subject discussed.

There has been a request for an Evening Shakespeare class as a part of the work of the Twentieth Century club, and the first meeting for the purpose of organization, if the demand be large enough, will be held Monday evening of next week at the club room of the library.

A short course for the study of Ibsen's "Peer Gynt" has been arranged and the first meeting will be held Thursday morning, Feb. 19 at the club room of the library with Miss Laura Frankfield as leader.

The course will be followed by a meeting at which the Greg music will be studied.

Saturday Club.

The regular meeting of the Saturday club will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the club room of the library.

ENGLAND TO WAGE WAR ON THE RATS

Science to Aid in Extermination of Carriers of Disease.

London, Jan. 31.—Although most of the London papers treat more or less humorously the formation of "A National Society for the Destruction of Vermine," under the auspices of Sir James Crichton-Browne, yet scientific men deem it one of the most important sanitary measures of the century, and, if successful, one of the greatest accomplishments of the age.

For several years England has been the only free port nation does, but the muzzling orders under which a campaign against them was begun were issued until Walter Long had the courage to impose drastic restrictions upon the importation of dogs from countries where rats prevailed.

But England, which led the way to show how rats might become extinct, has hitherto held aloof from emulating the example of other nations in their campaign against rats. In course of time, therefore, England has become the greatest exporting country of rats in Europe, and hardly a cargo leaves an English dock that does not contain some foreign port hundreds of death-dealing rodents.

At the meeting held in Whitehall rooms the other day Sir James Crichton-Browne, in a semiborn speech, announced that war to the knife was to be declared on the pestilent vermin, and he resigned as follows:

"It is the chief cause of the 1,000,000 deaths a year which occurred in India during the first half of 1907, it brings pestilence and misery to the millions of the East. It is the cause of the loss of millions of dollars in commerce. It is the cause of the loss of millions of dollars in commerce. It is the cause of the loss of millions of dollars in commerce."

He said that in Japan a few years before the war with Russia the rat had become so intolerable a pest that the minister of agriculture took it up and a small reward was offered by the government for every rat skin. The result of that policy was that the rat soon became very scarce in Japan—too scarce for those who had been making a good living by selling skins to the government, and then took to importing rat skins from China.

War of Rats Declared.
During the war, when the cold season came, the government issued to the troops a fine, soft little leather pouch to cover the ears and nose and prevent frostbite, and it was then discovered that these were made of rat skin. Rat skins, properly treated and prepared, made a beautiful soft leather, but the black rat, which is the most common, is not so good. It is the cause of the loss of millions of dollars in commerce. It is the cause of the loss of millions of dollars in commerce."

There was a time when there were no rats in England. They came out of Central Asia and sent forth waves of emigration—westward the star of empire made its way. The first great wave, the black rat, reached Europe about the beginning of the sixteenth century; the second wave, the brown rat, did not reach England until the beginning of the eighteenth century. It was about 100 years after the first wave that the great plague in London broke out, and at that time London was overrun with rats.

The large brown rat had made war on the black with such success that the black rat, which had been the pest of the East, had almost disappeared from many parts of the country.

Found!

A few things during inventory and we will take a loss to lose them for good. Another application of the Columbia proverb: "A loss in time saves nine." You know the dust from Third Avenue, also some clerks' and ladies' fingers will soil a few delicate colors, and changeable Dame Fashion will do the rest, if you keep wearables long enough in the showcase.

Well, here are a few for tomorrow:

$4.00 and $6.00 Bath Robes at $1.00.

They are of Terry cloth—about twenty of 'em—most all of them somewhat soiled—find one for one dollar.

Smoking Jackets at $2.50.

Not over a dozen of 'em—would have sold as high as $10 in their palmy days. They are a little shorter than the latest style—and the price is accordingly short.

$1.50 to $2.50 Wash Suits at 50c.

Children's Wash Suits—mostly white ones, but not immaculate. There are about thirty-five of these. Pay us a 50-cent reward for each one we found.

Ladies' Stocks at 15c.

Stocks and Turnover Collars which are all good styles, but there are not many left, and all are a trifle soiled. So we'll close 'em for 15 cents. Two for a quarter.

All these Saturday Specials will be found in our Children's Department on the second floor.

FEBRUARY WEATHER.

Average Temperature in the Past Has Been 13 Degrees Above.

The normal temperature during the month of February in Duluth, during a period extending the past thirty-seven years, has been 13 degs. above zero, according to data compiled by H. W. Richardson, local forecaster.

The warmest month was that of 1877, with an average of 21 degs. above, and the coldest month was in 1895, with an average of 2 degs. above. The highest temperature recorded in February was 28 above on the 26th in 1895, and the lowest was 6 below on the 9th in 1899.

The average precipitation for the month has been 36 inches. The greatest monthly precipitation was 2.71 inches in 1874, and the least was .10 inches in 1877. The average number of clear days is nine, partly cloudy, ten, cloudy, nine. The prevailing winds have been from the northeast and northwest.

ARTISTS RESENT PLAN TO LIGHT VENICE CANALS.

Venice, Jan. 31.—All the artists in Venice, besides the best-known and most influential people in society, are up in arms for the defense of the city's moonlight. This aesthetic campaign is the result of a decision by the Venetian municipality to light the Grand canal, St. Mark's basin and other canals by incandescent gas burners. It is not denied that the present system of lighting is scanty and inefficient, yet the artists are blending of crude light which would utterly destroy the beautiful colors for which Venice by moonlight enjoys world-wide fame. A petition has been forwarded to the municipal authorities asking them to rescind their order. Among the signatories are artists, poets and writers.

SLIGHT INCREASE IN RECOVERY OF INSANE.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 31.—According to the nineteenth annual report of the state commission in lunacy, submitted to the legislature today, the whole number of committed insane on Oct. 1, 1907, was 25,093; men, 12,927, women, 12,166. The inmates of the two criminal asylums at Mattawan and Dannemora, numbered 1,914; private insane institutions, 877. The net increase for the year in all institutions was 791. The total number of patients received on original commitments was 6,105. The maintenance cost of each insane person was $352 a week; clothing and subsistence, average $6.71 per annum. The commission reports a slight increase in the rate of recovery. The percentage of cures on the number of patients received on original commitments was 25.5. The total number of patients discharged during the year was recovered was 1,557 and as improved 1,236.

SHOWS SOME DECREASE

Vessel Tonnage Through Portage Lake Canal's Less in 1907.

Major Fitch Issues His Annual Report on Important Waterway.

During the season of navigation in 1907, 2,448,641 tons of vessel freight passed through the Portage Lake canal, according to the annual report which has just been issued by Maj. Graham D. Fitch, United States engineer in charge of the Lake Superior district. The freight passing through the canal was valued at $10,777,776.

The decrease in freight tonnage from that of last year was 7.5 per cent, while the increase over 1907, was 133.8 per cent. There were 253 days of open navigation in the past season, while there were 241 days of open navigation in 1907. The lake commerce was heaviest during the months of July and August, but more vessels passed through the canal in October and November, the stormy season, indicating clearly the extent to which the canal is used for refuge.

The report shows that the cargo sizes are gradually increasing. Loaded vessels 500 feet and over in length and drawing 10 feet and 6 inches of water, having passed through the canal last season without difficulty. The average net tonnage of the largest twenty vessels passing through the canal is 4,434 tons.

Increase in tonnage of cement, coal, pig iron, rail and limestone were shown in the passenger list, while there was a decrease in the tonnage of copper ore, grain, miscellaneous merchandise, manufacturing iron, iron ore, lumber and flour.

Five Storage Lake canals were constructed by the government to give refuge to the lake vessels and a safe waterway around Keweenaw point.

The increase or decrease in the tonnage passing through the canal in 1907, was the extent to which the lake vessels made use of the waterway to avoid the danger of navigating the lake in bad weather.

In addition to the items above quoted that were passed through the canal in 1907, 546,000 feet of logs, valued at $144,885 were towed through the waterway.

ALUMINUM MONEY COINED.

British Government Tries New Medium in African Provinces.

London, Jan. 31.—Nearly $2,000,000 coins made of aluminum have just been struck from the royal mint for circulation in Uganda and the Nigerian protectorates. Each coin bears the value either of 1 cent or of 2 mills, and is perforated in the center, like Chinese coins, in order to permit the natives to string them together. The advantage of aluminum as a medium of exchange is its light weight and the fact that it is the best non-ferrous metal known.

Bronze coins, as well as some silver, are circulated on the west coast of Africa, but in the five new colonies the use of little shells, known as cowries, as fractional currency, is still in vogue.

It is pointed out that the new coins have been struck from the same dies as the old ones, and that the new coins are much more costly to coin than the old ones, and yield less profit. So far as I know these are the only aluminum coins in the world.

INDIAN STABS WHITE

During Drunken Row at Tea Lake, Then Disappears.

ON VERGE OF BATTLE

Japan's Fight to Maintain Its Existence as Solvent Nation.

Government Blamed for Great Increase in Cost of Living.

Tokio, Jan. 31.—Despite the alarming indulgence in war talk and other surmises suggestive of belligerence that have been persistently circulated by a certain section of the press in regard to Japan's intentions on the Pacific, her next war is assuredly still beyond the range of vision or even forecast.

And yet one need not be a prophet or the son of a prophet to perceive that Japan is on the verge of a great conflict. Paradoxical as may seem, it is nevertheless true. There is to be a struggle, though it may not mean the clash of arms and the shedding of blood.

In the first place, Japan does not want war, and has no intention of doing anything that might involve trouble outside her borders. The fact is, Japan has had enough of war to last her for a reasonably long time.

Her governing classes will have no more of it, and without them Japan could put up but a poor showing in favor of fight. Nothing less than the very gravest of causes could persuade them to enter upon another conflict.

But the nation is face to face with an expensive luxury for a poor nation. The Manchurian victory, so unprovoked and so unprecedented in achievement, are admittedly too costly an undertaking for more than one generation.

There is not a man of any common sense in Japan who has any ambition for a repetition of their atrocities; the expense of empire they have created are not yet provided for; the millions in gold they have buried can never be resurrected, and creditors are calling in vain at the imperial doors. The last war has laid upon Japan a great burden. No one could contemplate another war for Japan without desiring the nation's ruin.

A Conflict of Money, Not Blood.

But the nation is face to face with a gigantic conflict nevertheless. One evil always breeds others; and the last war has left Japan in a state of financial depletion that only the most tremendous efforts in the way of frugality and thrift can recuperate. No one who knows the social conditions of the country at present believes that Japan is going to accomplish this without a pressure upon the masses that will be almost unbearable. In the not very distant future Japan will find herself confronted with a conflict not of blood, perhaps, but of money; not for conquest, but for existence as a solvent nation; and the greater the burden she will require adjustment of her finances will require a condition of extreme poverty. Already the limit of the nation's taxable capacity has been reached, but the giant burden has not even begun to move. How long can the poorest people on the face of the earth be expected to endure a per capita tax of $2 yen? Even now it is easy to notice that a vast social and industrial unrest is permeating the entire fabric of Japanese society; the threat of increased taxation is tightening the strain; in dozens of instances the cords of restraint have given way, with disastrous results. There has not been a single important line of industry in Japan that during the last twelve months has not known strikes of the most serious nature, all due to the ultrafinancial stringency that could not afford a living wage.

Stocks and Shares Never Lower.

In some instances these social eruptions resulted in wanton and wholesale destruction of valuable property and ruthless loss of life. Stocks and shares were never lower in the history of the empire. The phenomenal boom in the establishment of commercial companies and new lines of industrial enterprise that marked the opening of 1907 has broken, and many of the embryo undertakings have already gone into the liquidation.

The failure of banks is of common occurrence. The government monopolies and the big corporations, under the patronage of the government, are swallowing up the smaller ventures, with naturally a consequent discouragement to private enterprise. But the difficulty that calls for immediate adjustment is that bearing upon the increased cost of living, which is unjustly oppressing the masses. For this the government must bear the responsibility.

The government is to blame, because, although the indebtedness of the nation is now more than the people can well bear, the authorities are recklessly proceeding with an ever-increasing expenditure of money. Moreover, the exceedingly high tariff on the necessities of life has resulted in an increased cost of living in all directions. This has advanced by 20 per cent in the last five years, and without any corresponding increase of wages or salaries. During the last twelve months the price of rice, which is the poor man's bread, has gone up to double what it was a year ago, and is now higher than ever before in the history of Japan. The alarming and sudden increase in the cost of living, combined with the weight of taxation, leaves the masses justly disaffected toward the government; yet the latter goes on indifferently, adding to the nation's liabilities by raising loans and expanding enterprises that even wealthy nations would hesitate to afford. That the result of such extravagance can turn out

It is a matter of wonder to many that Japan should go on presenting the world with the paradoxical spectacle of a nation that both naturally and professedly does not want war, and yet is all the while devoting the greater part of her resources to a preparation for war. Her arsenals and naval yards are busy day and night turning out the latest equipments in land and sea combat, apparently for no purpose but the desire to possess a fighting capacity second to none.

WEST END

WILL BUILD NEW FLATS

Sundeen & Johnson Let Contract for the Building.

David Adams Closes Several West End Realty Deals.

This week may have been the coldest one of the winter, but it was not a dull one in the West end, so far as building activity and real estate deals were concerned.

Sundeen & Johnson have let the contract to John Jacobson for the erection of a new brick building on Twenty-seventh avenue west, between Second and Third streets.

The building will contain four modern flats, and work upon it is to start at once.

David Adams has let contracts to John Nord for the building of two new residences on Fourth street, between Twenty-seventh and Twenty-eighth avenues west. Work has already started on one of the houses, and the other will be started the first of next week.

One of these two houses has already been disposed of by Mr. Adams. He closed a deal yesterday for the sale of one to H. G. Huey.

The erection of these two new houses on Fourth street makes thirteen altogether that Mr. Adams has erected here. He has sold sixteen houses since last April.

Mr. Adams has also sold the house he will take possession of in the spring. The purchaser is Victor Juten, and the consideration is $2,000. Juten is now looking around for some suitable property on which to erect a handsome home for himself. It will probably be built during the coming summer.

West End Hillside Improvement club held a political rally last evening in Peter Olson's carpenter shop, Twenty-third avenue west and Tenth street. It was expected that R. D. Haven would be present, but he was unable to come. A number of speeches were made in his behalf. Peter Olson, adremanic candidate in the Sixth ward, J. Moe, adremanic candidate in the Seventh ward, and Alderman Kennedy gave talks. A Haven victory will be held this evening in Columbia hall.

West End Shortfalls.

Rev. Frank Prestad of Superior was the principal speaker at an entertainment given last evening in the First Norwegian-Danish M. E. church. The receipts will be turned into the new church fund.

The Ladies' Aid society of the First Norwegian-Danish M. E. church, met yesterday afternoon, with Mrs. Weststad as guest. Mrs. Weststad is visiting in the city.

Miss Lila Smith of Bayfield, Wis., is visiting friends and relatives in the West end.

Mrs. John Larson of 204 West Second street was operated on in the West End hospital, yesterday, by Dr. Oredson.

Mrs. Larson has been suffering from an abdominal abscess.

John Lindquist of 244 West Fourth street is seriously ill and was removed to St. Luke's hospital, yesterday.

Mrs. Hugo Svensen of 190 West Second street, has recovered from the grip. J. C. Eklund has returned from the home of his parents at Kokoto, Minn., where he has been visiting for a week.

Meetings will be held every night next week at the First Swedish Baptist church. They will be conducted by Rev. Dr. Per Olson, organist at Bethany Swedish Lutheran church, entertained the choir at his home Wednesday evening.

It's worth while to see our hats; none better; bring your old hat—we'll make it new. Peterson, 184 Piedmont avenue west.

Star Capt. Watt of the Salvation Army gave a lecture on "Love and Sorrow" last evening at the Scandinavian barracks in the West end. Captain Watt sang. The entertainment was well attended.

The 1907 imported liver oil, A. E. Swedberg, 3 E. Sup. St. and 205 W. Sup. St. The Christian Endeavor society of the Second Presbyterian church will entertain next Sunday by the Christian Endeavorers of the First Presbyterian church.

Mrs. Harry Jones director of the choir in Calvary Baptist church, Minneapolis, who is in the city, told of her recent trip around the world at Central Baptist church, last evening.

For week lungs, use the Norwegian Cod Liver Oil, sold at the Lion Drug Store.

Anton Morterud of Twenty-seventh avenue west and Fifth street, is confined to his home by an attack of the grip.

Miss Adeline Erickson of Park avenue has returned from Virginia, where she has been visiting relatives for the past two weeks.

Get the habit. Go to the Star theater tonight, Tuesday and Wednesday, and Thursday. Matinee Saturday at 2:30.

The funeral of Nicholas Frenz of 1123 West Michigan street, was held yesterday morning and St. Peter and St. Paul's Catholic church of the West end took place at Calvary cemetery.

Take no chances, have your prescriptions filled at the Lion Drug Store.

THE NEW MARRIAGE LAW FOR CATHOLICS

Engagements Must Be in Writing and Violation of Regulations Will Make Wedding Ceremony Void in Eyes of Church.

The Catholic church's new laws, touching on betrothal and marriage are to be promulgated Easter Sunday in every Catholic diocese in the world, and they go into effect at noon on that day. Under these laws any marriage contracted between Catholics will be absolutely void in the eyes of the church unless it be celebrated in the presence of a duly qualified priest and two witnesses. At present the marriage of a Catholic with a non-Catholic clergyman or by a civil magistrate is valid, although it is considered illicit, and the persons contracting it render themselves liable to excommunication. Protestants married by a minister will be regarded as lawfully married under the new law.

"In brief," said a Catholic clergyman, "marriages between Catholics in Protestant churches or registry offices will be for Catholics not only sinful, but invalid, and the persons who contract them will have only gone through an empty ceremony and will be no more husband and wife than they were before. This law binds all Catholics, even though they are apostate or excommunicated."

land, as only ordained ministers and those of the Society of Friends have authority to perform marriage ceremonies in that state. The decree in full follows: Decree Concerning Sponsalia (engagements) and Matrimony. The Council of Trent, Chapter I, Section XXIV, concerning reformation of matrimony, made prudent provision against the rash celebration of clandestine marriages, which the Church of God, for most just reasons has always detested and forbidden by decree. Those who otherwise than in the presence of the parish priest himself or of another priest acting with the license of the parish priest or the ordinary, and in the presence of two or three witnesses shall attempt to contract matrimony, the Holy Synod renders them altogether incapable of contracting marriage thus, and decrees that contracts of this kind are null and void. But as the same sacred council prescribed that said decree should be published in all the parishes and was not to have force except in those places in which it had been promulgated, it has happened that many places in which the publication has not been made have been deprived of the benefit of the Tridentine law, and are still without it and continue to be subject to the doubts and inconveniences of the old discipline.

Nor has all difficulty been removed in those places where the new law has been in force. For often there has been grave doubts as to the person of the parish priest before whom a marriage is to be celebrated. The canonical discipline did indeed decide that he is to be regarded as the parish priest in whose parish one or other of the contracting parties has his or her domicile or quasi domicile. But as it is sometimes difficult to judge of the domicile—really exists in a specified case, not a few marriages were exposed to the danger of nullity; many, too, either owing to ignorance or fraud, have been found to be quite illegitimate and void.

Changes in Forms.

These deplorable results have been seen to happen more frequently in our own time on account of the increased facility and celerity of intercommunication between the different countries, even those most widely separated. It has therefore seemed expedient to wise and learned men to introduce some change into the law regulating the form of the celebration of marriage, and a great many bishops in all parts of the world, but especially in the more populous states where the necessity appears more urgent, have petitioned the Holy See to this end.

It has been asked also by very many bishops in Europe, as well as by others in various regions that provision should be made to prevent the inconveniences arising from sponsalia, that is, mutual promises of marriages privately entered upon. For experience has sufficiently shown the many dangers of such sponsalia, first as being an incitement to sin and causing the deception of inexperienced girls, and afterward giving rise to inextricable dissensions and disputes.

Influenced by these circumstances, our Holy Father, Pope Pius X, desiring in the solicitude he bears for all the churches, to introduce some modifications with the object of removing these drawbacks and dangers, committed to the Sacred Congregation of the Council, to issue a decree containing the laws, approved by himself on sure knowledge and after mature deliberation. By such means is the discipline regarding sponsalia and marriage to be regulated for the future and the celebration of them carried out in a sure and orderly manner.

In execution, therefore, of the apostolic mandate, the Sacred Congregation of the Council by these letters lays down and decrees what follows:

1. Concerning engagements. Only those are considered valid and produce canonical effects which have been contracted in writing, signed by the parties and by either the parish priest or by the ordinary of the place, or at least by two witnesses.

2. Here and in the following articles by parish priests is to be understood not only a priest legitimately presiding over a parish canonically erected, but also a great many bishops in all parts of the world, but especially in the more populous states where the necessity appears more urgent, have petitioned the Holy See to this end.

3. Concerning marriage. Only those marriages are valid which are contracted before the parish priest, or by the ordinary of the place, or by a priest designated by either of these, and at least two witnesses, according to the rules laid down in the following articles and saving the exceptions mentioned under 7 and 8.

4. The parish priest and the ordinary may validly assist at a marriage:

(1) Only from the day they have taken possession of the benefice or entered upon their office, unless they have been by a public decree excommunicated by name or suspended from the office.

(2) When they have ascertained that the contracting parties have a domicile, or at least have lived for a month in the place where his marriage takes place.

(3) If this condition be lacking, the parish priest and the ordinary of the place, to assist licitly at a marriage, require the permission of the parish priest or the ordinary of one of the contracting parties, unless it be a case of grave necessity, which excuses from this permission.

(4) Concerning persons without fixed abode, except in case of necessity, it is not lawful for a parish priest to assist at their marriage until they report the matter to the ordinary or to a priest designated by him and obtain permission to assist.

(5) In every case let it be held as the rule that the parish priest is to be assisted by the ordinary of the place, or by a priest designated by either of these two cannot be had, in order to provide for the relief of conscience, and (should the case require it) for the legitimization of offspring, marriage may be contracted validly before any priest and two witnesses.

6. Should it happen that in any district the parish priest or the ordinary of the place or the priest delegated by them before whom the marriage can be celebrated is not to be had, and that this condition of things has lasted for a month, marriage may be validly and licitly entered upon by the formal declaration of consent made by the spouses in the presence of two witnesses.

7. Making of the Record. (1) After the celebration of the marriage the parish priest or he who takes his place, is to write at once in the book of marriages the names of the couple and of the witnesses, the place and day of the celebration of the marriage and the other details, according to the method prescribed in the ritual books or by the ordinary, and this even when another priest delegated by the parish priest or by the ordinary has assisted at the marriage.

(2) Moreover, the parish priest is to note in the book on baptisms that the married persons contracted marriage on such or such a day in his parish. If the married persons have been baptized elsewhere the parish priest who has assisted at the marriage is to transmit the record to the parish priest of the place where the baptism took place.

(3) If this condition be lacking, the parish priest and the ordinary of the the Holy See decree otherwise for some particular place or region.

(3) Non-Catholics, whether baptized or unbaptized, who contract among themselves are nowhere bound to observe the Catholic form of sponsalia or marriage. The present decree is to be held as legitimately published and promulgated by its transmission to the ordinaries, and its provisions begin to have the force of law from the solemn feast of the Resurrection of Our Lord Jesus Christ in 1908.

Meanwhile, let all the ordinaries of places see that this decree be made public as soon as possible, and explain in the different parochial churches of their diocese, in order that it may be known by all. These presents are to have force by the special order of our most holy father Pope Pius X, all things to the contrary, even those worthy of special mention to the contrary notwithstanding.

Given at Rome on the 24 day of August, 1907.

Card, Bishop of Palestrina, Prefect.

C. DE LAI, Secretary.

THE MOST SUSPICIOUS EVER.

Henry Clews, the noted banker and author, was talking at the Union club in New York about a certain financier. "No wonder the man is so successful," said Mr. Clews. "He is the most careful, the most suspicious fellow I ever heard of. In fact, he reminds me of a Staffordshire farmer my father used to tell of. It was said of this farmer that whenever he bought a herd of sheep, he examined each sheep closely to make sure that it had no cotton in it."

BEARS ARE IN CONTROL

Wheat Has Big Slump on Both Sides of Atlantic.

Flax Weaker at End of the Session Here.

Duluth Board of Trade, Jan. 31.—The bears had it all their own way during the session in the American markets today and the close recorded a slump of more than two points in all of them.

Wheat, which usually holds fairly aloof from the general bear raids, was off more than three points.

The Argentine news was the club which the bears wielded and which pounded prices down. It was stated that about a million bushels more than the estimate. The Argentine news was that 3,322,000 bushels, and a year ago 2,460,000 bushels.

The selling was general. The opening prices were in most markets the highest of the session and the fall in the close was very insignificant.

Cabotage was weak. Liverpool closed 1/4 to 1/2 and Berlin 1/4 lower.

The May option closed 3/4 lower in Duluth, 3/4 lower in Chicago, 3/4 lower in Minneapolis, 3/4 lower in Winnipeg.

July option closed 3/4 lower in Duluth, 3/4 lower in Chicago, 3/4 lower in Minneapolis, 3/4 lower in Winnipeg.

May corn closed 1/2 lower in Chicago and 1/2 lower in Liverpool. May oats closed 1/2 lower in Chicago.

Broomcorn closed from Liverpool: Duluth, 1/2 lower; Chicago, 1/2 lower; Minneapolis, 1/2 lower; Winnipeg, 1/2 lower.

Offerings were heavy and liquidation general, prompted by the heavy decline in the American market yesterday and the heavy shipping from Liverpool, and especially to the United Kingdom.

There was some little recovery from this weakness during the morning, but speculative buying, but again at midday there was renewed pressure, and the market fell to its lowest point.

Flax was weak and about 1/2 lower at the opening, followed by a further decline of 1/2 during the morning. The weakness in American and the break in wheat values were the reason for the fall.

Corn receipts at Duluth were 45 against 37 last year. Shipments, 15,000 bushels, against 15,000 last year.

Primary receipts of wheat were 400,000 bushels, last year 350,000 bushels.

Primary receipts of corn were 55,000 bushels, last year 50,000 bushels.

Selling was active during the session of the Duluth market. May wheat opened 1/2 lower at 1.05, advanced 1/2, declined to 1.04, and closed at 1.04, a loss of 1/2 from yesterday's close.

It is expected that the stock of wheat in store at Duluth will increase 30,000 bushels this week.

Durum wheat closed 1/2 lower and cash spring wheat was selling at the May price for No. 1 northern, 1.04; No. 2, 1.03; No. 3, 1.02; No. 4, 1.01; No. 5, 1.00; No. 6, 0.99; No. 7, 0.98; No. 8, 0.97; No. 9, 0.96; A BEAR'S DOWNFALL.

Old Ginger's Fondness for Whiskey Caused Trouble for Bridegroom.

Time was when folks entirely unused to the ways and ways of the city could go fishing or picknicking at Lobster pond and feel safe without need of bars to the windows or locks to the doors, and having no earthly use for a gun, but now a man camping out there, needs a good gun and a good grub in a strong box or down a well, for the bear Old Ginger seems to be taking charge of that. The bear, who is a young, frisky and harmless animal, is now in the city, and is causing much trouble for the bridegroom.

HERALD'S WEST DULUTH DEPT.

ALDERMAN AND THE RIVAL MEETINGS.

Claims Other Republican Candidates Played Him Shabby Trick.

Two Big Rallies Are Planned for West Duluth.

Foubister After Scapls of Cromwell and J. J. Moe.

West Duluth will be the storm center of the political campaign tomorrow evening.

In the Great Eastern Hall Alderman Foubister will hold the biggest meeting of his campaign. All of the principal speakers who have been active in the fight for the mayoralty prize will be out. Mr. Tessman, Joseph W. Reynolds, Mr. E. J. Moe, Mr. Andrew Nelson and others will appear on the program, and the meeting promises to be one of the biggest political rallies ever held in West Duluth.

Tessman and Haven Supporters Will Have Opposite Gatherings.

Across the street, in Wade's hall, Alderman Haven will run an opposition meeting in the interests of his candidacy. There promises to be some excitement along Central avenue tomorrow night. Naturally each candidate would prefer to have the biggest attendance, and his efforts will be spared to get the supporters of each candidate out in force.

West Duluth Briefs.

The temperance lecture has been delivered by Frank Eddy, Sunday evening, at the Westminster Presbyterian church, has been postponed indefinitely. Sixty couples danced last night at the musical given in Wade's hall by the West Duluth Dancing club. Four prizes were given to those wearing the best costumes.

Mrs. Regine Olson Presents Problem to Municipal Court.

After a period of retirement longer than the police had expected, Regine Olson leaped into prominence again last night, when an officer was called to her house, at Seventy-second avenue and Central, to arrest her husband and two men. Another woman who, it is said, was living with Mrs. Olson and Olson with her, made the call.

BECK-SPRINGSTEAD.

Hibbing Man Takes Duluth Young Lady as His Bride.

Miss Lillian Beck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George M. Beck, 301 East Third street, last night at 8 o'clock became the bride of W. J. Springstead, son of Mrs. Mary Springstead, 507 North Fifty-seventh avenue west, at the home of Rev. Francis Hufnagel, pastor of the St. Anthony Catholic church, 225 East Second street. Father Hufnagel presided at the ceremony.

BERNER AND STANG NAMED.

Radicals and Conservatives in Norway Elect Their Leaders.

Christiana, Jan. 31.—The Radical and Conservative parties have elected their leaders, President Berner of the former, and Frederick Stang of the latter, in the giving of business positions to foreigners.

DIES FROM WOUNDS.

Second Child, Shot by William Meutsch, Expires in Hospital.

Chicago, Jan. 31.—Jennie Meutsch, 3-year-old girl who was shot yesterday by her father, William H. Meutsch, in his carriage shop at 419 Armitage avenue, died at 10 o'clock.

FORMER CARLISLE STAR.

SUED BY WHITE GIRL.

Lewistown, Idaho, Jan. 31.—Lizzie Barrett, a young woman of 23, filed a suit for $200 damages against David McFarland, formerly a star halfback of the Carlisle Indian football team, here yesterday.

PHEASANT HATCHING.

Forest and Stream: It is learned from reports made to the state game commission by Illinois farmers who this spring received consignments of pheasants that these eggs showed a 55 per cent hatch. The great trouble found in distributing the eggs was rough handling by the express companies.

GREAT EASTERN HALL WEST DULUTH.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 1st, AT 8:00 P. M.

SPEAKERS—Emil A. Tessman, Wm. E. McEwen, James Ward Reynolds, Andrew Nelson and others.

Everybody welcome. General good time. Organ.

ARGUE GRAIN INSPECTION.

Committee on Interstate Commerce Will Hold Hearings.

Chicago, Jan. 31.—Board of trade men have been advised that probably the committee on interstate commerce and foreign relations, to whom the various bills to establish grain inspection under federal control, have been referred, will likely give hearings to the trade and others interested during the latter part of the month of March. The committee will likely hold its first hearing on the subject of grain inspection, and will accomplish no real good.

POOL GAMES BARRED.

Lawrence University Students Must Forego Festive Game.

Appleton, Wis., Jan. 31.—Lawrence university students who play pool and billiards will either have to quit or quit college. That is the pronouncement that has been issued by President Platts, who has the names of a dozen or more students who during the last few months have spent much of their time in pool and billiard halls. The president addressed a note to each of these students, in which he stated that at the beginning of the next year the university will have to agree to remain away from pool and billiard halls, or they will not be allowed to enter college.

EGGNOG POLITICAL DRINK.

Replaces the Fairbanks Cocktail in Congressional Favor.

Washington, Jan. 31.—Eggnog is the political drink.

Across the street, in Wade's hall, Alderman Haven will run an opposition meeting in the interests of his candidacy. There promises to be some excitement along Central avenue tomorrow night. Naturally each candidate would prefer to have the biggest attendance, and his efforts will be spared to get the supporters of each candidate out in force.

CAN DANCE ALL NIGHT.

John Wesley Gaines of Tennessee Wins Name of "Iron Man."

Washington, Jan. 31.—In the making of John Wesley Gaines of Tennessee, long-distance talker of the house of representatives, there is no such thing as laziness.

NEW PATENTS NECESSARY.

Secretary Garfield's Decision in Case of White Earth Indians.

Washington, Jan. 31.—Secretary of the Interior Garfield yesterday announced his decision in the case of the White Earth Indians, who received additional allotments under the provisions of the Steierson act, which was passed in 1904.

DAVIDA PRESIDENT.

San Salvador, Republic of Salvador, Jan. 31.—Advices received here today from Honduras report that the elections just held there resulted in a victory for Gen. Miguel D'Amador, who is president of the republic. Gen. Dionisio Gutierrez was elected vice president.
